Chapter 1 — Introduction

The Office of the State Comptroller (OSC) has compiled this manual as a comprehensive accounting guide for local officials and others interested in accounting by local governments in New York State. It provides an overview of generally accepted governmental accounting and financial reporting principles, and OSC's interpretations of such principles, where pronouncements are silent or do not address problems common among jurisdictions within New York State.

The basic responsibility for oversight of local governments by the State Comptroller is contained in the State Constitution and Article 3 of the General Municipal Law (GML). Among other things, the State Comptroller has authority to: perform audits (GML, Sections 33, 34, 35), prescribe information to be included in annual financial reports (GML, Sections 30, 31, 32), prescribe a uniform system of accounts (GML, Section 36), and prepare an annual report to the State Legislature (GML, Section 37).

Since the late 1970's, there have been increasing demands on a national level for standardization of accounting and financial reporting practices. The fiscal crisis in certain cities, increasing governmental spending and needs of the investment community and grantors were a driving force behind these changes.

In 1977, OSC made a commitment to prescribe accounting systems which conform to Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). OSC prescribes a Uniform Systems of Accounts pursuant to General Municipal Law, Section 36. The System of Accounts provides for a standard chart of accounts and fund structure that is the basis for the uniform annual financial reports required to be filed with the State Comptroller pursuant to General Municipal Law, Section 30.

Generally Accepted Accounting Principles for Governmental Units

Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) are uniform minimum standards of and guidelines to financial accounting and reporting. They are the framework within which financial transactions are recorded and reported resulting in financial statements that provide comparability between governmental entities, consistency between accounting periods and reliability for internal and external users of financial statements.

Since GAAP for local governments is not static but evolving, the Office of the State Comptroller is involved in such activities as monitoring and responding to proposed pronouncements; amending the Accounting Systems when appropriate in light of new or revised standards; and assisting local officials in understanding and implementing GAAP through conferences, workshops and seminars. This manual is an example of this activity.

A brief overview of the history of standard setting for private enterprises and for government is helpful in understanding the sources of GAAP for governments. The first formal efforts to establish GAAP for private enterprises began in 1930 in response to the financial difficulties experienced during the Great Depression. Over the years, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) established GAAP. In 1973, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) was formed. Since 1973, FASB has prescribed GAAP for commercial and non-profit organizations. FASB operates under the auspices of the Financial Accounting Foundation (FAF), an independent non-profit foundation.

GAAP for state and local governments were originally sponsored by the Municipal Finance Officers Association (MFOA), now known as the Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA), through a group known as the National Committee on Municipal Accounting (NCMA). After some years, this committee was replaced by another MFOA-sponsored group, the National Committee on Governmental Accounting, which itself was eventually expanded and renamed the National Council on Governmental Accounting (NCGA). The MFOA's guidance was incorporated into various editions of a publication that came to be known commonly as the "blue book." The first edition was published in 1934. The third edition published in 1968 inaugurated the format still used today in the current edition. In 1974, the AICPA issued their accounting and auditing guide, Audits of State and Local Governmental Units (ASLGU), which stated that the AICPA deemed the 1968 Blue Book to be GAAP for governmental units. In the late 1970's, partly in response to the fiscal crisis in New York City and several other cities, the NCGA began to issue statements and interpretations. Eventually, the NCGA decided that these pronouncements, rather than the blue book, should be authoritative. Consequently, later editions of the blue book are not GAAP, but merely illustrate what is common practice. As mentioned earlier, private-sector standard setting was eventually transferred from the AICPA to the FAF. Developments in the public sector took a very similar course. In 1984, the responsibility of setting GAAP for state and local governments was transferred from the NCGA to the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB). Like the FASB, the GASB functions under the auspices of the FAF.

In short, the following have been the standard setting bodies for GAAP for state and local governments:

National Committee on Municipal Accounting	1934-1948
National Committee on Governmental Accounting	1948-1974
National Council on Governmental Accounting	1974-1984
Governmental Accounting Standards Board	1984-Present

The GASB is the highest, but not the sole, source of GAAP for state and local governments. When accounting issues are not covered by GASB guidance, guidance from the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA), Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA), the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) and other sources is used following a prescribed order.

The following is the “hierarchy” of GAAP:

GAAP Hierarchy

Level *	GASB	AICPA	Other
Level 1	Statements and Interpretations
Level 2	Technical Bulletins	Audit and Accounting Guides/Statements of Positions (SOPs) (Specific to Government and cleared by GASB)
Level 3	Emerging Issues Task Force Consensus Positions	Accounting Standards Executive Committee (AcSEC) Practice Bulletin (Specific to Government and cleared by GASB)
Level 4	Implementation Guides	Audit Guides/ SOPs (Specific to Governments, but Not cleared by GASB)	Widely recognized and prevalent practice
Other Sources	Concept Statements		Accounting Literature

* The GAAP hierarchy is established by Statement on Auditing Standards (SAS) No. 69, The Meaning of “Present Fairly in Conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles” in the Independent Auditor’s Report, issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants in 1992.

Chapter 2 provides an explanation of the Basic Governmental Accounting Principles.

Chapter 2 — Basic Governmental Accounting Principles

GOVERNMENTAL ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES:

The following are basic principles of accounting and reporting applicable to fund based accounting for local governments:

- Accounting and Reporting Capabilities
- Fund Accounting Systems
- Fund Types
- Number of Funds
- Reporting Capital Assets
- Valuation of Capital Assets
- Depreciation and Impairment of Capital Assets
- Reporting Long-Term Liabilities
- Measurement Focus and Basis of Accounting
- Budgeting, Budgetary Control and Budgetary Reporting
- Transfers, Revenues, Expenditures, and Expense Account Classification
- Common Terminology and Classification
- Interim and Annual Financial Reports

Principle — Accounting and Reporting Capabilities

Purpose: Explains the requirements for accounting records and reporting.

Principle:

A governmental accounting system must make it possible both:

- (a) to present fairly and with full disclosure the funds and activities of the governmental unit in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles; and
- (b) to determine and demonstrate compliance with financial-related legal and contractual provisions.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1200

In New York State there are few, if any, provisions of general statutory law that conflict with GAAP. However, if conflict does exist, financial statements must be prepared in conformance with GAAP. This does not mean that two accounting systems should be maintained. Books of account should be maintained on a legal-compliance basis, but should include sufficient additional reports to permit GAAP-based reporting.

.....

Principle — Fund Accounting Systems

Purpose: Explains funds and their structure.

Principle:

Governmental accounting systems should be organized and operated on a fund basis. A fund is defined as a fiscal and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and other financial resources, together with all related liabilities and residual equity or balances, and changes therein, which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1300

Principle — Fund Types

Purpose: Explains the types of funds and the account groups.

Principle:

There are three categories of funds used in governmental accounting: Governmental Funds, Proprietary Funds and Fiduciary Funds.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1300

Governmental Funds account for most governmental functions.

The General Fund accounts for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund.

Special Revenue Funds account for the proceeds of specific revenue sources that are legally restricted to expenditures for a specific purpose.

Capital Projects Funds account for financial resources to be used for the acquisition or construction of major capital facilities.

Debt Service Funds account for the accumulation of resources for, and the payment of, general long term debt principal and interest.

Permanent Funds account for resources that are legally restricted to the extent that only earnings, not principal, may be used for purposes that benefit the government or its citizenry. These non-expendable trusts were previously accounted for in the trust and agency fund. Expendable trusts that benefit the government are accounted for as miscellaneous Special Revenue Funds (CM).

Proprietary Funds account for a government's ongoing activities that are similar to those found in the private sector.

Enterprise Funds account for operations (a) that are financed and operated in a manner similar to private business where the intent of the governing body is that the cost (expenses, including depreciation) of providing goods or services to the general public on a continuing basis be financed and recovered primarily through user charges; or (b) where the governing body has decided that periodic determination of revenues earned, expenses incurred, and/or net income is appropriate for capital maintenance, public policy, management control, accountability, or other purposes.

Internal Service Funds account for the financing of goods or services provided by one department or agency to other departments or agencies of the governmental unit, or to other governmental units, on a cost-reimbursement basis.

Fiduciary Funds account for assets held by a governmental unit in a trustee or agent capacity.

Pension Trust Funds account for funds that are required to be held for members and beneficiaries of pension plans or other employee benefits plans.

Agency Funds account for funds held purely in a custodial capacity.

Private-Purpose Trust Funds account for all other trust arrangements under which principal and income benefit individuals, private organizations or other governments. These were previously non-expendable and expendable trust funds.

Supplemental schedules will be used in the annual financial report (AUD) to the State Comptroller to account for non-current governmental assets and non-current governmental liabilities.

Principle — Number of Funds

Purpose: Explains the criteria upon which the number of funds is determined.

Principle:

Governmental units should establish and maintain those funds required by law and sound financial administration. Only the minimum number of funds consistent with legal and operating requirements should be established because unnecessary funds result in inflexibility, undue complexity, and inefficient financial administration.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1300

Principle — Reporting Capital Assets

Purpose: Clarify requirements.

Principle:

At the fund - financial statement level, capital assets are not reported in governmental funds but are reported in proprietary and fiduciary funds. In NYS, government fund capital assets will be accounted for and reported in the schedule for Non-Current Governmental Assets.

Principle — Valuation of Capital Assets

Purpose: Explains the requirements for recording capital assets.

Principle:

Capital assets should be reported at historical cost or, if the cost is not practicably determinable, at estimated cost. Donated fixed assets should be recorded at their estimated fair value at the time received, plus ancillary charges, if any.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1400

Principle — Depreciation and Impairment of Capital Assets

Purpose: Explains the purpose and basis for depreciation.

Principle:

Depreciation of capital assets should not be reported in the accounts of governmental funds. Depreciation of capital assets accounted for in a proprietary fund should be recorded in the accounts of that fund. Depreciation is also recognized in those trust funds where expenses, net income, and/or capital maintenance is measured.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1400

Principle — Reporting Long-Term Liabilities

Purpose: Clarify requirements.

Principle:

There are three categories of long-term liabilities:

1. Long-term liabilities related to proprietary funds should be reported in those funds.
 2. Long-term liabilities related to fiduciary funds should be reported in those funds.
 3. All other long-term liabilities not reported in 1 or 2 will be accounted for and reported in the schedule of Non-Current Governmental Liabilities.

Principle — Measurement Focus and Basis of Accounting

Purpose: Explains the accounting basis and its applicability to the various funds.

Principle:

In fund financial statements, the modified accrual or accrual basis of accounting, as appropriate, should be used in measuring financial position and operating results.

- a. Financial statements for governmental funds should be presented using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting. Revenues should be recognized in the accounting period in which they become available and measurable. Expenditures should be recognized in the accounting period in which the fund liability is incurred, if measurable, except for unmatured interest on general long-term liabilities, which should be recognized when due.
- b. Proprietary fund statements of net assets and revenues, expenses, and changes in fund net assets should be presented using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting.
- c. Financial statements of fiduciary funds should be reported using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting.
- d. Transfers should be reported in the accounting period in which the interfund receivable and payable arise.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1600

Principle — Budgeting, Budgetary Control and Budgetary Reporting

Purpose: Clarifies requirements for budgets and their relationship to the accounting records.

Principle:

- An annual budget(s) should be adopted by every governmental unit.
- The accounting system should provide the basis for appropriate budgetary control.

Reference: GASB Codification Sections 1700 and 2400

In New York State, general statutory law requires political subdivisions to establish appropriations as a means of providing control over amounts that may be expended. In addition, revenues other than real property taxes must be estimated as a means of determining the amount of real property taxes to be levied. OSC requires budgets for funds classified as general, special revenue, capital projects, debt service and proprietary. At a minimum, revenues must be controlled by source and expenditures/expenses by functional unit and basic object of expenditure/expense. The books of accounts must establish budgetary control at the level of detail contained in the original budget and as modified by the governing board during the fiscal year.

Principle — Transfers, Revenues, Expenditures, and Expense Account Classification

Purpose: Identifies the accounting classifications of transactions.

Principle:

Governmental fund revenue should be classified by fund and source. Expenditures should be classified by fund, function (or program), organization unit, activity, character, and principal classes of objects.

Proprietary fund revenues and expenses should be classified in essentially the same manner as those of similar business organizations, functions, or activities.

Interfund transfers and proceeds of general long-term debt issues should be classified separately from fund revenues and expenditures or expenses.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1800
.....Principle — Common Terminology and Classification

Purpose: Provides the ability to compare planned and actual activities for all funds.

Principle:

A common terminology and classification should be used consistently throughout the budget, the accounts, and the financial reports of each fund.

Reference: GASB Codification Section 1800
.....Principle — Interim and Annual Financial Reports

Purpose: Clarifies financial reporting requirements.

Principle:

Appropriate interim financial statements and other pertinent information should be prepared to facilitate management control of financial operations, legislative oversight, and, where necessary or desired, for external reporting purposes.

A comprehensive annual financial report should be prepared and published (optional in NYS).

The categories of statements and reports listed above establish national standards of financial reporting. They should not be confused with the legal requirement of municipal corporations reporting to the Office of the State Comptroller as required by Sections 30, 31 and 32 of the General Municipal Law.

Chapter 3 — Measurement Focus and Basis of Accounting

Governmental funds differ from proprietary funds. These differences have been described as differences of measurement focus and differences of basis of accounting. Measurement focus refers to what is measured and reported in a fund's operating statement while basis of accounting determines when a transaction or event is recognized in these funds.

MEASUREMENT FOCUS
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Are there more or less resources that can be spent in the near future as a result of events and transactions of the period?	Is the fund better or worse off economically as a result of events and transactions of the period?
Flow of current financial resources - (modified accrual)	Flow of economic resources - (accrual)
Increase in spendable resources - revenues or other financing sources	Events and transactions that improve the economic positions - revenues or gains
Decrease in spendable resources - expenditures and other financing uses	Events and transactions that diminish economic positions - expenses or losses

Situations which illustrate the difference between the two measurement focuses are as follows:

1. Receipt of long-term debt proceeds:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Increase in resources available DR Cash CR Other Financing Sources	No economic improvement DR Cash CR Bonds Payable

2. Repayment of principal on long-term debt:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Decrease in spendable resources DR Expenditure CR Cash	Economic position not diminished DR Bonds Payable CR Cash

In both instances, there would be an expenditure/expense for interest due on the debt.

3. Capital acquisition:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Decrease in spendable resources DR Expenditure CR Cash	Economic position not diminished DR Equipment CR Cash

4. Exhaustion of capital assets:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
No effect on spendable resources Depreciation is not recognized	Economic position diminished DR Depreciation Expense CR Accumulated Depreciation

5. Deferrals and Amortization:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Decrease in spendable resources DR Expenditure CR Cash (Entire disbursement recognized in current period.)	Economic position diminished only by the expense for the benefited period DR Deferred Charge CR Cash DR Amorization Expense CR Deferred Charge (Expense allocated over entire period of benefit.)

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

An entity's accounting basis determines when transactions and economic events are reflected in its financial statements.

Cash Basis:

Under the cash basis of accounting, revenues and expenditures are recognized as cash is received and disbursed. The balance sheet reflects only a balance of cash and fund balance while activity statements simply are a summary of cash receipts and disbursements.

Accrual Basis:

Under the accrual basis of accounting, most transactions are recorded when they occur, regardless of when cash is received or disbursed.

Modified Accrual:

Under the modified accrual basis of accounting, revenues and other financial resources are recognized when they become susceptible to accrual, that is when they become both measurable and available to finance expenditures of the current period. Expenditures are recognized when the fund liability is incurred, with certain exceptions.

Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Modified Accrual — cash flow must occur within a short-enough period to affect current spendable resources. Revenues must be both measurable and available and expenditures are generally recognized when they are expected to draw upon current spendable resources.	Full Accrual — Revenue/gain or expense/loss recognized when they occur regardless of cash flow.

1. Billing for services rendered:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
DR Receivable CR Revenue CR Deferred Revenue	DR Receivable CR Revenue
Only the amount available to finance liabilities of the current period would be recognized as revenues.	Entire revenue recognized in period in which service was provided. The timing of collections is not relevant.

2. Employees earn vacation leave that will be taken sometime in the future:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
No expenditure	DR Expense CR Accrued Liability
Leave would only be recognized as an expenditure to the extent it is expected to be liquidated with current spendable resources.	The liability has been incurred.

EQUITY
The difference between assets and liabilities:
Governmental Funds	Proprietary Funds
Fund Balance Reserved Unreserved	Net Assets Invested in capital assets, net of related debt Restricted Unrestricted

Chapter 4 — Funds and Supplemental Schedules

The following funds and supplemental schedules are available for use by local governments. As stated in the Number of Funds Principle in Chapter 2, local governments should establish and maintain only the minimum number of funds consistent with legal and operating requirements.

Governmental Funds:

General (A) — the principal operating fund and includes all operations not required to be recorded in a separate fund.

General Fund Town-Outside-Village (B) — used only by towns which contain a village to record transactions which are required by statute to be charged to the area of the town outside the village.

Special Grant (CD) — accounts for Federal and State grants such as Community Development Block Grants, the Workforce Investment Act and the Section 8 Rental Assistance Program.

Miscellaneous (Refuse, Parking, Recreation, Transportation, and Miscellaneous) (C_) — accounts for those revenues that are legally restricted to expenditures for specific purposes. The CM should also be used to account for trusts that benefit the local government where principal and interest may be expended.

County Road (County Only) (D) — required by Highway Law §114 and accounts for salaries and expenditures of the county highway superintendent's office, maintenance of county roads and bridges, snow removal and construction and reconstruction of county roads.

Highway (Town Only) (DA/DB) — established pursuant to Highway Law §141 and accounts for revenues and expenditures for highway purposes. The major areas of expenditures are repairs and improvements, bridges, machinery, and snow and miscellaneous. For towns without a village, all transactions would be recorded in the Highway Town-Wide Fund. For those towns with villages, Highway Law §277 requires that expenditures for repairs and improvements be financed by the area outside the village. In addition, expenditures for machinery and snow and miscellaneous may be financed by the area outside the village, if the town board so elects. Therefore, a town with a village must maintain two highway funds, town-wide and part-town.

Road Machinery (County Only) (DM) — required by Highway Law §133 and accounts for purchases, repairs and maintenance of highway machinery, tools and equipment; for construction, purchase and maintenance of buildings for the storage and repair of highway machinery and equipment; and for the purchase of materials and supplies to provide an adequate central stockpile for highway, snow removal and bridge purposes.

Water (FX) — accounts for water operations as a governmental fund. These operations may also be accounted for on the enterprise basis of accounting.

Sewer (G) — accounts for sewer operations as a governmental fund. These operations may also be accounted for on the enterprise basis of accounting.

Public Library (L) — accounts for transactions of a library established and supported, in whole or in part, by real property taxes. The use of this fund assures compliance with Education Law §259, which provides that all moneys received from taxes or other public sources for library purposes shall be kept in a separate fund.

Special District (Drainage, Fire Protection, Lighting, Miscellaneous, Park, Refuse and Garbage, Sewer, Parking and Water) (S_) — accounts for those transactions for operation and maintenance of legally created special districts. A separate fund must be maintained for each special district.

Permanent (PN) — accounts for resources that are legally restricted to the extent that earnings, not principal, may be used for purposes that benefit the local government.

Capital Projects (H) — accounts for financial resources to be used for the acquisition or construction of capital facilities, other than those financed by proprietary funds and equipment purchases financed in whole or in part from the proceeds of obligations. An individual capital projects fund should be established for each authorized project.

Debt Service (V) — accounts for the accumulation of resources for the payment of principal and interest on long-term debt. Debt Service Funds are not required unless segregation of resources is legally mandated. This includes:

- Proceeds from the sale of property on which debt is outstanding.
- State and Federal Aid received for a project on which debt is outstanding.
- Interest earned on the proceeds of long-term debt which was not budgeted as a source of financing for the project.
- Unexpended proceeds of long-term debt.
- Resources for a “Reserve Fund for Payment on Bonded Indebtedness” established pursuant to General Municipal Law §6-h.

Proprietary Funds:

Enterprise Funds (Airports, Electric Utilities, Health Related Facilities, Hospitals, Infirmaries, Refuse and Garbage, Miscellaneous, Parking, Recreation, Sewer and Water) (E_) — may be used to account for activities for which a fee is charged to external users for goods or services. Activities are required to be reported as an enterprise fund if any one of the following criteria are met:

- They are financed with debt that is secured solely by a pledge of the net revenues from fees and charges of the activity. (This is not permissible for New York State local governments).
- Where laws and regulations require that the activity’s costs of providing services, including capital costs (such as depreciation or debt service), be recovered with fees and charges rather than with taxes of similar revenues.

- The pricing policies of the activity establish fees and charges designed to recover its costs, including capital costs (such as depreciation or debt service).

Internal Service (M) — accounts for and may be used to report any activity that provides goods or services to other funds, departments or agencies of the primary government, and its component units or to other governments on a cost reimbursement basis. This fund should only be used when the reporting government is the predominant participant in the activity.

Self Insurance (MS) — accounts for insurance coverage when the governing body has decided to have a self insurance program on an actuarial basis.

Fiduciary Funds:

Agency (TA) — accounts for assets held by a government as an agent for individuals, private organizations or other governments and/or other funds.

Pension Trust Fund (TP) — accounts for funds that are required to be held for members and beneficiaries of pension plans or other employee benefit plans.

Private-Purpose Trust Fund (TE) — accounts for all other trust arrangements under which principal and income benefit individuals, private organizations or other governments.

Supplemental Schedules:

Non-Current Governmental Assets (K) — Accounts established to account for capital assets of a government not accounted for through specific proprietary funds or fiduciary funds.

Non-Current Governmental Liabilities (W) — Accounts established to account for the unmatured general long-term debt and liabilities of a government which is not recorded as a liability in another fund.

Chapter 5 — Classification and Coding

All municipalities in New York State are required to use a standard system for classifying and coding accounting transactions.

Classification:

A classification of accounts is a systematic arrangement of accounts based upon a definite scheme. The purpose of classifying accounts is to provide a standard format for recording and reporting financial transactions which allows comparisons to be made with other municipalities or other financial periods. The classification system serves as a basis for budgeting, accounting, and reporting as well as for administrative control purposes, accountability to the Office of the State Comptroller and the general public, cost accounting, and the compilation of financial statistical data on the state level.

Coding:

Coding of accounts facilitates the classification of data on source documents and the posting of entries in the accounting records. It enables identification of transactions quickly and provides consistency in reporting. The coding system used in New York State is an alphanumeric system - a letter or combination of letters followed by a series of digits.

The alpha portion of each code, consisting of one or two letters, identifies the fund. The funds on the following page are provided for municipalities in New York State:

Fund	Alpha Code	County	City	Town	Village
Governmental Funds:
General	A	X	X	X	X
Special Revenue:
Town Outside Village	B			X
Special Grant	CD	X	X	X	X
Miscellaneous (1)	C	X	X	X	X
County Road	D	X
Highway-Town Wide	DA			X
Highway-Part Town	DB			X
Road Machinery	DM	X
Water	FX	X	X	X	X
Sewer	G	X	X	X	X
Public Library	L	X	X	X	X
Special Districts (2)	S			X
Permanent	PN	X	X	X	X
Capital Projects	H	X	X	X	X
Debt Service	V	X	X	X	X
Proprietary Funds:
Enterprise (3)	E	X	X	X	X
Internal Service	M	X	X	X	X
Self Insurance	MS	X	X	X	X
Fiduciary Funds:
Agency	TA	X	X	X	X
Pension Trust	TP	X	X	X	X
Private Purpose Trust	TE	X	X	X	X

1. Miscellaneous Special Revenue Funds include: Refuse (CL), Parking (CP), Recreation (CR), Transportation (CT), Urban Renewal (CU), and Miscellaneous (CM).
2. Special District Funds include: Drainage (SD), Fire Protection (SF), Lighting (SL), Miscellaneous (SM), Park (SP), Refuse and Garbage (SR), Sewer (SS), Parking (ST), and Water (SW).
3. Enterprise Funds include: Airports (EA), Electric Utilities (EE), Health Related Facilities (EF), Hospitals (EH), Infirmaries (EI), Refuse and Garbage (EL), Miscellaneous (EM), Parking (EP), Recreation (ER), Sewer (ES), and Water (EW).

The numeric portion of each code which immediately follows the alpha portion, identifies general ledger, revenue and expenditure/expense accounts. The same account code number, where applicable, is used in all funds.

General ledger codes have three digits and are arranged in balance sheet order; assets, followed by liabilities and fund equity.

100 - 499	Assets
600 – 699	Liabilities
800 – 999	Fund Equity

For example 200 identifies the asset CASH in each fund. A200 identifies the asset CASH in the General Fund.

Revenue codes have four digits and are arranged by source (where did the revenue come from):

1000 - 2999	Local Sources
3000 - 3999	State Sources
4000 - 4999	Federal Sources
5000 - 5999	Interfund Transfers and Proceeds of Obligations

Each category is further subdivided to better identify the revenue source. For example 2401 identifies INTEREST AND EARNINGS in each fund.

GAAP requires revenues to be classified by fund and by source. Thus General Fund INTEREST AND EARNINGS would be classified A2401.

Expenditure/expense codes have 5 digits and are arranged by functional unit and object of expenditure/expense. The term function refers to the primary classification and description as to purpose (what was the purpose of the expenditure/expense). The first four digits identify the function:

1000 - 1999	General Government Support
2000 - 2999	Education
3000 - 3999	Public Safety
4000 - 4999	Health
5000 - 5999	Transportation
6000 - 6999	Economic Assistance and Opportunity
7000 - 7999	Culture and Recreation
8000 - 8999	Home and Community Service
9000 - 9099	Employee Benefits
9700 - 9799	Debt Service
9900 - 9999	Interfund Transfer

Each function is further subdivided to better classify the expenditure/expense. For example, expenditure code 1325 in the General Governmental Support function identifies the Treasurer's Office within the financial office of the municipality.

Expenditures should be further classified by character, that is, on the basis of the fiscal period they are presumed to benefit. The major character classifications are: current, capital outlay and debt service. Character classifications may be accomplished by grouping the object classifications, discussed below, which are subdivisions of the character classification.

The object of the expenditure/expense (the fifth digit in the code) is a secondary classification and identifies the item purchased or service obtained in order to carry out a function. The object is identified by the fifth and final digit:

.1	Personal Services
.2	Equipment and Capital Outlay
.4	Contractual
.6	Debt Principal
.7	Debt Interest
.8	Employee Benefits
.9	Interfund Transfer

Code 1325 from above can then be further classified as 1325.4 to indicate Contractual Services within the Treasurer's Office.

GAAP requires expenditures to be classified by fund, function, character and object. Thus a General Fund expenditure for Contractual Services within the Treasurer's Office is coded A1325.4.

The coding of expenditures/expenses may be expanded to include more detail such as department, location and/or activity accounting. This can be accomplished at the local government level by further expanding the object of expenditure/expense code by adding additional digits. As an example, contractual expenditures (.4) listed on the preceding page could be further refined:

.41	Supplies and Material
.42	Utilities
.43	Insurance
.44	Professional and Technical Services
.45	Rent or Lease
.46	Operation and Maintenance
.47	Miscellaneous

Employee benefits, including such items as the locality's share of social security, retirement and various types of insurance, may be recorded in two ways. The first method would be to use the Employee Benefits codes (9000-9099) with the .8 object of expenditure. The alternative method would be charge the employee benefits to the various functional units using the .8 object of expenditure.

Chapter 6 — Budgeting

GASB has given authoritative guidance on the budget and budgetary accounting in Section 1700 of its “Codification of Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Standards.” The source of this guidance is from the National Council on Governmental Accounting (NCGA) Statement 1, NCGA Interpretation 10 and GASB Statement 34.

NCGA Interpretation 10 (State and Local Government Budgetary Reporting) defines the appropriated budget as the expenditure authority created by the appropriation bills or ordinances that are signed into law and related estimated revenues, including all reserves, transfers, allocations, supplemental appropriations, and other legally authorized legislative and executive changes.

It sets forth the following statement of principles on budgeting and budgetary control:

1. An annual budget(s) should be adopted by every governmental unit.
2. The accounting system should provide the basis for appropriate budgetary control.
3. Budgetary comparisons should be included for funds which adopt an annual budget.
4. Common terminology and classification should be used consistently throughout the budget, the accounts and the financial reports of each fund.

The budget is an essential ingredient in the financial planning, control and evaluation process of local governments. Every governmental unit in New York State has to prepare an annual operating budget for its governmental and proprietary funds. However, in the case of the capital projects fund, the budget is for the period of the individual project, which may span more than one fiscal year.

Simply stated, the budget is an estimated financial plan of a government which represents the spending authority for the various purposes of the government and the means of financing those proposed expenditures.

Legal Level of Control

The legal level of control refers to the level at which management can reassign appropriations without governing board approval. The Office of the State Comptroller requires that budgets must be adopted at a minimum level of function and object of expenditure or expense. For example, assume the function of “Clerk” code 1410 includes the following objects of expenditure:

1410.1 — Clerk Personal Services	$10,000
1410.2 — Clerk - Equipment	500
1410.4 — Clerk - Contractual	4,000
1410.0 Total	$14,500

Before any function appropriation can be exceeded, board approval must be obtained. So if there is a need to expend in excess of $500 for equipment and there is a balance available in function and object code, 1410.4 Clerk-Contractual, board approval must be obtained before a transfer is made from Clerk-Contractual to Clerk-Equipment even though the total of code 1410.0 will not be exceeded.

Budgetary Integration

Formal budgetary accounting is a management control technique used to assist in controlling expenditures and tracking revenues. Budgetary accounting techniques are important because the annual budget is a legal compliance standard against which the operations of government are evaluated.

Because statutory laws of the State of New York and charters of cities require staying within appropriated budgets, the accounting structure is designed to ensure and demonstrate compliance with the budget. To achieve this goal, appropriated budgets are integrated into the accounting system. “Integrating the budget” means the accounting system is specifically designed to provide ongoing and timely information on unrealized budgetary revenues, as well as remaining uncommitted balances of appropriations.

After their managerial control purpose has been served, during the year end closing process, the general ledger budgetary accounts are reversed. Therefore, the budgetary accounting process has no effect of the actual results of operations.

Accounting for the Budget

The range and method of local budgetary practices are outside the scope of financial reporting standards. However, budgetary compliance is a dominant consideration in managing local governments. The basis on which the budget is prepared should be consistent with the measurement focus of the particular fund.

Preparation of the budget on a basis not consistent with generally accepted accounting principles GAAP, such as the cash basis, may complicate financial reporting when the actual accounts are maintained on the GAAP basis. When legal statutes require another basis for the budget, governmental units should:

- maintain the accounts and prepare budgetary reports on the legally prescribed budgetary basis; and
- maintain sufficient supplementary records to permit presentation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP.

The system prescribed by OSC provides for the integration of the budget into the accounting records to provide for the control of authorized expenditures.

A journal entry will be made for the general ledger accounts only. The debits and credits must equal and remain within the self-balancing group of budgetary accounts. Those accounts are as follows:

510	Estimated Revenues
511	Appropriated Reserves
530	Obligations Authorized
595	Appropriated Fund Balance, Part County
599	Appropriated Fund Balance
960	Appropriations
962	Budgetary Provisions for Other Uses
990	Unappropriated Revenues

The subsidiary revenue and expenditure accounts support the totals in the general ledger. The budget will be posted to the subsidiary accounts directly from the actual budget. The following illustrates the above:

		Debit	Credit
1/1/xx	510 Estimated Revenues	XXX
	599 Appropriated Fund Balance	XXX
	960 Appropriations		XXX
To record the adopted budget.

Throughout the year the general ledger control account, “Appropriations” and the subsidiary appropriation accounts are used to control expenditures, keeping them within the authorized spending authority of the budget. Analysis of the accounts on a continuing basis will enable the budget officer to determine when the budget will have to be modified because original appropriations are insufficient or estimated revenues will not materialize.

Encumbrances

Encumbrances are informally defined as “an appropriation that’s spoken for.” They are commitments related to unperformed executed contracts for goods or services. The encumbrance account does not represent a GAAP expenditure; only a commitment to expend resources. Likewise, the account, “Reserve for Encumbrances,” is not synonymous with a liability account since the liability is recognized only when the goods are received or the services are performed.

The formal use of encumbrance accounting as a continuous and integral part of the accounting system is encouraged as a means of enhancing budgetary control. However, unless a municipality has implemented a formal purchase order system, encumbrance accounting can be difficult and cumbersome. While some small governments may be able to function effectively without a formal system, at minimum, a listing of outstanding encumbrances must be compiled and recorded at year end in order to reserve a portion of the fund balance to meet these commitments.

In a formal encumbrance system, each appropriation account shall show the amount appropriated, the amount encumbered, the amount expended, and the unencumbered balance. The principal purpose of this requirement is to guard against the creation of liabilities in excess of the appropriations approved by the governing board.

Before a purchase order or similar document is released to a supplier or contractor, it should be approved by the accounting officer indicating the availability of appropriations. A copy should be filed with the accounting officer and also with the unit initiating the order. If an appropriation balance is available, the chief fiscal officer will enter the encumbrance against the proper appropriation account. In those instances where a proposed commitment exceeds the available balance, the encumbrance should not be entered and the purchase order should be returned to the originating unit until such time as appropriate action is taken to amend the budget.

At the end of the fiscal year, the Encumbrance Account 521, “is closed to the unreserved fund balance,” so as to restrict unreserved fund balance for the potential liability of goods and services ordered. On the first day of the next fiscal year the entry closing the encumbrance account is reversed and the budget for the subsequent year is increased in a like amount to provide for the potential expenditures authorized in the previous year.

Budget Modification

Since the budget is an estimate, situations inevitably will arise when it will be necessary to amend the budget.

Generally, an appropriation can be increased or created by:

- Transferring from the unexpended balance of another appropriation(s).
- Transferring from appropriation for contingency, if any.
- Appropriating unreserved fund balance or unanticipated revenues, received or expected to be received.
- Borrowing pursuant to the Local Finance Law.

Budget modification must be authorized by a governing board resolution, and the resolution must stipulate both the appropriation account(s) to be increased and financing source(s) to support the modification. All budgetary amendments, after approval by the governing board, are journalized and posted to the appropriate general ledger and subsidiary accounts.

A contingency line item may be included in the budget by the governing board to provide funding for unexpected events. Statutory law provides specific limits on the amount that can be budgeted in this line item. The following statutes authorize contingency appropriations:

Counties	County Law, Section 365 (1) (3)
Villages	Village Law, Section 5-506 (1) (a) (3)
Towns	Town Law, Section 107(2)
Cities	See city charter

Expenditures may not be charged directly to the contingency appropriation. The governing board must first modify the budget by transferring from the contingency appropriation to the appropriation account needing funding. Using the contingency appropriation does not increase the original budget, it reallocates funding.

However, there are situations when it may be necessary to increase the original budget. Specific legal authority for budget modification to increase the original budget is contained in statutory laws of the State of New York or as in the case of cities, authorized by provisions of the charter. The laws or charters, as the case may be, should be reviewed for specific provisions that apply to any specific unit of government. The county, town and village laws contain provisions for appropriating unreserved fund balance and/or an unanticipated revenue. This excess may be appropriated for any legal purpose.

Budget notes may be issued pursuant to Local Finance Law, Section 29 to provide funding for expenditures for which insufficient or no provision was made in the budget (up to 5 percent of the budget) or for necessary expenditures resulting from unforeseen public emergency (no limit).

The resolution for a budget note must detail the line item appropriation(s) to be increased and the amount(s). The proceeds of the note can be used only for the purpose issued and any excess must be used to pay principal and interest on the note.

In addition, the County, Town and Village Laws allow increasing the budget at any time for the following purposes:

- Grants in aid received from the State and Federal government.
- Gifts received which are required to be expended for particular objects or purposes.
- Insurance proceeds received for loss due to theft, damages or destruction of real or personal property when proposed to be used or applied to repair or replace such property.

Chapter 7 — Defining the Financial Reporting Entity

GASB Statement No.14 - “The Financial Reporting Entity” establishes the standards for defining and reporting on the financial reporting entity and for reporting participation in joint ventures. It applies to financial reporting by primary governments, governmental joint ventures, jointly governed organizations and other stand-alone governments; and it applies to the separately issued financial statements of governmental component units.

Financial Reporting Entity Concept

The concept underlying the definition of the financial reporting entity is that all functions of government are the responsibility of elected officials at the Federal, State or local level and consequently should be reported as part of one of those levels of government. The precepts underlying our representative form of government are that elected officials are accountable to their constituents for their actions and for the actions of appointed officials.

Basis for Reporting Entity Definition

The definition of the reporting entity is based primarily on the idea that the reporting entity should encompass all units for which the elected officials are financially accountable. Generally, the entity definition in Statement 14 is considered simplified and all-inclusive. When it was issued in 1992, it resulted in more organizations and activities being included in the reporting entity than were included under previous guidance.

DEFINITION OF THE FINANCIAL REPORTING ENTITY

The financial reporting entity is defined in Statement 14 to consist of:

- The primary government (PG),
- Organizations for which the primary government is financially accountable, and
- Other organizations for which the nature and significance of their relationship with the primary government are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity’s financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.

The foundation of the PG is a separately elected governing body. As the nucleus of the financial reporting entity, the PG is usually the focal point for the users of financial statements. A Primary Government is defined as:

- Any State Government.
- Any General Purpose Local Government (e.g., a county, city, town or village).

- A Special Purpose Government, (e.g., a school district or fire district) that meets all of the following criteria:
 - The members of the governing body are separately elected.
 - The government functions as a separate legal entity, that is, it possesses corporate powers such as the capacity to have its own name; the right to sue and be sued in its own name without recourse to another level of government; and the ability to buy, sell, lease or mortgage property in its own name.
 - The government is fiscally independent. To be fiscally independent, it must meet all of the following criteria. It must be able to: determine its own budget, without another government having the authority to approve and/or modify that budget; levy or cause to be levied its own taxes or set its user rates or charges, without approval of another government; and issue or cause to be issued debt, without approval by another government.

The financial reporting entity includes both the primary government and its component units (CU). The flowchart on the last page of this chapter can be used as an aid to evaluating potential CUs.

CUs are legally separate organizations for which the elected officials of the PG are financially accountable. In addition, CUs can be other organizations for which the nature and significance of their relationship with a PG are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.

The PG is financially accountable if it appoints a voting majority of the potential component unit's (PCU) governing board, and it is able to impose its will on the PCU, or there is a potential for the PCU to provide a financial benefit to or incur a financial burden on the PG.

Examples of situations that would give the PG the ability to impose its will on a PCU:

- The PG may remove appointed governing board members at will.
- The PG may approve or modify the budget.
- The PG may approve or modify user rates or charges.
- The PG may veto, overrule or modify other types of decisions.
- The PG may appoint, hire, reassign or dismiss management responsible for operations.

Examples of conditions that exist that would indicate a financial benefit or burden relationship:

- The PG has the ability to access the PCU's resources. (Not residual interest)
- The PG is legally obligated or has otherwise assumed the obligation to finance deficits, or to provide financial support.
- The PG is obligated in some manner for the PCU's debt.

In addition, the reporting entity must include as CUs other organizations for which the nature and significance of their relationship with the PG are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.

Also, a PG may be financially accountable for a fiscally dependent government regardless of whether the fiscally dependent government has a separately elected governing board, a board determined by another government or a jointly appointed board. This condition exists when the PG may exercise control over the budget, financing or debt issuance of the unit. A government is fiscally dependent if it is unable to complete one or more of these procedures without the substantive approval of another government.

Related Organizations

If the PCUs meet the definition of accountability (that is, the PG does appoint a voting majority of the PCU's legislative or governing board), but neither of the two additional financial criteria exist, they would be considered "related organizations" and a summary of the relationship should be disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

DISPLAY OF COMPONENT UNITS IN FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

If the PCU meets the previously discussed criteria, it should be included in the financial statements of the reporting entity by blending or discrete presentation. In addition, the financial statements should allow users to distinguish between the PG and its CUs, by communicating financial information of the CUs in such a way as to avoid creating the impression that the PG and its CUs create one legal entity.

Blending

Blending means that the CU is combined with the PG to form a single financial reporting presentation. Blending shall occur only where:

The CU's governing body is substantively the same as the governing body of the PG.

OR

The CU provides services entirely, or almost entirely, to the PG or otherwise exclusively, or almost exclusively, benefits the PG even though it does not provide services directly to it. Examples would include activities such as providing financing services or administering employee benefit programs.

No funds of the CU should be combined with the PG's general fund. A CU's general fund becomes a special revenue fund within the reporting entity.

The assets and the debt of the blended CU should be reported as the PG's assets and debt. Capital leases between the PG and the blended CUs should be eliminated. Transfers and interfund transactions should be presented separately from those of the PG itself and its discretely presented CUs.

Discrete Presentation

When blending is not applicable, discrete presentation is used in all other instances. Discrete presentations involve the reporting of CU financial data in one or more column(s) separate from the financial data of the PG on the balance sheet, operating statement and cash flow statement.

Statement 14 calls for the reporting entity's combined balance sheet to include one or more columns to display the combined balance sheets of the discretely presented CUs.

Different Fiscal Years for PG and CUs

The PG and its CUs may have identical or different fiscal years. If the CU's fiscal year ends within the first quarter of the reporting entity's subsequent fiscal year, it is acceptable to incorporate that fiscal year of the CU, rather than the fiscal year ending during the reporting entity's fiscal period.

JOINT VENTURES

Statement 14 provides specific guidance for the accounting and financial reporting for joint ventures.

Definition

A joint venture is a legal entity or other organization resulting from a contractual arrangement that is owned, operated, or governed by two or more participants as a separate and specific activity subject to joint control, in which the participants retain:

- An ongoing financial interest in a joint venture which includes an equity interest that causes a participating government to have access to the joint venture's resources,

OR

- An ongoing financial responsibility for a joint venture if it is obligated in some manner for the debts of the joint venture or if the joint venture's continued existence depends on continued funding by the government.

Financial Reporting

For financial reporting purposes, there are two types of joint ventures: those in which the primary government has an equity interest and those in which participants do not have an equity interest.

Equity Interest — An equity interest is defined as a financial interest in a joint venture evidenced by the ownership of shares of the joint venture's stock or by otherwise having an explicit measurable right to the net resources of the joint venture that is usually based on an investment of financial or capital resources by a participating government.

The "investment in joint venture" account included in a proprietary fund-type should report the participating government's equity interest calculated in accordance with the joint venture agreement. Initially, the investment should be reported at cost. When appropriate, the equity interest should be adjusted for the participant's share of the joint venture's net income or loss. The equity interest should be reported in the proprietary fund's balance sheet as a single amount, and the fund's share of the joint venture's net income or loss should be reported in its operating statement.

Because the equity interest in a joint venture generally represents equity primarily in capital assets, the "investment in joint venture" account should not be reported on governmental fund-type balance sheets. Governmental fund-type operating statements should report changes in their investment in joint ventures only to the extent that the amounts received or receivable or paid or payable to the joint venture satisfy the revenue and expenditure recognition criteria.

No Equity Interest — In the second type of joint venture, a government participant that doesn't have an equity interest and participation in the joint venture should be reported through note disclosure.

Note Disclosure — Regardless of whether there is an equity interest, note disclosure is required by all participants in joint ventures. Such disclosure shall contain a general description of each joint venture including:

- Description of the participating government's ongoing financial interest (including equity interest, if applicable) or ongoing financial responsibility. This disclosure should also include information to allow the reader to evaluate whether the joint venture is accumulating significant financial resources or is experiencing fiscal stress that may cause an additional financial benefit or burden to the participating government in the future (e.g., material surpluses/deficits).
- Information about the availability of separate financial statements of the joint venture.

Jointly Governed Organizations

A jointly governed organization is essentially operated in the same manner as a joint venture. The distinguishing difference is that participants do not maintain an ongoing financial interest or ongoing financial responsibility. Related party transactions with jointly governed organizations must be disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

Component Units and Related Organizations with Joint Venture Characteristics

A joint venture or jointly governed organization in which one participating government appoints a voting majority of the organization's governing body, is either a CU or a related organization of that participating government.

The PG should disclose, in the notes to the financial statements, the nature of its accountability for any jointly governed or related organizations.

NEW YORK STATE CRITERIA FOR ENTITY DEFINITION AND DISPLAY

Primary Governments

New York State local governments are involved in providing a full range of services to citizens. These services are provided in great part by PGs. PGs in New York State are:

- counties
- cities
- towns
- villages
- school districts
- fire districts
- other entities in NYS which may have elected officials

In order to provide services, a multi-level range of administrative and service provider units have been developed. These units are created at both the State and local level and require close scrutiny in light of the provisions of Statement 14 in order to properly report these activities.

In evaluating a potential CU, the first determination that must be made is whether it is a separate legal entity. As a general rule, special districts created by local units are administrative districts and not legal entities as envisioned in Statement 14. For example, districts created by towns pursuant to Articles 12 & 12A and administered pursuant to Article 13 of Town Law do not result in a legal entity. Even those few districts with separately elected boards pursuant to Article 13, while possessing some corporate powers, are administrative districts of the PG.

The following lists major units of local governments and OSC's opinion of the correct categorization.

Part of Primary Government

Administrative functions which are deemed part of the PG and consequently should be blended with the PG because they lack corporate legal standing include:

- County Nursing Homes and Health Related Facilities*
- County Planning Boards
- County Improvement Districts formed pursuant to Articles 5A, 5B, and 5D of County Law
- Town Special Districts established pursuant to Articles 11 (Fire Protection Districts), 12, 12A and 13 of Town Law
- City or County Laboratories
- Public General Hospitals*

- Municipal Electric Utilities (unless an authority)
- Municipal Airports (unless an authority)
- Dependent School Districts in Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers
- * Although most nursing homes and public hospitals in this State are administrative units, there are several which are a separate legal entity. When so, they would be a CU and discretely presented.

Component Units - Discrete Presentation

The following entities are usually considered component units and, if determined to be, should be discretely presented:

- Community Colleges (if sole sponsored)*
- Soil and Water Conservation Districts
- Urban Renewal or Community Development Agencies
- Off Track Betting Corporations (if sole sponsored)*
- Municipal Public Authorities Created by the State Legislature
- Industrial Development Agencies
- Local Development Corporations

* If not solely sponsored, these units would be joint ventures with no equity interest of the sponsoring PGs.

 There are no standard structures or powers granted to municipal public authorities. Composition of governing boards and extent of involvement or responsibility is determined by specific authorizing legislation. However, Parking and Municipal Housing Authorities created pursuant to Public Authorities or Public Housing Law are deemed to be financially accountable. Evaluation of other municipal public authorities require a review and evaluation of the authorizing statute.

Joint Ventures, Jointly Governed Organizations

- Jointly Sponsored Community Colleges
- Regional Off Track Betting Corporations
- Regional Planning Boards

Local governments are also empowered pursuant to Article 5G of the General Municipal Law to join together in inter-municipal cooperation agreements. This statute is very broad in that it authorizes joint involvement in any undertaking that participants may perform on their own. In no instance does an Article 5G agreement create a legal entity. However, it may create a joint venture or jointly governed activity. Consequently, an analysis of these activities must be made applying the previously mentioned criteria.

Related Organizations

Some organizations are considered related organizations to the PG. See previous guidance for affiliated (related) organizations.

Other Entities

Many organizations providing public services in New York State can not be universally categorized into the types of units contained in GASB Statement 14, but must be individually evaluated.

For example:

Public Libraries — Sponsored by counties, cities, towns, villages or school districts in most circumstances they would be considered CUs of the PG because of the existence of financial accountability as evidenced by funding of operations, approval of and responsibility for issuance and payment of debt and the ownership of real property. While this is the norm, situations do exist where the library is virtually autonomous and could be considered a special purpose government.

Fire Companies — In most instances they are considered special purpose governments. However, in certain situations they may constitute a component unit or, as in the case of a village fire department, a blended unit.

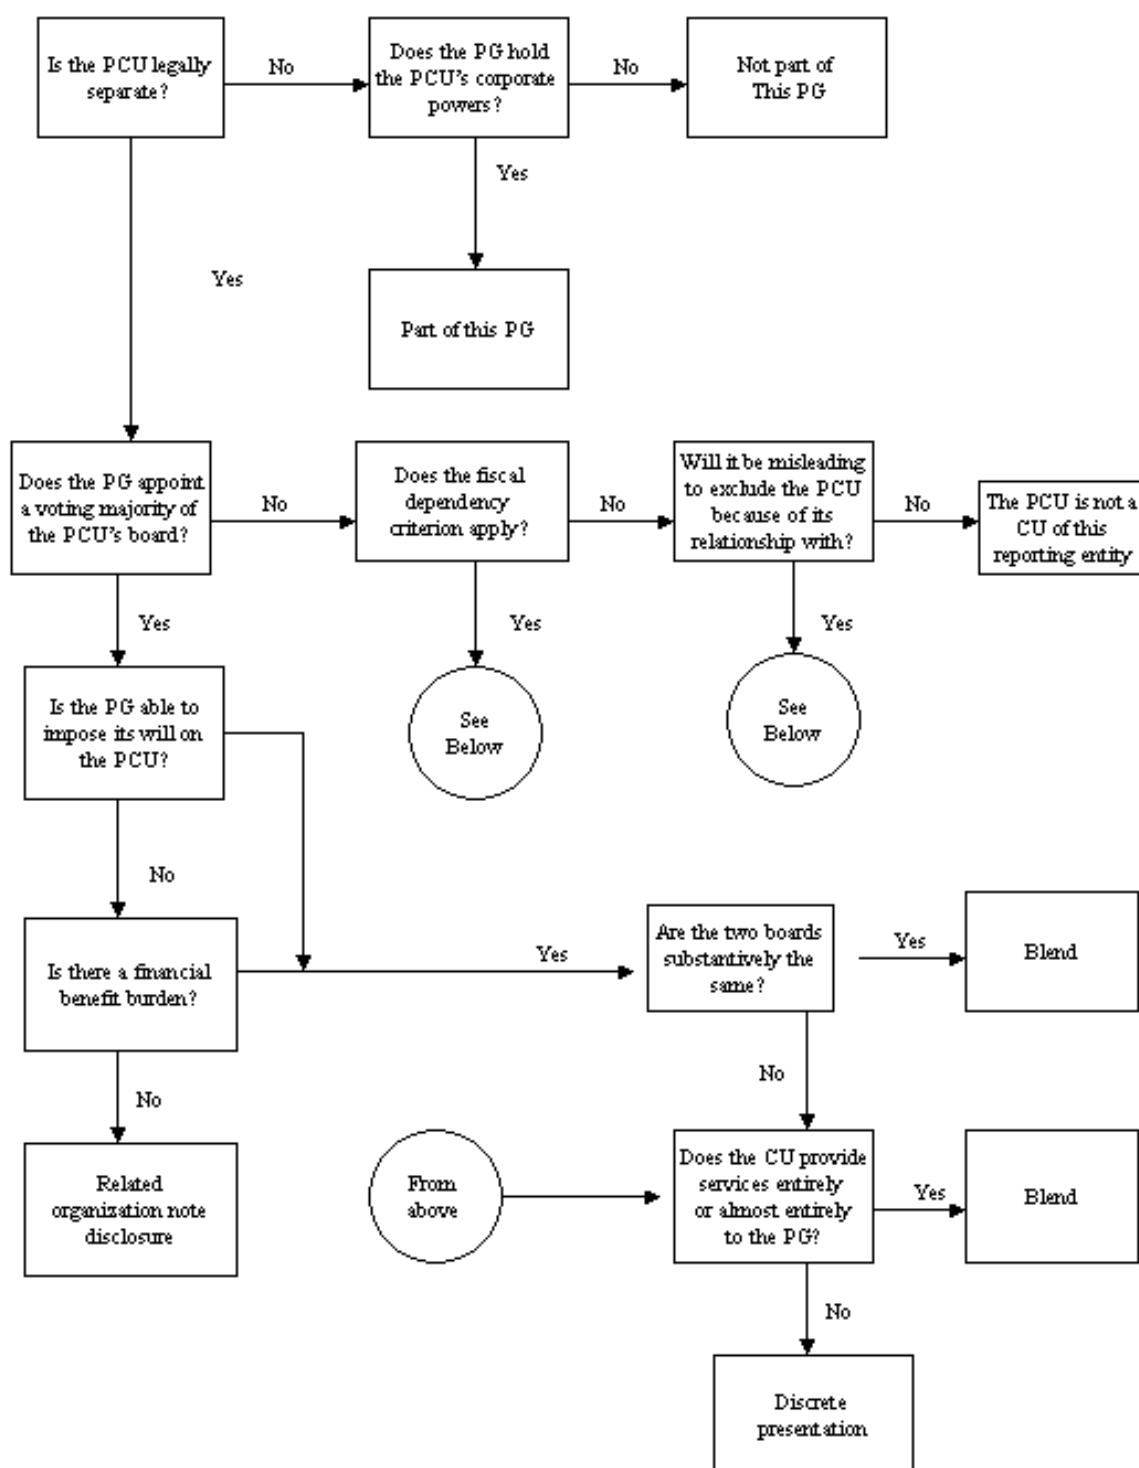

Summary

The classification provided in this section is based upon our understanding of the structure and powers of the various entities and should be used as a guide. Final determination must be made at the local level after considering the requirements of Statement 14 and the appropriate criteria as they may apply to both governmental and non-governmental units (e.g., Not-For-Profit organizations). Local governments must be prepared to justify any deviation from the suggested guidance.

Audits of Financial Statements

Local officials, and their independent auditors should note that for financial statements to be presented in accordance with GAAP, the statements must include all elements of the Financial Reporting Entity. If a PG issues financial statements without CUs, the auditor would be required to issue a qualified or adverse opinion.

Flowchart to Aid in Evaluation of Potential Component Units

Chapter 8 — Financial Reporting

Governmental accounting is concerned with the collection and analysis of a government's finances. This information has very little value if it can not be communicated in a timely and effective manner. Financial reporting serves as the link between a local government's financial information and the government's numerous, varied users that they are designed to serve. Some of these users include governing boards and oversight bodies, investors, creditors, taxpayers and OSC.

Internal Reporting

Internal reporting typically is designed to accomplish two goals:

- First, to allow management to monitor compliance with legal and contractual provisions applicable to the management of public funds.
- Second, to provide management with information on current performance that it needs to make future financial plans.

Because internal reports are designed expressly to serve the needs of management, management is free to select whatever format or content it believes most relevant. It is highly unusual for internal reports to be prepared in accordance with GAAP.

External Reporting

There are two common types of external reports: The first is prepared to meet the needs of specific external users, and the second (or "general purpose" type) is designed to meet the basic financial information needs of a variety of potential users.

The GASB's Codification states that every governmental entity should prepare and publish, as a matter of public record, a comprehensive annual financial report (CAFR) that encompasses all funds and account groups of the primary government including its component units. The codification recognizes the CAFR as the "official annual report" of the government. The report is intended to meet the needs of the broad range of users mentioned above. The CAFR is comprehensive in the depth and breadth of its reporting detail and provides full disclosure including the requirements of GAAP and applicable legal requirements. It contains three sections: (1) an introductory section, (2) a financial section which contains the Auditor's Report, Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD+A), the Basic Financial Statements, Required Supplementary Information (RSI), supporting schedules and (3) a statistical section. The General Purpose Financial Statements are those basic financial statements and Notes to the Financial Statements that are essential to fair presentation of financial position and results of operations.

New York statutes do not address the preparation of a CAFR but data required for reporting to the State could be used by local governments to prepare the financial section of the CAFR. General Municipal Law (GML) Section 30 requires every municipal corporation (county, city, town and village) to annually make a report of its financial condition to the Comptroller. The report shall be made and certified by the chief fiscal officer. All cities and counties, and those towns or villages with populations of 20,000 or more according to the 2000 federal census, have up to 120 days after the close of the fiscal year to file their AUD. This is a firm deadline; there is no longer any flexibility given to OSC to extend the filing date beyond this period.

In addition, towns and villages with populations between 5,000 and 19,999 according to the 2000 federal census now have up to 90 days after the close of their fiscal year to file their AUD. An additional 30-day filing extension may be granted by OSC if a written request is received from the chief fiscal officer before the original 90-day filing period expires.

There is a 60-day filing deadline for towns and villages with populations below 5,000 according to the 2000 federal census. An additional 60-day filing extension may be granted by OSC if a written request is received from the chief fiscal officer before the original 60-day filing period expires. It is the duty of the incumbent officer, at the time the report is required to be filed, to file the report.

The report must be in the form prescribed by the Comptroller (GML Section 31). Instructions for filing the report electronically or in hard copy are mailed out to all chief fiscal officers prior to the completion of the local government's fiscal year (GML Section 32). Governments that filed electronically in the prior year receive information for filing electronically. Governments that filed a hard copy receive all information needed to file electronically or hard copy.

The report format is a fund-by-fund presentation following the information presented in other sections of this manual. Prior year financial information is presented in the first column on the right followed by its appropriate account code and a blank line for including the current year's financial information. Only the funds and account codes used in last year's report are included in the current year's report. New funds and account codes may be added to both formats as needed. Each fund in the report requires a balance sheet, statement of revenues and expenditures/expenses, and changes in fund equity. Summary budget information for selected governmental funds is also required as is a statement of cash flows for all proprietary funds. Local governments are also required to complete the statement of indebtedness listing individual bonds and notes that remain outstanding and must also complete the schedules of supplemental information that pertain to their municipality. Notes to the Financial Statements should also accompany the report when filed with OSC.

After receiving your local government's AUD, OSC reviews your report. During this review the report information is sent through a series of computer edits which will check to see that the report is in balance and completed in accordance with the instructions provided. Many of these same edits are the ones included in the electronic filing software. If questions arise during the review, the local official responsible for preparing the report will be contacted.

The Federal Single Audit Act as amended requires local governments who expend $500,000 or more in a year in Federal awards to have a Single Audit. Local governments not subject to the Single Audit may also choose to have their financial statements audited by an independent certified public accountant. In either case, a copy of all audit reports prepared in conjunction with these audits must be filed with OSC within ten days of the date of receipt. In addition, written responses to these audits and those issued by the State Comptroller's Office should be filed with OSC within 90 days of receipt.

Chapter 9 — GASB Statement No. 34 - Basic Financial Statement and Management’s Discussion & Analysis for State & Local Governments

The term “financial reporting model” is used to describe the framework used for financial reporting. The model historically used by state and local governments differs substantially from that used by private-sector businesses. The principal differences between these two reporting models involve fund accounting (see Chapter 2), the measurement focus and basis of accounting (MFBA) used for governmental funds (see Chapter 3) and budgetary reporting (see Chapter 6).

Private-sector businesses are usually presented in external financial reports as a single entity. In order to get a broader perspective needed for operational accountability and to provide sufficient data for fiscal accountability, this model focuses reporting on individual major funds which will be accompanied by government-wide financial statements.

Although governments have used essentially the same accounting as private-sector business for enterprise funds (economic resources/full accrual MFBA) governments have taken a different approach in accounting for their governmental funds (current resources/modified accrual MFBA) (see Chapter 3). This short-term focus was considered insufficient for operational accountability and thus the GASB 34 model requires that the governmental funds be accompanied by an economic resource/full accrual MFBA for government activities.

Public-sector budgets play a critical role in the system of checks and balances between the branches of government while private-sector budgets are simply financial plans. Demonstrating compliance with the appropriated budget has been an integral part of governmental financial reporting in the form of a mandated “budget to actual” comparison statement. The problem with this approach is that the combined presentation of the budget is insufficient for fiscal accountability and the “comparison to final amended budget” is too limited. The statements eliminate combined budget presentations and focus on major funds while also requiring the inclusion of the original budget.

SUMMARY OF REPORTING MODEL

Management’s Discussion and Analysis (MD&A):

Financial managers of governments are knowledgeable about transactions, events and conditions that are reflected in a government’s financial report and of the fiscal policies that govern its operations. These financial managers now share their insights in a required MD&A which precedes the basic financial statements. The MD&A gives readers an objective and easily readable analysis of the government’s overall financial performance for the year. The MD&A also provides an analysis of the government’s overall financial position and results of the previous year’s operations to assist the user of the statements to assess whether the government’s finances have improved or deteriorated. The analysis should explain significant variations in fund based financial results and budgetary information and describe capital asset and long-term debt activity during the year. The MD&A concludes with a description of currently known facts or conditions that are expected to have a significant effect on the government’s future financial position and operations.

Government-Wide Financial Statements:

As mentioned before, the model does not abandon fund accounting. It, however, requires that consolidated, government-wide financial statements accompany the more traditional fund-based financial reporting. Although the focus will be on the government as a whole, those statements will still distinguish governmental activities from business-type activities. The government-wide financial statements are prepared on the full accrual basis of accounting and include a statement of net assets and a statement of activities.

The statement of net assets should report all financial and capital resources, including capital assets and infrastructure net of depreciation. The difference between a government's assets and its liabilities are its net assets.

The statement of activities should be presented in a format that reports net (expense) revenue of its individual functions. An objective of this format is to report the relative financial burden of each of the reporting government's functions. General revenues (taxes), contributions, special and extraordinary items and transfers will be reported separately after the total net expenses of the government's functions, ultimately arriving at the changes in net assets for the period.

Fund Financial Statements:

Fund-based financial reporting in the basic financial statements under the reporting model focuses on major individual funds rather than on fund types. Each major fund (governmental and enterprise) is reported individually. Data for all non-major funds will be aggregated into a single "other" column, one for governmental and one for enterprise funds. The reporting government's main operating fund (general) should always be reported as a major fund. Other governmental and enterprise funds should be reported as major funds based on the following criteria:

1. Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures/expenses of the individual governmental or enterprise fund are at least 10 percent of the corresponding total (assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures/expenses) for all funds of that category, and
2. Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures/expenses of the individual governmental or enterprise fund are at least 5 percent of the corresponding total (assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditure/expenses) for all governmental and enterprise funds combined.

In addition, any governmental or enterprise fund that the government's officials believe is particularly important to the financial statement's user may be reported as a major fund.

Financial statements for governmental funds should be presented using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting. Governments will also be required to present a summary reconciliation to the government-wide financial statements. Financial statements for enterprise funds should be presented using the same MFBA as used in the government-wide financial statements.

OSC Policy: OSC believes that implementing GASB Statement No. 34 results in improved financial reporting by local governments. We also realize that implementation involves additional resources, which may not be cost benefit justified. Consequently, while we encourage all local governments to implement the provisions of GASB Statement No. 34, full implementation will not be required to meet the reporting requirements of General Municipal Law. However, local governments should be aware that full implementation will be required in order to receive an unqualified opinion on their financial statements.

Guidance:

OSC has issued a series of accounting bulletins to address the implementation challenges associated with GASB Statement No. 34. These can be accessed at:

Chapter 11 — Soil and Water Conservation Districts

Soil and Water Conservation Districts provide for the conservation and improvement of the soil and water resources of the state. Every county in New York State has a Soil and Water Conservation District which is run by a county-appointed board and funded primarily by county, state and federal funds. New York City also has a District, comprising its five counties. The New York State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, under the Department of Agriculture and Markets, provides oversight and maintains standards for the Districts and their programs; the Committee also distributes state aid based upon annual financial reports submitted by the Districts.

In most cases, Soil and Water Conservation Districts are a component unit of a county, and the appropriate basis of accounting is the modified accrual basis, as described in more detail in Chapter 3. Chapter 3 and other chapters in this publication provide important accounting and reporting guidance, while the remainder of this chapter focuses on some of the unique codes for accounting and reporting by the Districts.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts should use the Comptroller's Uniform System of Accounts (USA) for classifying and coding accounting transactions, which is described in more detail in Chapter 5 on Classification and Coding Structure, and in Chapter 6 on Budgeting. The codes provided in column 1 below are the codes that are most likely to be used by the Districts, including many revenue and expenditure codes which are unique to them. Column 2 lists various internal subcodes that are used by the Districts to provide more detailed income and cost allocations for reporting to the Committee, for reporting to grant providers, and for tracking project costs.

Chapter 12 — Libraries

Library Systems, Library Districts and Municipal Library financial operations that are not reported as a Library Fund (L) in a County, City, Town or Village annual report because tax moneys and/or other public source moneys have been paid over to the library treasurer are required to prepare and file an annual report with the State Comptroller. Libraries should use the Comptroller's Uniform System of Accounts (USA) for classifying and coding accounting transactions including transactions involving moneys held in trust for library purposes, and should use the modified accrual basis of accounting as their entity's basis of accounting (see Chapter 3).

Fund/Account Codes

The following funds and account codes (OSC USA Code) should be used for classifying and coding library accounting transactions (see Chapter 4, 5 and References). Codes for summarizing and reporting the library's financial operations to the State Comptroller on the Component Unit/Special Purpose Financial Report are listed in the last column.

The General Fund (A) is the principal operating fund and should be used to record all library transactions not required to be recorded in a separate fund.

General Ledger Account Code Definitions

- 101 LAND — This account includes the cost of land acquired by a governmental unit for its own use. If land is purchased, this account is to include the purchase price and incidental costs incurred to put the land in condition for its intended use, such as legal fees and excavation costs. If land is acquired by gift, the account is to include the land's fair market value at the time of acquisition. Site improvements (paving, fencing, landscaping, etc.) acquired with the land need not be accounted for separately from the land unless depreciation is required. If improvements acquired with the land are removed or wrecked in order to put the land into condition for its intended use, the costs of removal or wrecking must be charged and any salvage credited to this account.
- 102 BUILDINGS — This account should reflect the cost of freestanding facilities acquired by a governmental unit for its own use. Lighting, plumbing, heating, floor covering and other systems and installations shall be included in the cost of a building. Even though some systems or installations are accounted for separately and are readily removable from the structure to which they are attached, such components should be accounted for as buildings if they are integral to the structure, which would be inoperative or incomplete without the system.
- 103 IMPROVEMENTS OTHER THAN BUILDINGS — This account should include the cost of site improvements that have a limited life (where replacement will be required in the future) such as paving, fencing, and landscaping.
- 104 MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT — This account should reflect the costs of acquiring tangible personal property, including incidental costs such as sales tax, freight and installation. This category includes office equipment and furniture, motor vehicles and machine tools. - 105 CONSTRUCTION WORK IN PROGRESS — This account should reflect the cost of construction work undertaken but not yet completed.
- 106 INFRASTRUCTURE — This account should reflect the costs of long-lived capital assets that normally are statutory in nature and can be preserved for a significantly greater number of years than most capital assets. (Examples include roads, bridges, water and sewer systems.)

Terminology

The following explanations are presented to aid in understanding the terminology generally used in governmental accounting, auditing, financial reporting and budgeting.

ABATEMENT. A complete or partial cancellation of a levy imposed by a government. Abatements usually apply to tax levies, special assessments and service charges.

ACCOUNTABILITY. The state of being obliged to explain one's actions, to justify what one does. Accountability requires governments to answer to the citizenry - to justify the raising of public resources and the purposes for which they are used.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM. The methods and records established to identify, assemble, analyze, classify, record and report a government's transactions and to maintain accountability for the related assets and liabilities.

ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE. An asset account reflecting amounts due from private persons or organizations for goods and services furnished by a government (but not including amounts due from other funds or other governments).

ACCREDITED VALUE. A valuation basis for certain investments and debt instruments that reports on the balance sheet only that portion of their face value that reflects principal and interest accrued to date.

ACCRUAL BASIS. A fund's basis of accounting having the measurement of changes in total economic resources as its measurement focus. Revenues are recognized in the periods in which they are earned, and expenses are recognized as soon as liability is incurred.

ACCUMULATED DEPRECIATION. A contra-asset account used to report the accumulation of periodic credits to reflect the expiration of the estimated service life of fixed assets.

ACTIVITY. A specific and distinguishable service performed by one or more organizational components of a government to accomplish a function for which the government is responsible (e.g., police is an activity within the public safety function).

ACTIVITY CLASSIFICATION. An expenditure classification according to the specific type of work performed by organizational units (e.g., sewage treatment and disposal, waste collection, waste disposal and street cleaning are activities performed in carrying out the function of sanitation).

ACTUARIAL BASIS. A basis used in computing the amount of contributions to be made periodically to a fund or account so that the total contributions plus the compounded earnings thereon will equal the required payments to be made out of the fund or account. The factors considered in arriving at the amount of these contributions include the length of time over which each contribution is to be held and the rate of return compounded on such contribution over its life.

AD VALOREM TAX. A tax based on value (e.g., a property tax).

ADVANCE REFUNDING BONDS. Bonds issued to refinance an outstanding bond issue before the date the outstanding bonds become due or callable. Proceeds of the advance refunding bonds are deposited in escrow with a fiduciary, invested in U.S. Treasury Bonds or other authorized securities and used to redeem the underlying bonds at their maturity or call date, to pay interest on the bonds being refunded, or to pay interest on the advance refunding bonds.

AGENCY FUND. A fund normally used to account for assets held by a government as an agent for individuals, private organizations or other governments and/or other funds.

ALLOTMENT. A part of an appropriation that may be encumbered or expended during a given period.

AMORTIZATION. (1) The portion of the cost of a limited-life or intangible asset charged as an expense during a particular period. (2) The reduction of debt by regular payments of principal and interest sufficient to retire the debt by maturity.

AMORTIZATION SCHEDULE. A schedule of debt service payments separating the portions of payments attributable to principal and interest.

ANNUAL BUDGET. A budget applicable to a single fiscal year.

ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT. A financial report applicable to a single fiscal year.

ANNUITY. A series of equal payments made or received at equal intervals over a designated period.

APPRAISE. To estimate the value, particularly the value of property. If the property is valued for taxation, the narrower term “assess” is substituted.

APPROPRIATION. A legal authorization granted by a legislative body to make expenditures and to incur obligations for specific purposes. An appropriation usually is limited in amount and in the time it may be expended.

APPROPRIATION ACCOUNT. A budgetary account set up to record spending authorizations for specific purposes. The account is credited with the original appropriation and any supplemental appropriations and is charged/debited with expenditures and encumbrances.

APPROPRIATION LEDGER. A subsidiary ledger containing an account for each appropriation. Each account usually includes the amount originally appropriated, transfers to or from the appropriation, amounts charged against the appropriation, the available balance and other related information.

Terminology (Continued)

ARBITRAGE. Classically, the simultaneous purchase and sale of the same or an equivalent security in order to profit from price discrepancies. In government finance, the most common occurrence of arbitrage involves the investment of the proceeds from the sale of tax-exempt securities in a taxable money market instrument that yields a higher rate, resulting in interest revenue in excess of interest costs.

ASSESS. To establish an official property value for taxation.

ASSESSED VALUATION. A valuation set upon real estate or other property by a government as a basis for levying taxes.

ASSESSMENT. (1) The process of making the official valuation of property for taxation. (2) The valuation placed upon property as a result of this process.

ASSESSMENT ROLL. With real property, the official list containing the legal description of each parcel of property and its assessed valuation. The name and address of the last known owner usually are listed. With personal property, the assessment roll is the official list containing the name and address of the owner, a description of the personal property and its assessed value.

ASSET. A probable future economic benefit obtained or controlled by a particular entity as a result of past transactions or events. Resources with present service capacity that the government presently controls.

AUDIT. A systematic collection of the sufficient, appropriate evidential matter needed to attest to the fairness of management's assertions in the financial statements or to evaluate whether management has efficiently and effectively carried out its responsibilities.

AUDIT COMMITTEE. A group of individuals, selected by the governing body, having specific responsibility for addressing all issues related to financial reporting and disclosure. Ideally, audit committees form a direct communications link between the auditor and the governing body. Therefore, the majority of the committee's members normally would be expected not to have management responsibilities within the entity under audit.

AUDIT FINDING. A weakness in internal controls or an instance of noncompliance with applicable laws and regulations that is presented in the audit report in conformity with GAGAS.

AUDIT PROCUREMENT. The process used to obtain auditing services from independent public accountants.

AUDITOR'S REPORT. In the context of a financial statement audit, a statement by the auditor describing the scope of the audit and the auditing standards applied in the examination, and setting forth the auditor's opinion on the fairness of presentation of the financial information in conformity with GAAP or some other comprehensive basis of accounting.

An Unqualified Opinion. States that the financial statements present fairly the financial position, results of operations and (when applicable) changes in financial position in conformity with GAAP only when the auditor has formed such an opinion on the basis of an examination.

A Qualified Opinion. States that “except for” the effect of the matter to which the qualification relates, the financial statements present fairly the financial position, results of operations and (when applicable) changes in financial position in conformity with GAAP. Such an opinion is expressed when a lack of sufficient, competent evidential matter or restrictions on the scope of the auditor’s examination have led the auditor to conclude that an unqualified opinion cannot be expressed, or when the auditor believes, on the basis of his examination, that (1) the financial statements contain a departure from GAAP, the effect of which is material (2) there has been a material change between periods in accounting principles or in the method of their application or (3) there are significant uncertainties affecting the financial statements and the auditor has decided not to express an adverse opinion or to disclaim an opinion.

An Adverse Opinion. States that the financial statements do not present fairly the financial position, results of operations or changes in financial position in conformity with GAAP.

A Disclaimer Opinion. States that the auditor does not express an opinion on the financial statements. The disclaimer of opinion is appropriate when the auditor has not performed an audit sufficient in scope to form an opinion on the financial statements. A disclaimer of opinion should not be expressed because the auditor believes, on the basis of the examination, that there are material departures from GAAP. In such circumstances, an adverse opinion is appropriate.

AUTHORITY. A government or public agency created to perform a single function or a restricted group of related activities. Usually, such units are financed from service charges, fees and tolls, but in some instances they also have taxing powers. An authority may be completely independent of other governments or be partially dependent upon other governments for its financing or the exercise of certain powers.

AVAILABILITY CRITERION. Principle of the modified accrual basis of accounting according to which revenues may only be recognized when they are collected within the period or soon enough after to be used to pay liabilities of the current period.

AVAILABILITY PERIOD. A specific period immediately following the close of the fiscal year by the end of which cash must be collected for related revenue recognition in accordance with availability of modified accrual accounting.

BALANCE SHEET. The financial statement disclosing the assets, liabilities and equity of an entity at a specified date in conformity with GAAP.

Terminology (Continued)

BANK BALANCE. In the context of GASB Statement No. 3, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, the amount credited by a financial institution to the government's account as opposed to the government's own ledger balance for the account (e.g., if checks have been written against an account, but have not yet cleared the bank, the ledger balance would be lower than the bank balance).

BASIC FINANCIAL STATEMENTS. Those financial statements, including notes thereto, necessary for the fair presentation of the financial position and results of operations of an entity in conformity with GAAP.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING. A term used to refer to when revenues, expenditures, expenses and transfers - and the related assets and liabilities - are recognized in the accounts and reported in the financial statements. Specifically, it relates to the timing of the measurements made, regardless of the nature of the measurement, on either the cash, the accrual or modified accrual basis.

BASIS POINT. Equal to 1/100 of one percent. If interest rates rise from 7.50 percent to 7.75 percent, the difference is referred to as an increase of 25 basis points.

BENEFITS. Payments to which participants may be entitled including pension benefits, death benefits and benefits due on termination of employment.

BIENNIAL BUDGET. A budget applicable to a two-year fiscal period.

BILL. A term used to denote a law or statute passed by certain legislative bodies. A bill has greater legal formality and standing than a resolution.

BLENDING (BLENDED). The method of reporting the financial data of a component unit that presents the component unit's balances and transactions in a manner similar to the presentation of the balances and transactions of the primary government.

BOND. Most often, a written promise to pay a specified sum of money (called the face value or principal amount), at a specified date or dates in the future, the maturity date(s), together with periodic interest at a specified rate. Sometimes, however, all or a substantial portion of the interest is included in the face value of the security. The difference between a note and a bond is that the latter is issued for a longer period and requires greater legal formality.

BOND ANTICIPATION NOTES (BANs). Short-term interest-bearing notes issued by a government in anticipation of bonds to be issued at a later date. The notes are often retired from proceeds of the bond issue to which they are related.

BOND COVENANT. A legally enforceable promise made by an issuer of bonds to the bondholders normally contained in the bond resolution or indenture (e.g., pledged revenues).

Terminology (Continued)

BOND DISCOUNT. The difference between the present value and the face amount of bonds when the former is less than the latter. In common usage, the term also includes issuance costs withheld from the bond proceeds by the underwriter.

BONDED DEBT. The portion of indebtedness represented by outstanding bonds.

BOND INDENTURE. A formal agreement, also called a deed of trust, between an issuer of bonds and the bondholder.

BOND ORDINANCE OR RESOLUTION. An ordinance or resolution authorizing a bond issue.

BOND PREMIUM. The difference between the present value and the face amount of bonds when the former is greater than the latter.

BONDS AUTHORIZED AND UNISSUED. Bonds that have been authorized legally but not issued and that can be issued and sold without further authorization.

BONDS ISSUED. Bonds sold by the government.

BONDS PAYABLE. Generally, the face value of bonds issued and unpaid. In the case of deep-discount and zero-coupon bonds, however, only the accreted value of the security is reported as bonds payable on the balance sheet.

BOOKS OF ORIGINAL ENTRY. The record in which various transactions are recorded formally for the first time (e.g., cash journal, check register or general journal). With automated bookkeeping methods, one transaction may be recorded simultaneously in several records, one of which may be regarded as the book of original entry. Memorandum books, check stubs, files of duplicate sales invoices, etc., on which first or prior business notations may have been made, are not books of original entry in the accepted meaning of the term, unless they also are used as the media for direct posting to the ledgers.

BOOK VALUE. Value as shown by the books of account. In the case of assets subject to reduction by valuation allowances, book value refers to cost or stated value less the appropriate allowance. Sometimes a distinction is made between gross book value and net book value, the former designating value before deduction of related allowances and the latter the value after the deduction. In the absence of any modifiers, however, book value is understood to be synonymous with net book value.

BUDGET. A plan of financial operation embodying an estimate of proposed expenditures for a given period and the proposed means of financing them. Used without any modifier, the term usually indicates a financial plan for a single fiscal year. The term “budget” is used in two senses in practice. Sometimes it designates the financial plan presented to the appropriating governing body for adoption, and sometimes the plan finally approved by that body.

BUDGETARY ACCOUNTS. Accounts used to enter the formally adopted annual operating budget into the general ledger as part of the management control technique of formal budgetary integration.

BUDGETARY COMPARISONS. Statements or schedules presenting comparisons between approved budgetary amounts (as amended) and actual results of operations on the budgetary basis.

BUDGETARY CONTROL. The control or management of a government or enterprise in accordance with an approved budget to keep expenditures within the limitations of available appropriations and available revenues.

BUDGET DOCUMENT. The instrument used by the budget-making authority to present a comprehensive financial program to the appropriating governing body. The budget document usually consists of three parts. The first part contains a message from the budget-making authority, together with a summary of the proposed expenditures and the means of financing them. The second consists of schedules supporting the summary. These schedules show in detail the past year's actual revenues, expenditures and other data used in making the estimates. The third part is composed of drafts of the appropriation, revenue and borrowing measures necessary to put the budget into effect.

BUDGET-GAAP BASIS DIFFERENCES. Differences arising from the use of a basis of accounting for budgetary purposes that differs from the basis of accounting applicable to the fund type when reporting on operations in conformity with GAAP. For example, a cash-basis budget would produce a budget-GAAP basis difference.

BUSINESS-TYPE ACTIVITIES. Those activities of a government carried out primarily to provide specific services in exchange for a specific user charge.

CALLABLE BOND. A type of bond with a feature that permits the issuer to pay the obligation before the stated maturity date by giving notice of redemption in a manner specified in the bond contract.

CAPITAL BUDGET. A plan of proposed capital outlays and the means of financing them.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES. Expenditures resulting in the acquisition of or addition to the government's general fixed assets.

CAPITAL GRANTS. Grants restricted by the grantor for the acquisition and/or construction of fixed assets.

CAPITAL LEASE. An agreement that conveys the right to use property, plant or equipment, usually for a stated period of time, that meets one or more of the criteria set forth in SFAS No.13 for lease capitalization.

Terminology (Continued)

CAPITAL PROGRAM. A plan for capital expenditures to be incurred each year over a fixed period of years to meet capital needs arising from the long-term work program or other capital needs. It sets forth each project or other contemplated expenditure in which the government is to have a part and specifies the resources estimated to be available to finance the projected expenditures.

CAPITALIZATION THRESHOLD. The dollar value at which governments elect to capitalize assets used in operations and that have an initial useful life extending beyond a single reporting period.

CASH BASIS. A basis of accounting under which transactions are recognized only when cash is received or disbursed.

CASH DISCOUNT. An allowance received or given if payment of an account is completed within a stated period of time.

CASH EQUIVALENT. Short-term, highly liquid investments that are both (1) readily convertible to known amounts of cash and (2) so near their maturity that they present insignificant risk of changes in value because of changes in interest rates.

CASH FLOWS STATEMENT. One of the basic financial statements required in proprietary funds that reports the inflows and outflows of cash.

CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT FOR EXCELLENCE IN FINANCIAL REPORTING PROGRAM. A voluntary program administered by the GFOA to encourage governments to publish efficiently organized and easily readable CAFRs/CUFRs and to provide technical assistance and peer recognition to the finance officers preparing them.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT (CPA). An accountant who has met all the statutory and licensing requirements of a given state for use of that designation. All U.S. states require accountants, at a minimum, to complete successfully a uniform national examination before being allowed to designate themselves as CPAs.

CLAIM. (1) Potential losses that rise from (a) employment (e.g., worker compensation and unemployment), (b) contractual actions (e.g., delays or inadequate specifications), (c) actions of government personnel (e.g., medical malpractice, damage to privately owned vehicles by government-owned vehicles, improper police arrest) and (d) governmental properties (e.g., personal injuries, property damage). (2) In the context of insurance, a demand for payment of a policy benefit because of the occurrence of an insured event, such as the destruction or damage of property and related deaths or injuries.

CLEARING ACCOUNT. An account used to accumulate total charges or credits so that they can be distributed later among the accounts to which they are allocable or so that the net differences can be transferred to the proper account(s).

COLLATERAL. Assets pledged to secure deposits, investments or loans.

COMMITMENTS. In the context of note disclosure, contingent obligations at the balance sheet date arising from the terms of executory contracts.

COMPENSATED ABSENCES. Absences, such as vacation, illness and holidays, for which it is expected employees will be paid. The term does not encompass severance or termination pay, post-retirement benefits, deferred compensation or other long-term fringe benefits, such as group insurance and long-term disability pay.

COMPLIANCE AUDITING. Auditing for compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Tests of compliance with laws and regulations are substantive tests; therefore, the term “compliance auditing” should not be confused with the similar term “compliance testing” which usually refers to testing for compliance with internal control procedures.

COMPONENT UNITS. Legally separate organizations for which the elected officials of the primary government are financially accountable. In addition, a component unit can be another organization for which the nature and significance of its relationship with a primary government is such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity’s financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.

COMPONENT UNIT FINANCIAL REPORT (CUFR). A report covering all fund and account groups of a component unit including introductory section; appropriate combined, combining and individual fund statements; notes to the financial statements; required supplementary information; schedules; narrative explanations and statistical tables.

COMPONENT UNIT FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CUFS). Financial statements of a component unit that may be issued separately from the component unit financial report. Such statements should include the financial statements and notes to the financial statements that are essential to the fair presentation of financial position and results of operations (and changes in financial position of proprietary funds and similar trust funds).

COMPREHENSIVE ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT (CAFR). The official annual report of a government prepared in conformity with GAAP.

CONSUMPTION METHOD. The method under which inventories are recorded as expenditures/expenses when used.

CONTINGENT LIABILITY. Items that may become liabilities as a result of conditions undetermined at a given date, such as guarantees, pending lawsuits, judgments under appeal, unsettled disputed claims, unfilled purchase orders and uncompleted contracts. Contingent liabilities should be disclosed within the financial statements (including the notes) when there is a reasonable possibility a loss may have been incurred. Guarantees, however, should be disclosed even though the possibility of loss may be remote.

CONTROL ACCOUNT. An account in the general ledger in which is recorded the aggregate of debt and credit postings to a number of related accounts called subsidiary accounts (e.g., taxes receivable is a control account supported by the aggregate of individual balances in individual property taxpayers subsidiary accounts).

CONTROL ENVIRONMENT. The collective effect of various factors on establishing, enhancing, or mitigating the effectiveness of specific policies and procedures. Such factors include (1) management philosophy and operating style, (2) organizational structure, (3) the function of the legislative body and its committees, (4) methods of assigning authority and responsibility, (5) management control methods, (6) the internal audit function, (7) personnel policies and procedures and (8) external influences concerning the entity.

CONTROL PROCEDURES. The policies and procedures (in addition to the control environment and accounting system) that management has established to provide reasonable assurance that specific entity objectives will be achieved.

CORRECTIVE ACTION PLAN. A plan state and local officials are required to submit to appropriate officials. The plan details how material noncompliance or weaknesses found in the audit will be eliminated or why corrective action is not necessary.

COST. The amount of money or other consideration exchanged for goods or services.

COST ACCOUNTING. The method of accounting that provides for the assembling and recording of all the elements of cost incurred to accomplish a purpose, to carry on an activity or operation, or to complete a unit of work or a specific job.

COUPON RATE. The interest rate specified on interest coupons attached to a bond. The term “nominal interest rate” is also used in this sense.

DEFERRED REVENUE. Resource inflows that do not meet the criteria for revenue recognition.

DEFICIT. (1) The excess of the liabilities of a fund over its assets. (2) The excess of expenditures over revenues during an accounting period or, in the case of proprietary funds, the excess of expenses over revenues during an accounting period.

DELINQUENT TAXES. Taxes remaining unpaid on and after the date on which a penalty for nonpayment is attached. Even though the penalty may be subsequently waived and a portion of the taxes may be abated or canceled, the unpaid balances continue to be delinquent taxes until abated, canceled, paid or converted into tax liens.

DEMAND BONDS. Long-term debt issuances with demand ("put") provisions that require the issuer to repurchase the bonds upon notice from the bondholder at a price equal to the principal plus accrued interest. To ensure their ability to redeem the bonds, the issuers of demand bonds frequently enter into short-term standby liquidity agreements and long-term "takeout" agreements.

DEPLETION. The allocation of the cost of wasting assets (e.g., timber, oil, coal) to the periods benefited by their use.

DEPOSITS. In the context of required note disclosures, cash and near cash items placed on account with a financial institution or fiscal agent. Some deposits (e.g., checking accounts) are subject to withdrawal upon demand without notice or penalty (demand deposits) and others (e.g., certificates of deposit) can only be withdrawn without penalty upon completion of a fixed period (time deposits).

DEPRECIATION. (1) Expiration in the service life of fixed assets, other than wasting assets, attributable to wear and tear, deterioration, action of the physical elements, inadequacy and obsolescence. (2) The portion of the cost of a fixed asset, other than a wasting asset, charged as an expense during a particular period. In accounting for depreciation, the cost of a fixed asset, less any salvage value, is prorated over the estimated service life of such an asset, and each period is charged with a portion of such cost. Through this process, the entire cost of the asset is ultimately charged off as an expense.

DISCOUNT RATE. The rate used to adjust a series of future payments to reflect the time value of money. For the purpose of calculating the pension benefit obligation defined by the GASB, this rate is equal to the estimated long-term rate of return on current and future investments of the pension plan. For capitalized leases, the discount rate used by the lessee is the lessee's incremental borrowing rate unless the lessee is aware of the lessor's implicit rate and that rate is less than the lessee's incremental borrowing rate.

DISCRETE PRESENTATION (DISCRETELY PRESENTED). The method of reporting financial data of component units in a column(s) separate from the financial data of the primary government.

DISCUSSION MEMORANDUM (DM). Document issued by either the GASB or the FASB as a basis for written comments by respondents, leading to the issuance of one or more GASB or FASB pronouncements. In a DM, neither the GASB nor the FASB attempts to reach any conclusions about the issues and related arguments and implications presented. A DM is not an authoritative document and should not be used to justify departures from GAAP.

When the power of eminent domain is exercised, owners normally are compensated by the government in an amount determined by the courts.

ENCUMBRANCES. Commitments related to unperformed (executory) contracts for goods or services. Used in budgeting, encumbrances are not GAAP expenditures or liabilities, but represent the estimated amount of expenditures ultimately to result if unperformed contracts in process are completed.

A measurement focus that recognizes the net effect of transactions on current financial resources by recording accruals for those revenue and expenditure transactions which have occurred by year end that are normally expected to result in cash receipt or disbursement early enough in the following year either (a) to provide financial resources to liquidate liabilities recorded in the fund at year end or (b) to require the use of available expendable financial resources reported at year end.

FLOW OF ECONOMIC RESOURCES. The measurement focus used in the commercial model and in proprietary and similar trust funds to measure economic resources, the claims to those economic resources and the effects of transactions, events and circumstances that change economic resources and claims to those resources. This focus includes depreciation of fixed assets, deferral of unearned revenues and prepaid expenses, and amortization of the resulting liabilities and assets. Under this measurement focus, all assets and liabilities are reported on the balance sheet, whether current or non-current. Also, the accrual basis of accounting is used, with the result that operating statements report expenses rather than expenditures.

FORFEITURE. The automatic loss of cash or other property as a penalty for not complying with legal provisions and as compensation for the resulting damages or losses. This term should not be confused with confiscation. The latter term designates the actual taking over of the forfeited property by the government. They govern the form and content of the financial statements of an entity. GAAP encompass the conventions, rules and procedures necessary to define accepted accounting practice at a particular time. They include not only broad guidelines of general application, but also detailed practices and procedures. GAAP provide a standard by which to measure financial presentations. The primary authoritative body on the application of GAAP to state and local governments is the GASB.

There are ten basic GAAS, classed into three broad categories: general standards, standards of field work and standards of reporting. These GAAS set forth the objectives of the audit and establish measures that can be applied to judge the quality of its performance.

GENERALLY ACCEPTED GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS (GAGAS). Standards established by the GAO in its publication Government Auditing Standards (“Yellow Book”) for the conduct and reporting of all financial and performance audits. TERM BONDS. Bonds that mature, in total, on one date.

TRIAL BALANCE. A list of the balances of the accounts in a ledger kept by double entry, with the debit and credit balances shown in separate columns. If the totals of the debit and credit columns are equal or if their net balance agrees with a control account, the ledger from which the figures are taken is said to be in balance.

UNDERWRITER. In the context of bonds, a dealer who purchases a new issue for resale.

VALUE. As used in governmental accounting (1) the act of describing anything in terms of money or (2) to measure in terms of money. The term should not be used without further qualification.

VARIABLE INTEREST RATE. A rate of interest subject to adjustment (e.g., the rate of interest specified may be a percentage of the prime rate on certain set dates.)

VESTED BENEFIT. A benefit for which the employer has an obligation to make payment even if an employee terminates; thus, the benefit is not contingent on an employee's future service.

VOUCHER. A written document that shows the propriety of transactions and usually indicates the accounts in which they are to be recorded.

WARRANT. An order drawn by the legislative body or an officer of a government upon its fiscal officer, directing the latter to pay a specified amount to the person named or to the bearer.
