- Overpayment amounts and securities resulting from trust activities
- Dormant trust customer accounts
- Unclaimed securities found in a vault or storage area

Statutory Considerations in Addition to Article III

Corporate Property Types

Article V and Section 1315 of New York's Abandoned Property Law

A banking organization is subject to Article V and §1315 of the APL when acting as a paying agent, including amounts or securities from distributions of ownership interest. When this occurs, the report of abandoned property is required to be filed on the banking report due date of November 10 under Article III. For more information, refer to Article V and §1315 of the statute and to the Office of Unclaimed Fund's (OUF) industry specific information for General Corporations.

Holders Not Authorized to Conduct Business in New York State

§1312 of the APL extends statutory coverage to any banking organization that:

- Is chartered or organized in another state and not authorized to do business in New York
- Holds unclaimed property payable to a person whose last known address is within New York

Such reporting organizations are subject to the same statutory reporting requirements as organizations doing business in New York. However, the publication requirement does not apply.

Safe Deposit Boxes – New York's Banking Law, Section 335

§335 of New York's Banking Law provides special remedies for instances when the rental of a safe deposit box is not paid or when the safe deposit box is not vacated upon termination of the lease. For further information please refer to §335 of the Banking Law.

Due Diligence

Section 1422 of New York's Abandoned Property Law

§1422 of the APL requires that, at least 90 days prior to submitting its final report, the holder send a notice by first class mail to each owner whose name is expected to appear on that report unless the address for the owner is unknown or the holder can demonstrate the address it maintains for the owner is not the owner's current address. In addition, at least 60 days prior to submitting its final report, the holder must send a notice by certified mail (return receipt requested) to each owner whose name is expected to appear on that report with abandoned property valued in excess of $1,000 unless contact with the owner has been established, the first class mailing was returned as undeliverable, or the mailing address is outside the United States.

The provisions of §300.1 (h) (III), pertaining to securities enrolled in a dividend reinvestment plan, remain in force and require that a certified mailing be made to the apparent owner regardless of the account value. This also applies when the funds are being held by the bank as a paying agent.

Securities and Exchange Commission Due Diligence Regulations

Under SEC rule 17Ad-17, transfer agents are required to search for lost security holders and perform due diligence mailings in an attempt to restore contact with security holders. The SEC regulations are very specific about the timing for searches and mailings, all of which take place before securities would be reported to the state as unclaimed funds. The SEC rule pertains to direct reinvestment accounts only. The Rules and Regulations for the Securities and Exchange Commission and Major Securities Laws can be found at:

Electronic Contact

Certain types of electronic contact can be used to satisfy the written communication requirements in the APL to prevent the property from being deemed abandoned. This includes email communication from the entitled owner of the property that matches the registered email address on record with the holder or a verifiable login by the owner using a website or mobile application made available by the holder. See NYCRR Title 2 Part 125 for more details.

Insurance

Article VII and Section 1316 of New York's Abandoned Property Law

Banking organizations that sell life, property or casualty insurance and are holding related funds (insurance proceeds held by a bank) are subject to Article VII and §1316 of the APL. For more information, refer to Article VII and §1316 of the statute and to OUF's Insurance Company Document.

Important Issues – Banking Institutions

Accounts Not Reportable

Account deposits reportable under §300(1)(a) and held at a foreign (non-US) branch of a New York Bank and negotiable instruments payable only in foreign (non-USD) currency are not subject to New York's Abandoned Property Law.

American Depository Receipts (ADR)

A three-year dormancy period and a statutory floor date of July 1, 1974 apply to ADRs. Follow the same rules and criteria for reporting unclaimed corporate cash and stock dividends, redemptions, and underlying and unexchanged shares. Note that New York ADR issuers also report amounts held for unknown owners.

Amounts Held for New York, Foreign and Unknown Owners Reportable for Corporations that have Discontinued Business without the Right to Receive Such Amounts Having Passed to a Successor.

Such amounts held by a non-New York paying agent for residents of New York are also reportable to New York.

Bank Charter Information

Banking institutions should substitute State Chartered and Date Chartered for State of Incorporation and Date of Incorporation on the Verification and Checklist.

Bearer Amounts of State, Municipal or other Public Issuers

You should combine bearer amounts by issue and report each issue as one record. You must file these items on a separate report and cannot combine them with reportable items from other areas within the organization. The following reflects the information to be included in the respective fields.

Account Title or Description of Security	The complete name of the issuer and the issue date. Enter the name of the issuer and period for which funds were reported, e.g., Dormitory Authority NYS – All Issues* 7/1/86 – 6/30/87 or City of New York G/O Serial Bonds SR – 113 W Dtd 01/01/67.
Property Type	3B for Bearer Interest and 3H for Bearer Principal. When you cannot separate interest and principal, use property type 3D.
Date	Due date, payable date or call date, if the amount you are reporting represents a specific coupon payment, other interest payable or a redemption value. If the amount you are reporting is for a specific escheatment period, e.g. 7/1/12 – 6/30/13, enter the date of the last day of the period (6/30/13). If the amount you are reporting is for multiple escheatment years, e.g., 7/1/11 through 6/30/13, enter the date of the last day of the period and the beginning and end dates in the field that contains the issuer name and issue date (Account Title field or Description of Security field).

Blocked Accounts

The US Department of Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) has granted the New York State Comptroller's Office of Unclaimed Funds a license authorizing this Office to take custody of assets that are deemed abandoned under the New York State Abandoned Property Law which are blocked pursuant to any sanctions program administered by OFAC.

Prior to filing your separate report of blocked accounts, review OFAC's Guidance on Filing the Annual Report of Blocked Property. You must also submit OFAC's TD F 90-22.50 with your report of abandoned property to this office. We can accept this in Excel format over USB/DVD/CD.

In accordance with OFAC regulations, holders of any blocked property are not allowed to transfer such property to the owner, the owner's representative or a third party without notifying OFAC. As such, the primary responsibility for identifying, blocking and reporting OFAC blocked properties rests with the holder. For more information regarding your responsibility for blocked properties, contact:

Licensing Compliance Section
Office of Foreign Assets Control
US Department of the Treasury
Washington, DC 20220

Due diligence by first-class mail must be sent to an account owner's last known address prior to reporting the blocked funds to this Office. Generally, certified mail and publication requirements do not apply for this class of property. However, in those instances when the blocked property is a money order or wire transfer and the address of the sender is within the United States, a certified mailing is required. Contact us for more details.

In addition to creating a separate report using all the report fields as described, use the Property (or Security) Description field to indicate the Treasury's "Program Tag," or sanction name, under which the asset is blocked. The "Program Tag Definitions for OFAC Sanctions Lists" can be found at:

https://www.treasury.gov/resource-center/sanctions/SDN-List/Pages/program_tags.aspx.

Also, in the same field with the Sanction Tag, include the name of the blocked party, who is the target of the sanction, particularly when that party is not the owner entitled to make a claim on the account.

Cash and Securities Held by New York Paying Agents

Paying agents reporting shareholder items for corporations as part of a regular bank filing should submit only one report covering all corporations. The Description of Security and CUSIP Number fields identify the corporations that the paying agent has included in the report.

Refer to the General Corporations document for information regarding the types of property subject to New York's Abandoned Property Law, reporting requirements and related issues.

If you are acting as a successor agent, you should report abandoned property applying a three-year dormancy period from the original issue date, not from the date you received the property.

If you are acting as transfer, paying or reorganization agent, you are responsible for filing on behalf of corporate clients, unless the property is returned to the corporations prior to July 1 of the reportable year. You do not need to file a separate report. You may include items for corporate clients in the regular report.

Court-Ordered Guardian Accounts

The three-year dormancy period on court-ordered guardian accounts begins at age 18 or at the death of the infant, whichever occurs first. This applies to all accounts that are subject to withdrawal only upon further order of the court and in the absence of a specific order directing the retention of such accounts beyond the infant's majority. If you do not know the infant's date of birth, attempt to obtain this information from the court. If you cannot obtain this information, presume the infant was born on the account's opening date.

We have no objection if you notify the appropriate surrogate's court via short form order prior to remitting such accounts to us, provided your intent is to have the court determine the proper disposition of the funds as abandoned property, i.e., whether the accounts are for minors, unknown heirs, etc., and not to prevent proper transfer of such funds, which have met the statutory requirements for abandonment.

Custodian Accounts

The dormancy period on accounts resulting from New York's Uniform Gift to Minors Act (UGMA), or any other custodian or in-trust-for account not subject to a court order, is three years from the date of last customer contact.

International Banking Policy

Funds held at an international banking facility (IBF) established in New York are subject to New York's Abandoned Property Law.

Linkage of Accounts

For instances in which a reporting organization has the ability to link several accounts of a single customer either manually or electronically, you may treat an action on one of the customer's accounts as an exclusionary activity for all of the customer's accounts, including those that are inactive or dormant. However, you should notify the customer of any dormant accounts and instruct them to reactivate the account.

Examples of such accounts are savings, checking, IRA, personal trust, loan payment, and brokerage, etc. In the absence of an exclusionary activity, a related inactive account should not delay the reporting of a dormant account.

The following are examples of appropriate account linkage:

- A customer has two accounts with a banking organization; one is a savings account and the other is a checking account. The savings account has not had any activity within the last three years, while the checking account has been quite active. Checks were debited against the account in the previous month. For the purposes of reporting abandoned property, the recent activity in the checking account precludes the reporting of the savings account.
- A customer has two in trust for security accounts in the bank's trust department. Both accounts are listed under the same Social Security Number and maintain the same signatory authorization. With respect to reporting abandoned property, activity in either account constitutes activity for both.

The following examples, although seemingly representative of account linkage, do not extend the dormancy period or preclude the reporting of the dormant account:

- A depositor has a checking account and an automatically renewable two-year time account. There has been no customer generated activity or contact on either account for three years. The checking account is deemed reportable, even though, based on the criteria for reporting time accounts, the time account is not be reportable for another two years.
- A customer is 40 years old and has a dormant IRA account and a dormant money market account. The money market account is reportable, and the IRA account will be reportable when the customer reaches or surpasses the mandatory distribution age as set by the IRS.

Negotiable Instruments

The nature of the obligation is the determining factor in establishing the dormancy period for checks. For example, a retail banking department reports cashier checks applying a three-year dormancy period applicable to unclaimed dividends rather than the three-year dormancy period for negotiable instruments. You may not levy handling charges against negotiable instruments unless there is a specific contract with the customer authorizing such a charge.

You may deem negotiable instruments outstanding in error and exclude them from an abandoned property report if you have any of the following:

- A written statement from both the payee and the drawer acknowledging the specific obligation has been satisfied and disclaiming any entitlement to the funds.
- A statement from either party indicating receipt of the funds.
- Documentation the obligation has otherwise been satisfied.

A bank's own payroll or vendor checks are reportable.

Owners Outside the United States

Amounts held by New York banking institutions for non-US residents are subject to the statute. Note that the law requires you to report to us when the rightful owner is a resident of another country.

Passbooks in Safekeeping

Passbooks, other than those held as collateral for loans that have not matured, are reportable as any other bank account on a three-year basis. Do not update these passbooks in the absence of depositor contact.

Passbook Updates

With respect to savings accounts, while passbook updates constitute depositor contact, you should make every effort to get the depositor's signature which acknowledges that they are aware of the account.

Safe Deposits

The procedures for opening safe deposit boxes for non-payment of rent are in §335 of New York's Banking Law. The law requires you to report cash, including the net proceeds from an auction, and securities three years from the date of the box's opening. It also requires you to report the proceeds resulting from an auction of property held in excess of three years as of June 30 of the year in which you received the proceeds. You are not required to hold an auction, but if you do, the net proceeds are reportable on a box-by-box basis after subtracting the auctioneer's expenses and reasonable bank fees. You must retain papers and property of no apparent value for at least ten years, in accordance with §335.1(f) of New York's Banking Law.

When physical security certificates are among the contents of an opened box, transferability and value should be determined before deciding what should be reported. If a certificate has no apparent cash value, or if the registration cannot be transferred to the Comptroller, it should be treated the same as other important papers in a safe deposit box. Before sending any certificates, you must contact our office for approval or alternate instructions. Contact the Securities Management Unit if there are any questions on the delivery of securities.

Do not report checks found in a safe deposit box as abandoned property. If appropriate, the issuing organization will report the underlying funds.

Do not report coins, including US coins such as silver dollars, with an apparent market value in excess of face value at face value or offset them against bank fees. You should retain and auction them.

Do not report Series E, EE or I bonds to us. Retain them or forward them with a letter of explanation to:

Treasury Retail Securities Service
PO Box 214
Minneapolis, MN 55480

Securities and Exchange Commission Due Diligence regulations

Under SEC rule 17Ad-17, transfer agents are required to search for lost security holders and perform due diligence mailings in an attempt to restore contact with security holders. The SEC regulations are very specific about the timing for searches and mailings, all of which take place before securities would be reported to the state as unclaimed funds. The SEC rule pertains to direct reinvestment accounts only. The Rules and Regulations for the Securities and Exchange Commission and Major Securities Laws can be found at:

<http://www.sec.gov/about/laws/secrulesregs.htm>. See part 240.

Time Accounts

In the absence of depositor contact, the three-year dormancy period on time deposits begins at the first maturity. If the rollover is prior to the dormancy date then it continues to maturity. However, the banking organization may break the term on their own to escheat at the dormant date at no cost to the account owner. We only require banks to break a CD if it is past due (i.e.: rolled over after dormancy), again at no cost to the owner. As a basis for identifying dormant time accounts, you should maintain records of the original issue or maturity date. Only a customer-generated activity may change the dormancy date.

Tax Deferred Accounts (ie: IRAs, Roth IRAs, Coverdell Education Savings (ESA))

Traditional IRAs, Roth IRAs, ESAs or other accounts that are qualified for tax deferral under the US income tax laws are reportable as abandoned property on the next report cycle following the mandatory distribution date, as set by IRS guidelines, in the absence of contact/activity within the last three years from the account owner, unless the account is in distribution. If the account is in distribution, a three-year dormancy applies.

If you cannot reasonably obtain the owner's date of birth, for ESA accounts use the account opening date as the owner's date of birth and for an IRA presume the owner was 21 on the day the account was open.

In reporting, use property types that reflects the nature of the account. For example, use 11 if the proceeds had been held in a trading or investment account. In the Date field, enter the date when the owner reached the mandatory distribution age, as set by the IRS. In the Description of Security field enter IRA. This clarifies that you are not reporting the account prematurely.

If securities are liquidated to comply with the IRS guidelines, report the remaining securities as shares and residual cash on a separate line for each owner. Include "IRA distribution withholding" in the Description of Security field.

While a Roth IRA is not subject to mandatory distribution rules during the original owner's lifetime, confusion may nonetheless exist among both the public and the holder community as to the proper treatment of the APL. For consistency, OUF will not penalize reporting organizations for treating a Roth IRA in the same manner as the traditional IRA.

Unclaimed Overpayments, Dividends, Interest and Securities (Trust Departments Personal Trust, Custody and Employee Benefits)

Unclaimed overpayment amounts and securities on corporate, governmental or other “public issues” are subject to the statute. If you hold unclaimed dividend or interest overpayments received in a foreign currency, they are subject to New York’s Abandoned Property Law, but they must be paid in US currency.

Unit Investment Trusts

Unit investment Trusts (UITs) are subject to New York’s Abandoned Property Law. Report amounts and/or securities in the same manner as other outstanding bond issues, notwithstanding that the underlying bonds that compose the trust may have different maturities.

However, if there is a contractual investment plan where payments to the plan are over a specified period, or if the plan terminates at the end of a specified period, the dormancy period does not begin until the completion of the period stated in the plan.

Address specific questions regarding trust provisions and commencement of the dormancy period to the Director of Audits.

Vendors Performing Payroll Services

If you perform payroll record keeping services for another corporation, notify the other entity on a yearly basis of unclaimed amounts reportable to us, and determine which entity is responsible for reporting the items. Such reporting should occur on an annual basis. For more information, refer to Article V of New York’s Abandoned Property Law.

Due Diligence – Banking Institutions

Banking organizations are required to conduct due diligence in the form of mailings and publication. The costs for completing publication and certified mailings may be charged individually to the abandoned accounts subject to the due diligence effort. However, the costs for completing the first class mailing requirement cannot be offset. You may not take a bulk deduction against the report's total value. A positive customer response to any due diligence attempt negates the need for further due diligence actions on an account.

Exercise due caution in attempting to contact entitled owners who reside in politically sensitive countries as defined by OFAC. Certified mailing requirements do not apply to residents of foreign countries. Address any questions pertaining to this subject to our Director of Audits.

Publication for Banking Institutions

The law requires you to:

- Publish a notice of unclaimed property that consists of the names and last known addresses, sorted alphabetically by last name, of all persons appearing to be entitled to abandoned property amounting to fifty dollars or more. The notice shall state that:
 - A report of unclaimed amounts of money or other property has been made to the State Comptroller and that a listing of names of persons appearing to be entitled is on file and open to public inspection at (banking organization name).
 - Such held amounts of money or other property will be paid or delivered to proven entitled parties by (banking organization name) through October 31.
 - On or before November 10, any remaining unclaimed monies or other properties will be paid or delivered to the State Comptroller.
- Publish the notice by August 31.
- Publish the notice once in the city or village in which the property is payable.
 - If no newspapers are published in that city or village, then publication should be in the county in which the property is payable.
 - If no newspapers are published in that county, then publication should be in an adjacent county.
- Publish the notice in a newspaper printed in English and any other newspaper that will substantially serve to inform the public of such abandoned property.
- File proof by affidavit of publication with the State Comptroller on or before September 10.

As primary publications should be in English, the cost of subsequent publications is not deductible.

Items to Disqualify

When determining what items to publish, disqualify any items for which any of the following is true:

- The item value is less than $50.
- You do not have an address on record or it is in a foreign country.

After applying the above criteria, disqualify all items if:

They are payable in:	The sum of the value of all items to be advertised is less than:
a New York City county (New York, Kings, Queens, Richmond, or Bronx)	$10,000
a county outside of New York City	$2,500

You should publish any items remaining after disqualifications. Remember to only list an individual's name once.

Allocation of Publication Costs

Allocate publication costs on a pro rata basis. Use one of the following methods to allocate cost to items published.

Percentage Method

Divide the amount of the item you are publishing by the total amount of the items you are publishing in that county and multiply the quotient by the total advertising expense. For example: You are publishing a $100 item along with other items (in the same county). The total for all items is $10,000, and the total advertising expense for this county is estimated at $50.

$\frac{$ 100}{$10,000}$		$.010 \times $50 = \0.50

Cost Per Dollar Method

Divide the estimated total advertising expense for a particular county by the total amount of the items to be published in that county. The resulting percentage is then multiplied by the face value of the item being advertised to determine the amount of advertising charges to be applied to that item. Using the example above, the calculation is:

$\frac{$ 50}{$10,000}$		$.005 \times $100 = \0.50
--------------------------	---	------------------------------

For the example above, regardless of the method applied, the publication cost you could deduct is $0.50.

You may not make a bulk deduction for the publication against the total value of the report.

Note:

The banking organization may apply for an advertising waiver if the advertising expense is estimated to be greater than 20% of the total value of the property to be advertised. (2 NYCRR 117)

Mailing Requirements

First Class and Certified Mailings

§1422 of the APL requires that all organizations do the following:

- At least 90 days prior to their final report/remittance date, send a notice by first class mail to each owner whose name is expected to appear on that report unless:
 - The owner address is unknown, or
 - The holder can demonstrate the address it maintains for the owner is not the owner's current address.,
 - Note – if you use an address validation service and find a new address for the owner, you may send the notice to the new address but you should not change the original address on your report or books and records.
 - The items to be reported are valued at $20 or less and are reported in the aggregate, in which case the owner's name will not appear on the report, therefore mailing a notice is not required.

And

- At least 60 days prior to their final report/remittance date, send a notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each owner whose name is expected to appear on that report with abandoned property valued in excess of $1,000 unless:
 - Owner contact has been established,
 - The first class mailing was returned as undeliverable, or
 - The last known address is outside of the United States.

Costs

You may deduct the mailing costs for certified mail. Deduct such charges from each item for which you are mailing the notice, or one item if you are rolling similar items for a specific owner into one item. You may not make a bulk deduction against the final remittance.

Multiple Items

Where feasible, if you are reporting more than one item for the same owner, one letter should address all of the items you are reporting.

Multiple Owners

For cases in which multiple owners of an item have different addresses, you must send a notice to each owner. You may deduct the additional costs of mailing a certified notice to more than one address.

Wages and Dividend Reinvestment Accounts – Article V

Article V requires you to send notification to the apparent owners of securities that are enrolled in reinvestment plans. This notification, which is to be sent via certified mail return receipt requested, should advise owners that in the absence of establishing written communication with the holder, their securities will be delivered to the State Comptroller as abandoned property. A return receipt signed by the owner of the property is to be considered contact.

Additionally, Article V stipulates that owners of unclaimed wages be notified at the last known address of record via first class mail.

In either of the above cases the notifications must be sent in the calendar year prior to the year in which you are required to deliver the property to the State Comptroller. You may not deduct the cost of sending notifications from the value of the abandoned property.

Submit your remittance at the time you file a report. The remittance should be equal to the sum of the values of the accounts being reported to the Office of the State Comptroller. Pay your remittance by electronic transfer, check or by using the Security Delivery Instructions.

For the purposes of reporting abandoned property, a banking organization's year runs from July 1 through June 30. June 30 is the cut-off or ending date for the reporting period. Use it when identifying abandoned accounts/items.

July 1 through August 10

During this period, review your records and collect data related to any account/item that may be dormant and subject to reporting.

August 10

By this date:

This requirement does not apply to those accounts that meet the exclusionary provisions of §1422.
- Advise and educate internal staff about the due diligence notices for effective processing when the rightful owner contacts your organization.
- Reactivate all accounts of owners who respond to the notice or otherwise establish contact. Do not include these accounts on your report.

 - You may charge the cost of the certified mailing against the property's value.
- Reactivate all accounts of owners who respond to the mailing. Do not include these accounts on your report.
