The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subparagraph 2 of paragraph b of subdivision 2 of part B of section 236 of the domestic relations law, as added by chapter 72 of the laws of 2009, is amended to read as follows:

(2) Neither party shall transfer, encumber, assign, remove, withdraw or in any way dispose of any tax deferred funds, stocks or other assets held in any individual retirement accounts, 401K accounts, profit sharing plans, Keough accounts, or any other pension or retirement account, and the parties shall further refrain from applying for or requesting the payment of retirement benefits or annuity payments of any kind, without the consent of the other party in writing, or upon further order of the court; except that any party who is already in pay status may continue to receive such payments thereunder.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after September 1, 2009.

AN ACT to provide temporary retirement incentive for certain public employees

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. This act enacts into law components of legislation that would establish an age 55/25 temporary incentive for certain public employees.

§ 2. Legislative findings. The legislature finds and declares that the retirement benefit for certain public employees who are above age 55 and with 25 years of service provided for in this act is intended only to be temporary in nature for employees who are eligible to receive and qualify for the applicable benefit during the applicable time periods specified in this act. Further, nothing in this act shall be construed to create an expectation of a future or continuing retirement benefit for any public employee who is not eligible to receive and qualify for the retirement benefits herein during the applicable time periods.

§ 3. Definitions. As used in this act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "Retirement system" means the New York state and local employees' retirement system and the New York state teachers' retirement system.

(b) "Teachers' retirement system" means the New York state teachers' retirement system.

(c) "Participating employer" means an educational employer, the state-operated institutions of the state university of New York, and a community college operating under a program of the state university of New York, which participates in a retirement system as defined in this section, who employs members who hold positions represented by the recognized collective bargaining units affiliated with the New York state united teachers employee organization.

(d) "Educational employer" means a participating employer which is a school district, a board of cooperative educational services, a vocational education and extension board, an institution for the instruction of the deaf and of the blind as enumerated in section 4201 of the education law, or a school district as enumerated in section 1 of chapter 566 of the laws of 1967, as amended; who employ members who hold positions represented by the recognized collective bargaining units affiliated with the New York state united teachers employee organization who participate in the New York state teachers' retirement system and the New York state and local employees' retirement system.

(e) "Eligible employee" means a person who is a member of a retirement system, who is an employee of a participating employer and who holds a position represented by the recognized collective bargaining units affiliated with the New York state united teachers employee organization as certified by his or her employer, who makes an election under section five of this act.

(f) "Active service" means service while being paid on the payroll, provided that (i) a leave of absence with pay shall be deemed active service; (ii) other approved leave without pay not to exceed twelve weeks from February 1, 2010 and the commencement of the designated open period; and (iii) the period of time subsequent to the June 2010 school term and on or before August 31, 2010 for a teacher (or other employee as defined in this act, employed on a school-year basis) who is otherwise in active service on the effective date of this act shall be deemed active service.

(g) "Open period" means the period beginning with the commencement date as defined in subdivision (h) of this section; provided, however, for the state-operated institutions of the state university of New York and community colleges, the open period shall be as specified by the appropriate board of trustees, and shall be ninety days in length; provided however that there shall be only one such open period and any such period shall not extend beyond August 31, 2010 for educational employers and shall not extend beyond December 31, 2010 for the state-operated institutions of the state university of New York and community colleges. For the purposes of retirement pursuant to this act, a service retirement application must be filed with the appropriate retirement system not less than fourteen days prior to the effective date of the retirement, unless a shorter time period is permitted under law.

(h) "Commencement date" means the first day the retirement benefit mandated by this act shall be made available, which shall mean a date or dates on or after the effective date of this act to be determined by a participating employer; provided, however, that for an educational employer, the commencement date shall be June 1, 2010.

§ 4. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any eligible employee serving in an eligible title who (a) has been continuously in the active service of a participating employer from February 1, 2010 to the date immediately prior to the commencement date of the applicable open period, (b) files an application for service retirement that is effective during the open period, and (c) is otherwise eligible for a service retirement as of the effective date of the application for retirement shall be entitled to the retirement benefit provided in section five of this act.

§ 5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an eligible employee who is: (a) a member of a retirement system, and (b) entitled to a retirement benefit pursuant to section four of this act may retire during the open period without the reduction of his or her retirement benefit that would otherwise be imposed by article 11 or 15 of the retirement and social security law if he or she has attained the age of 55 and has completed at least 25 or more years of creditable service. An eligible employee who is covered by the provisions of articles 11 and 15 of the retirement and social security law shall retire under the provisions of articles 11 and 15 of the retirement and social security law.
§ 6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this act shall have no impact on retirement incentives, options or inducements offered as part of a contractual agreement between an eligible employee and eligible employer which were negotiated prior to the effective date of this act.
§ 7. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such invalid provisions had not been included herein.
§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately.
FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill would eliminate the early retirement reductions for Tier 2, 3 and 4 members of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (ERS) and the New York State Teachers' Retirement System who are employed by educational institutions, whose positions are represented by NYSUT and who retire within their employer's 90 day open election period, which may not extend beyond December 31, 2010.
The exact number of members who would be affected by this cannot be readily determined.
If this bill is enacted, insofar as it affects the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (ERS), the additional cost for each member who receives these benefits will vary depending on the member's age, years of service, plans and final average salary. We estimate that the per-member cost could average approximately 110% of a member's final average salary. We anticipate that the number of participants will be less than 1000. For every 100 participants, we estimate that there would be an increase in the annual contributions of approximately $260,000 to the State of New York and $360,000 to the participating employers in the ERS.
This estimate, dated January 8, 2010, and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-66, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System.
FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill would provide a temporary retirement incentive during fiscal year 2010-2011. This incentive would permit eligible Tier 2, 3 and 4 members to retire without early retirement reductions upon attainment of at least age 55 with 25 years of service. Currently 30 years of service are required in order to retire without reduction. In order to receive this benefit, a member must retire during the designated 90-day open period, beginning on June 1, 2010 for educational employers. In order to be eligible, a member must be an employee of a participating employer and hold a position represented by one of the recognized collective bargaining units affiliated with the New York State United Teachers (NYSUT) as certified by his or her employer. The cost of this incentive will be socialized across all employers.

The annual cost to the employers of members of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System for this benefit is estimated to be $13.2 million or .09% of payroll if this bill is enacted.

The source of this estimate is Fiscal Note 2010-11 dated February 24, 2010 prepared by the Actuary of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System and is intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session.

PART TT

Section 1. The retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new section 19-a to read as follows:

§ 19-a. Employer contributions for the two thousand ten - two thousand eleven fiscal year and subsequent fiscal years. a. In addition to the definitions in section two of this article, when used in this section:

(1) "Amortizing employer" shall mean an employer that elects to amortize a portion of the employer's annual bill pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision d of this section for the two thousand ten - two thousand eleven fiscal year, or any subsequent fiscal year, regardless of whether the employer has subsequently paid in full all such amortized amounts.
(2) "Amount eligible for amortization" for a given fiscal year shall mean the amount by which an employer's actuarial contribution for such fiscal year exceeds the employer's graded contribution for the same fiscal year, less any amount from the employer contribution reserve fund applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for the fiscal year, provided, however, that if the employer's average actuarial contribution rate for the fiscal year is less than nine and one-half percent, then the amount eligible for amortization shall be zero.

(4) "Employer's annual bill" shall mean for a given fiscal year the sum of the following amounts: (i) an employer's normal contributions for the fiscal year determined in accordance with paragraph one of subdivision b of section twenty-three of this article and the comprehensive structural reform program implemented pursuant to subdivision b of section twenty-three-a of this article, including the provisions of subdivision b of section twenty-three-a of this article relating to the required minimum annual contribution of four and one-half percent of pensionable salaries; (ii) the employer's deficiency contributions and administration contributions for the fiscal year determined in accordance with paragraphs two and three of subdivision b of section twenty-three of this article; and (iii) any payments by the employer due in the fiscal year on account of group term life insurance, adjustments relating to prior fiscal years' obligations, retirement incentives and prior amortizations.

(5) "Employer's average actuarial contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean an employer's actuarial contribution for such fiscal year divided by the employer's projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(6) "Employer contribution reserve fund" or "fund" shall mean the employer contribution reserve fund established pursuant to subdivision e of this section.

(7) "Employer's graded contribution" for a given fiscal year shall mean the amount determined by applying the system graded contribution rate for such fiscal year to an employer's projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(8) "Employer's graded payment" for a given fiscal year shall mean the amount by which an employer's graded contribution for such fiscal year exceeds the employer's actuarial contribution for the same fiscal year.

(9) "Prior amortization" shall mean with respect to a given fiscal year any payment due in such fiscal year on account of an obligation from a prior fiscal year that an employer is permitted to pay to the retirement system on an amortized basis.

(10) "System average actuarial contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean the sum of all employers' actuarial contributions for such fiscal year divided by the sum of all employers' projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(11) "System graded contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean the graded contribution rate for the retirement system as a whole determined for such fiscal year pursuant to subdivision c of this section.

b. Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter or any other law to the contrary, the comptroller, in his or her discretion, shall have authority to implement this section. If the comptroller elects to implement this section, the provisions of this section shall apply to the payment of employer contributions for the fiscal year commencing on April first, two thousand ten, and for subsequent fiscal years.

c. For each fiscal year to which the provisions of this section apply, the comptroller shall determine a graded contribution rate for the retirement system as a whole in the manner provided in this subdivision.

(1) For the two thousand ten - two thousand eleven fiscal year the system graded contribution rate shall be nine and one-half percent.

(2) For the two thousand eleven - two thousand twelve fiscal year, and subsequent fiscal years, system graded contribution rates shall be determined as follows:

(i) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is at least nine and one-half percent and exceeds the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by more than one percentage point, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year plus one percentage point, provided, however, that in no event shall the system graded contribution rate be less than nine and one-half percent;

(ii) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is at least nine and one-half percent and either equals the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year or exceeds the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by one percentage point or less, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system average actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year, provided, however, that in no event shall the system graded contribution rate be less than nine and one-half percent;

(iii) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is less than nine and one-half percent and greater than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year;

(iv) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is smaller than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by more than one percentage point, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year minus one percentage point; and

(v) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year either equals the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year or is smaller than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by one percentage point or less, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year.

d. (i) For any given fiscal year for which an employer's average actuarial contribution rate exceeds the system graded contribution rate, the employer shall pay to the retirement system an amount equal to the employer's annual bill for such year or, in lieu of paying the entire annual bill, the employer may pay an amount equal to the employer's annual bill less all or a portion of the employer's amount eligible for amortization for the fiscal year. If in accordance with this paragraph the employer's payment to the retirement system is less than the entire amount of the employer's annual bill, then the difference between the employer's annual bill, and the amount actually paid by the employer to the retirement system exclusive of any amount from the employer contribution reserve fund applied to reduce the employer's payment, shall be the amount amortized for the fiscal year. The amount amortized for the fiscal year shall be paid to the retirement system in equal annual installments over a ten-year period, with interest on the unpaid balance at a rate determined by the comptroller which approximates a market rate of return on taxable fixed rate securities with similar terms issued by comparable issuers, and with the first installment due in the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

(2) For any given fiscal year for which the system graded contribution rate equals or exceeds an amortizing employer's average actuarial contribution rate, the amortizing employer shall pay to the retirement system an amount equal to the employer's annual bill for such year plus the employer's graded payment for the fiscal year.

(i) If the amortizing employer's annual bill for the fiscal year does not include an amount attributable to a prior amortization, then the employer's graded payment shall be paid into the employer contribution reserve fund provided for in subdivision e of this section and credited to an account within such fund established for the employer.

(ii) If the amortizing employer's annual bill for the fiscal year includes an amount attributable to a prior amortization, the employer's graded payment shall be used first to eliminate the amount of the employer's unpaid prior amortization balances in chronological order starting with the oldest prior amortization balance. When in any fiscal year the employer's graded payment eliminates all balances owed on the employer's prior amortizations, any remaining portion of the employer's graded payment for such fiscal year, and the employer's graded payment in any subsequent fiscal year in which the amortizing employer has no unpaid prior amortizations, shall be paid into the employer contribution reserve fund provided for in subdivision e of this section and credited to an account within such fund established for the employer.

(3) Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed as prohibiting an employer from pre-paying any prior amortization.

e. (1) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, there shall be maintained separate and apart from the other funds of the retirement system an employer contribution reserve fund, the assets of which shall not be used or invested in a manner contrary to the provisions of this subdivision. The fund shall consist of all employer contributions required to be deposited into the fund pursuant to subdivision d of this section. Within such fund there shall be a separate account for each employer making such contributions and payments.

(2) For any given fiscal year for which (i) the system actuarial contribution rate exceeds nine and one-half percent of payroll, and (ii) an employer's average actuarial contribution rate exceeds the system graded contribution rate, the balance in the employer's account within such fund shall be applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for such fiscal year in an amount not to exceed the difference between the employer's actuarial contribution and the employer's graded contribution for the fiscal year.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph two of this subdivision, if at the close of any given fiscal year the balance of an employer's account within the fund exceeds one hundred percent of the employer's payroll for such fiscal year, the excess shall be applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for the next succeeding fiscal year.
(4) The assets of the fund shall be invested in only the following types of investments:

(i) obligations of the United States of America or in obligations guaranteed by agencies of the United States of America where the payment of principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States of America or in obligations of the state of New York;

(ii) general obligation bonds and notes of any state other than this state, provided that such bonds and notes receive the highest rating of at least one independent rating agency;

(iii) obligations of, or instruments issued by or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, any agency or instrumentality of the United States acting pursuant to a grant of authority from the congress of the United States, including, but not limited to, any federal home loan bank or banks, the Tennessee valley authority, the federal national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation and the United States postal service;

(iv) certificate of deposits that are fully secured by the issuer by depositing with the comptroller direct or indirect obligations of the United States or its agencies or a letter of credit issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank; and

(v) obligations of any corporation organized under the laws of any state in the United States maturing within two hundred seventy days provided that such obligations receive the highest rating of two independent rating services designated by the comptroller.

(5) At the close of each fiscal year, the amount of interest and earnings attributable to each employer’s account shall be computed by the actuary and certified to the comptroller, who shall thereupon credit each employer’s account in accordance therewith.

§ 2. The opening paragraph and paragraph 1 of subdivision b of section 23 of the retirement and social security law, as amended by chapter 210 of the laws of 1990 and clause (ii) of subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 as amended by chapter 947 of the laws of 1990, are amended to read as follows:

Each employer shall make [two] three contributions annually. They shall be known as the normal contribution [as defined in subparagraph (a) of paragraph one of this subdivision and], the deficiency contribution [as defined in paragraph two of this subdivision], and the administration contribution. The rates thereof shall be computed by the actuary.

1. (a) Normal contribution. The rate of such contribution shall be applied to the members' annual compensation as of the end of the fiscal year. Such rate shall be a uniform and constant rate per centum of annual compensation [when determined by dividing the valuation costs by the payroll amount used in the valuation. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the valuation costs consist of:

(i) the normal cost, which shall be the actuarial present value of the employer provided benefits accrued during the year, based upon the projected future salary on which benefits are expected to be paid, by prorating each employee’s projected benefit over his or her total years of service;
(ii) the supplemental cost, which shall be the cost of providing supplemental retirement allowance payments pursuant to subdivision e of section seventy-eight of this article;

(iii) the administrative cost, which shall be the expenses of the retirement system pursuant to paragraph three of subdivision b of this section;

(iv) the prior service cost, which shall be equal to the interest on the unfunded actuarial accrued liability or surplus plus a portion of the unfunded liability or surplus, said portion to be equal to the unfunded liability or surplus divided by the average future years of service of active employees; and

(v) the annual amortization cost, which shall be equal to the amount of the annual amortization payment required to be paid into the system's pension accumulation fund under sections sixteen-a and seventeen-a of this article.

Provided, however, in no event shall the amount of contribution be less than zero.

(b) The comptroller is authorized to make appropriate adjustments for those participating employers that have paid an amount in excess of the minimum annual amortization payment required by section seventeen-a of this article. The excess payment shall accumulate with interest earned at the rate used in the annual actuarial valuation and be applied against future pension contribution requirements to insure equitable treatment of all participating employers.

(c) In any year in which no contribution is required to the pension accumulation fund, any adjustment reducing a prior year's contribution resulting from the enactment of section sixteen-b of this chapter, shall be credited with interest earned at the rate used in the annual actuarial valuation and applied against future pension contributions. When applied to the compensation of the average new entrant during the remaining period of his or her membership, such rate shall be computed to be sufficient to provide all the benefits, other than those on account of prior service, granted by this article and which are payable from funds contributed to the pension accumulation fund. Such rate shall be computed each year by means of an actuarial valuation as prescribed in section eleven of this [chapter] article and as authorized by section twenty-three-a of this title.

§ 3. The retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new section 319-a to read as follows:

(1) "Amortizing employer" shall mean an employer that elects to amortize a portion of the employer's annual bill pursuant to paragraph one of subdivision d of this section for the two thousand ten - two thousand eleven fiscal year, or any subsequent fiscal year, regardless of whether the employer has subsequently paid in full all such amortized amounts.

(2) "Amount eligible for amortization" for a given fiscal year shall mean the amount by which an employer's actuarial contribution for such fiscal year exceeds the employer's graded contribution for the same fiscal year, less any amount from the employer contribution reserve fund applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for the fiscal year, provided, however, that if the employer's average actuarial contribution rate for the fiscal year is less than seventeen and one-half percent, then the amount eligible for amortization shall be zero.

(3) "Employer's actuarial contribution" for a given fiscal year shall mean an employer's annual bill for such fiscal year exclusive of the deficiency contributions and payments on account of group term life insurance, adjustments relating to prior fiscal years' obligations, retirement incentives and prior amortizations.

(5) "Employer's average actuarial contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean an employer's actuarial contribution for such fiscal year divided by the employer's projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(6) "Employer contribution reserve fund" or "fund" shall mean the employer contribution reserve fund established pursuant to subdivision e of this section.

(7) "Employer's graded contribution" for a given fiscal year shall mean the amount determined by applying the employer's graded contribution rate for such fiscal year to an employer's projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(8) "Employer's graded contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean (i) the system graded contribution rate for such fiscal year, or (ii) in the case of an individual employer for which a graded contribution rate has been determined pursuant to paragraph three of subdivision c of this section, the graded contribution rate for the individual employer for such fiscal year.

(11) "System average actuarial contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean the sum of all employers' actuarial contributions for such fiscal year, divided by the sum of all employers' projected payroll for the same fiscal year.

(12) "System graded contribution rate" for a given fiscal year shall mean the graded contribution rate for the retirement system as a whole determined for such fiscal year pursuant to paragraph one or two of subdivision c of this section.
b. Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter or any other law to the contrary, the comptroller, in his or her discretion, shall have authority to implement this section. If the comptroller elects to implement this section, the provisions of this section shall apply to the payment of employer contributions for the fiscal year commencing on April first, two thousand ten, and for subsequent fiscal years.
c. For each fiscal year to which the provisions of this section apply, the comptroller shall determine a graded contribution rate for the retirement system as a whole in the manner provided in this subdivision.
(1) For the two thousand ten - two thousand eleven fiscal year the system graded contribution rate shall be seventeen and one-half percent.
(2) For the two thousand eleven - two thousand twelve fiscal year, and subsequent fiscal years, system graded contribution rates shall be determined as follows:
(i) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is at least seventeen and one-half percent and exceeds the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by more than one percentage point, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year plus one percentage point, provided however, that in no event shall the system graded contribution rate be less than seventeen and one-half percent;
(ii) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is at least seventeen and one-half percent and either equals
the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year or exceeds the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by one percentage point or less, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system average actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year, provided, however, that in no event shall the system graded contribution rate be less than seventeen and one-half percent;
(iii) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is less than seventeen and one-half percent and greater than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year;
(iv) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year is smaller than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by more than one percentage point, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year minus one percentage point; and
(v) if the system average actuarial contribution rate for a given fiscal year either equals the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year or is smaller than the system graded contribution rate for the immediately preceding fiscal year by one percentage point or less, then the system graded contribution rate for the given fiscal year shall equal the system actuarial contribution rate for such fiscal year.
(3) The comptroller shall determine a graded contribution rate for individual employers as provided in this paragraph.
(i) if the actuarial contribution rate for an employer for a given fiscal year is equal to or greater than fifty percent of the system actuarial contribution rate for such year, and less than or equal to seventy-five percent of such system actuarial contribution rate, then the graded contribution rate for the employer for the fiscal year shall
1. If the actuarial contribution rate for an employer for a given fiscal year is less than fifty percent of the system actuarial contribution rate for such year, then the graded contribution rate for the employer for the fiscal year shall equal seventy-five percent of the system graded contribution rate for such year.

(ii) If the actuarial contribution rate for an employer for a given fiscal year is less than fifty percent of the system actuarial contribution rate for such year, then the graded contribution rate for the employer for the fiscal year shall equal seventy-five percent of the system graded contribution rate for such year.

d. (1) For any given fiscal year for which an employer’s average actuarial contribution rate exceeds the graded contribution rate, the employer shall pay to the retirement system an amount equal to the employer’s annual bill for such year or, in lieu of paying the entire annual bill, the employer may pay an amount equal to the employer’s annual bill less all or a portion of the employer’s amount eligible for amortization for the fiscal year. If in accordance with this paragraph the employer’s payment to the retirement system is less than the entire amount of the employer’s annual bill, then the difference between the employer’s annual bill, and the amount actually paid by the employer to the retirement system exclusive of any amount from the employer contribution reserve fund applied to reduce the employer’s payment, shall be the amount amortized for the fiscal year. The amount amortized for the fiscal year shall be paid to the retirement system in equal annual installments over a ten-year period, with interest on the unpaid balance at a rate determined by the comptroller which approximates a market rate of return on taxable fixed rate securities with similar terms issued by comparable issuers, and with the first installment due in the immediately succeeding fiscal year.

(2) For any given fiscal year for which the system graded contribution rate equals or exceeds an amortizing employer’s average actuarial contribution rate, the amortizing employer shall pay to the retirement system an amount equal to the employer’s annual bill for such year plus the employer’s graded payment for the fiscal year.

(i) If the amortizing employer’s annual bill for the fiscal year does not include an amount attributable to a prior amortization, then the employer’s graded payment shall be paid into the employer contribution reserve fund provided for in subdivision e of this section and credited to an account within such fund established for the employer.

(ii) If the amortizing employer’s annual bill for the fiscal year includes an amount attributable to a prior amortization, the employer’s graded payment shall be used first to eliminate the amount of the employer’s unpaid prior amortization balances in chronological order starting with oldest prior amortization balance. When in any fiscal year the employer’s graded payment eliminates all balances owed on the employer’s prior amortizations, any remaining portion of the employer’s graded payment for such fiscal year, and the employer’s graded payment in any subsequent fiscal year in which the amortizing employer has no unpaid prior amortizations, shall be paid into the employer contribution reserve fund provided for in subdivision e of this section and credited to an account within such fund established for the employer.

(3) Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed as prohibiting an employer from pre-paying any prior amortization.

e. (1) Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, there shall be maintained separate and apart from the other funds of the retirement system an employer contribution reserve fund, the assets of which shall not be used or invested in a manner contrary to the provisions of this subdivision. The fund shall consist of all employer contributions required to be deposited into the fund pursuant to subdivision d of this section.
Within such fund there shall be a separate account for each employer making such contributions and payments.

(2) For any given fiscal year for which (i) the system actuarial contribution rate exceeds seventeen and one-half percent of payroll, and (ii) for which an employer's average actuarial contribution rate exceeds the graded contribution rate, the balance in the employer's account within such fund shall be applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for such fiscal year in an amount not to exceed the difference between the employer's actuarial contribution and the employer's graded contribution for the fiscal year.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph two of this subdivision, if at the close of any given fiscal year the balance of an employer's account within the fund exceeds one hundred percent of the employer's payroll for such fiscal year, the excess shall be applied to reduce the employer's payment to the retirement system for the next succeeding fiscal year.

(4) The assets of the fund shall be invested in only the following types of investments:
   (i) obligations of the United States of America or in obligations guaranteed by agencies of the United States of America where the payment of principal and interest are guaranteed by the United States of America or in obligations of the state of New York;
   (ii) general obligation bonds and notes of any state other than this state, provided that such bonds and notes receive the highest rating of at least one independent rating agency;

   (iv) certificate of deposits that are fully secured by the issuer by depositing with the comptroller direct or indirect obligations of the United States or its agencies or a letter of credit issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank; and
   (v) obligations of any corporation organized under the laws of any state in the United States maturing within two hundred seventy days provided that such obligations receive the highest rating of two independent rating services designated by the comptroller.

(5) At the close of each fiscal year, the amount of interest and earnings attributable to each employer's account shall be computed by the actuary and certified to the comptroller, who shall thereupon credit each employer's account in accordance therewith.

§ 4. The opening paragraph and paragraph 1 of subdivision b of section 323 of the retirement and social security law, as amended by chapter 210 of the laws of 1990 and clause (ii) of subparagraph (a) of paragraph 1 as amended by chapter 947 of the laws of 1990, are amended to read as follows:
Each employer shall make [two] three contributions annually. They shall be known as the normal contribution [as defined in subparagraph (a) of paragraph one of this subdivision and] the deficiency contribution [as defined in paragraph two of this subdivision], and the administration contribution. The rates thereof shall be computed by the actuary.

1. (a) Normal contribution. The rate of such contribution shall be applied to the members' annual compensation as of the end of the fiscal year. Such rate shall be a uniform and constant rate per centum of annual compensation [when determined by dividing the valuation costs by the payroll amount used in the valuation. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the valuation costs consist of:

(i) the normal cost, which shall be the actuarial present value of the employer provided benefits accrued during the year, based upon the projected future salary on which benefits are expected to be paid, by prorating each employee's projected benefit over his or her total years of service;

(ii) the supplemental cost, which shall be the cost of providing supplemental retirement allowance payments pursuant to subdivision e of section three hundred seventy-eight of this article;

(iii) the administrative cost, which shall be the expenses of the retirement system pursuant to paragraph three of subdivision b of this section;

(iv) the prior service cost, which shall be equal to the interest on the unfunded actuarial accrued liability or surplus plus a portion of the unfunded liability or surplus, said portion to be equal to the unfunded liability or surplus divided by the average future years of service of active employees; and

(v) the annual amortization cost, which shall be equal to the amount of the annual amortization payment required to be paid into the system's pension accumulation fund under section three hundred sixteen a and three hundred seventeen-a of this article.

Provided, however, in no event shall the amount of contribution cost be less than zero.

(b) The comptroller is authorized to make appropriate adjustments for those participating employers that have paid an amount in excess of the minimum annual amortization payment required by section three hundred seventeen-a of this article. The excess payment shall accumulate with interest earned at the rate used in the annual actuarial valuation and be applied against future pension contribution requirements to insure equitable treatment of all participating employers.

(c) In any year in which no contribution is required to the pension accumulation fund, any adjustment reducing a prior year's contribution resulting from the enactment of section three hundred sixteen-b of this chapter, shall be credited with interest earned at the rate used in the annual actuarial valuation and applied against future pension contributions]. When applied to the compensation of the average new entrant during the remaining period of his or her membership, such rate shall be computed to be sufficient to provide all the benefits, other than those on account of prior service, granted by this article and which are payable from funds contributed to the pension accumulation fund.

Such rate shall be computed each year by means of an actuarial valuation as prescribed in section three hundred eleven of this [chapter] article and as authorized by section three hundred twenty-three-a of this title.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill would amend the Retirement and Social Security Law as it to employer bills of the New York State and Local Employees Retirement System (ERS) and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System (PFRS).

This bill puts in place a program that allows ERS and PFRS employers, if they choose to participate, to amortize a portion of their bill with their respective Retirement System when employer contributions rates rise above certain levels. If they do this, then when rates are falling below certain levels and they have paid off all outstanding amortizations, the employer will be required to pay additional monies into a reserve fund that will be used when employer contribution rates begin to rise in the future.

If this bill is enacted, we estimate that there would be a small administrative cost to the System to revise the current billing processes.

This estimate, dated February 2, 2010, and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-104, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

§ 2. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such invalid provisions had not been included herein.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately provided, however, that the applicable effective date of Parts A through YY of this act shall be as specifically set forth in the last section of such Parts.
AN ACT to provide a temporary retirement incentive for certain public employees (Part A); and to provide an age 55/25 years temporary retirement incentive for certain public employees (Part B)

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. This act enacts into law components of legislation that would enable public employers to offer a temporary retirement incentive to their employees, as well as to provide an age 55/25 years temporary incentive for certain public employees. Each component is wholly contained within a Part identified as Parts A and B. The effective date for each particular provision contained within such Part is set forth in the last section of such part. Any provision in any section contained within a Part, including the effective date of the Part, which makes reference to a section "of this act", when used in connection with that particular component, shall be deemed to mean and refer to the corresponding section of the Part in which it is found, unless noted otherwise. The benefits of this act shall not be applicable to anyone who first became a member of a public retirement system of the state on or after January first, two thousand ten.

§ 2. Legislative findings. The legislature finds and declares that the retirement benefits provided for in this act are designed to achieve cost-savings for public employers and to avoid layoffs of public employees in this time of fiscal need. Therefore, the retirement incentive benefit provided for in Part A of this act and the age 55/25 years retirement benefit provided for in Part B of this act are intended only to be temporary in nature for employees who are eligible to receive and qualify for the applicable benefit during the applicable time periods specified within each Part. Further, nothing in this act shall be construed to create an expectation of a future or continuing retirement benefit for any public employee who is not eligible to receive and qualify for the retirement benefits in this act during the applicable time periods.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [−] is old law to be omitted.

date of each open period applicable to employees of the executive branch or of a state employer prior to the commencement date.
§ 2. The determination of whether a title shall be considered eligible shall consider whether the reduction of a specific number of positions within a title would unacceptably:
a. Directly result in a reduction of the level of service required or mandated to protect and care for clients of the state or a participating employer or to assure public health and safety;
b. Endanger the health or safety of employees of the state or a participating employer; or
c. Clearly result in a loss of significant revenue to the state or a participating employer or result in substantially increased overtime or contractual costs. However, upon the determination of the director of state operations, with respect to employees of the executive branch of a state employer, any titles may be determined eligible if the vacancies created can be controlled by the use of transfer or reassignment provisions of the civil service law, rules or regulations or other deployment of state employees.
§ 3. a. Eligibility for inclusion in the retirement incentive provided by section six of this act shall be determined: (a) by seniority: for participating employers and for state employers described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of subdivision d of section one of this act, other than for college faculty; seniority shall mean the date of

of the position or the status of the incumbent; (b) by seniority, as applicable for the unified court system; (c) for state employers described in paragraphs (h), (i) and (j) of subdivision d of section one of this act as determined by the person or persons who make the election act shall provide written notice to his or her employer on or before the twenty-first day preceding the end of the open period, or before the end of the applicable open period as such open period is determined by the director of state operations. Failure to provide such written notice shall render the employee ineligible for the retirement incentive provided by this act.

§ 4. a. On or before August 31, 2010, a participating employer or a state employer described in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of subdivision d of section one of this act may elect to provide its employees the retirement incentive authorized by this act by (a) the enactment of a local law or (b) in the case of a participating employer which is not so empowered to act by local law or a state employer described in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of subdivision d of section one of this act, by the adoption of a resolution of its governing body; provided however, no local law or resolution enacted pursuant
A. 11144

1 to this section shall in any manner supersede any local charter,
2 provided further, that for an educational employer such election must be 3 made by July 30, 2010. The local law or resolution shall specify the 4 commencement date of the program and the length of the open period. For 5 a community college operating under the program of state university of 6 New York, such election shall be made by the board of trustees of such 7 community college subject to the approval of its sponsor. A copy of such 8 law or resolution shall be filed with the appropriate retirement system 9 or systems, and, if applicable, on forms provided by such system. The 10 local law or resolution shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the 11 chief executive officer or other comparable official certifying to the 12 information contained in subdivision b of this section.

13 b. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the benefits provided 14 by this act shall not be made available to any person who (a) has 15 received any retirement incentive authorized by any provision of state
16 law, or (b) who receives, has received or is eligible to receive a 17 payment in a lump sum or in another form from a retirement incentive 18 pursuant to the provisions of a collective bargaining agreement or by 19 other arrangement with his or her employer, unless such person files a 20 written statement with his or her employer, a copy of which shall be 21 forwarded to the appropriate retirement system, that he or she agrees to 22 waive any right to such payment. A participating employer who makes an 23 election pursuant to this section and who offers or has offered a 24 retirement incentive pursuant to the provisions of a collective bargain-
25 ing agreement or by other arrangement shall prepare, and file with each 26 retirement system, a list containing the names and social security 27 numbers of all persons described in this subdivision. A participating 28 employer is authorized to exempt persons in its employ from the 29 provisions of paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Such exemption shall be 30 made part of the election made pursuant to this section; provided, 31 however, that such exemption shall not allow any employee who retires
32 under the provisions of chapter 45 of the laws of 2010 to receive a 33 retirement incentive authorized by this act.

34 c. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act to the contrary, 35 the mayor of the city of New York may declare employees of the community
36 colleges of the city university of New York ineligible for the retire-37 ment incentive provided by this act by filing such notification with the 38 chancellor of the city university of New York, with copies to the chair 39 of the senate finance committee, the chair of the assembly ways and 40 means committee and the director of the budget, in writing, no later 41 than the thirtieth day next succeeding the effective date of this act.

§ 5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any eligible employee 43 serving in an eligible title who:
44 a. has been continuously in the active service of a state employer or 45 of a participating employer from February 1, 2010 to the date immediate-46 ly prior to the commencement date of the applicable open period; 47 b. files an application for service retirement (or files the appropri-
48 ate application and authorization form with the optional retirement 49 program and a duly acknowledged retirement incentive form for such 50 program with the appropriate personnel office) that is effective during 51 the open period; and 52 c. is otherwise eligible for a service retirement as of the effective 53 date of the application for retirement shall be entitled to the retire-54 ment incentive provided in section six of this act. If not otherwise 55 eligible for a service retirement, the following person shall be deemed 56 to satisfy the eligibility condition of this section: a person who is at least age fifty with ten or more years service as of the effective date of retirement (other than a member of a retirement plan which provides for half-pay pension upon completion of twenty-five years or less service without regard to age); a member of a retirement plan which provides for half-pay pension upon completion of twenty-five years of service without regard to age who has not accrued, excluding additional credit granted pursuant to this act, the minimum number of years of service required to retire with an allowance equal to fifty percent of final average salary under such plan, but has, with the inclusion of the additional credit provided under this act, accrued such number of years of credit; or a participant in an optional retirement plan at least fifty years of age with ten years of service on an annual salary basis with his or her employer as of the date of retirement.

§ 6. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an eligible employee serving in an eligible title who is:

a. A member of a retirement system and who is entitled to a retirement incentive pursuant to section five of this act shall receive a retirement incentive of one-twelfth of a year of additional retirement credit for each year of pension service credited as of the date of retirement, up to a maximum of three years of retirement service credit at the time of retirement, provided, however, that service credit provided under the provisions of sections 902 and 911 of the retirement and social security law shall not be included when calculating the additional retirement credit awarded pursuant to this act. For the New York city teachers' retirement system, the New York city employees' retirement system and the New York city board of education retirement system such incentive shall be available for all purposes, including fulfilling the qualifying service requirements of plan A and C, if applicable.

An eligible employee who is covered by the provisions of article 15 of the retirement and social security law shall retire under the provisions of article 15 of the retirement and social security law. The amount of such benefit for an eligible employee who is covered by article 15 of the retirement and social security law and retires under the provisions of this section (other than a member with thirty or more years of service in the New York state and local employees' retirement system or a teachers' retirement system) shall be reduced by six percent for each of the first two years by which retirement precedes age sixty-two, plus a further reduction of three percent for each year by which retirement precedes age sixty, provided, however, the foregoing reductions shall not apply: (i) in any case where an eligible employee can retire after twenty-five years of service with immediate payability prior to the age of sixty-two pursuant to section 604-b of the retirement and social security law or (ii) to any time period subsequent to the point at which an eligible employee can retire for service without reduction of his or her service retirement allowance pursuant to article 16 of the retirement and social security law. Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years. The amount of such benefit for an eligible employee with thirty or more years of service who is a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system or a teachers' retirement system or an eligible employee who is a participant in the optional twenty-five year early retirement program for certain New York city members governed by section 604-c of the retirement and social security law, as added by chapter 96 of the laws of 1995 or a twenty-five year participant in the age fifty-five retirement program governed by section 604-i of the retirement and social security law, with twenty-five or more years of service and who is covered by article 15 of the retirement and social security law shall be reduced by five percent for each year by which retirement pursuant to this section precedes age fifty-five. The amount of such benefit for an eligible New York city employee with five or more years of service and who is a participant in the age fifty-seven retirement program governed by section 604-d of the retirement and social security law shall be reduced by one-thirtieth for the first two years by which retirement precedes age fifty-seven plus a further reduction of one-twentieth for each year by which retirement precedes age fifty-five.
Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years. There shall be no reduction for an eligible New York city employee in a physically taxing position with twenty-five or more years of service and who is a particient (i) in the optional twenty-five year early retirement program for certain members governed by section 604-c of the retirement and social security law, as added by chapter 96 of the laws of 1995, or (ii) in the age fifty-seven retirement program governed by section 604-d of the retirement and social security law.

An eligible employee serving in an eligible title who is covered by article 11 of the retirement and social security law shall retire under the provisions of such article. The amount of such benefit for an eligible employee covered by article 11 of the retirement and social security law other than a member of a teachers' retirement system or a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system with thirty or more years of service, a participant in the optional age fifty-five improved benefit retirement program for certain New York city employees governed by section 445-d of the retirement and social security law, as added by chapter 96 of the laws of 1995, with twenty-five or more years of service, or a participant in the optional age fifty-five retirement program for New York city teachers and certain other members governed by section 445-i of the retirement and social security law, with twenty-five or more years of service, shall be reduced by six percent for each of the first two years by which retirement pursuant to this section precedes age sixty-two, plus a further reduction of three percent for each year by which retirement pursuant to this section precedes age sixty, provided, however, the foregoing reductions shall not apply: (i)
in any case where an eligible employee can retire pursuant to a plan which permits retirement for service with immediate payability, exclusive of this act, prior to the age of fifty-five or (ii) to any time period subsequent to the point at which an eligible employee can retire
for service without reduction of his or her service retirement allowance pursuant to article 16 of the retirement and social security law. Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years. The amount of such benefit for an eligible employee who is a member of a teachers' retirement system or a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system with thirty or more years of service, a participant in the optional age fifty-five improved benefit retirement program for certain New York city employees governed by section 445-d of the retirement and social security law, as added by chapter 96 of the laws of 1995, with twenty-five or more years of service and who is covered by article 11 of the retirement and social security law shall be reduced by five percent for each year by which retirement pursuant to this section precedes age fifty-five. Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years. There shall be no reduction for an eligible New York city employee in a physically taxing position and who is a participant in the optional age fifty-five improved benefit retirement program for certain New York city employees governed by section 445-d of the retirement and social security law, as added by chapter 96 of the laws of 1995, with twenty-five or more years of service.
An eligible employee serving in an eligible title who is not covered by article 11 or 15 of the retirement and social security law shall retire under the provisions of the plan by which he or she is covered.
The amount of such benefit shall be reduced by five percent for each year by which retirement pursuant to this section precedes age fifty-five, provided, however, the foregoing reductions shall not apply: (i)
in any case where an eligible employee can retire pursuant to a plan which permits retirement for service with immediate payability, exclusive of this act, prior to the age of fifty-five or (ii) to any time period subsequent to the point at which an eligible employee can retire
for service without reduction of his or her service retirement allowance pursuant to article 16 of the retirement and social security law. Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years.
An eligible employee serving in an eligible title who participates in a retirement plan which provides for a retirement allowance equal to fifty percent of final average salary upon the completion of twenty-five years of service without regard to age and who is otherwise eligible to retire shall retire under the provisions of such plan. Such employee shall, at the time of retirement, be credited with one-twelfth of a year of additional retirement service credit for each year of service credited under such plan as of the date of retirement, up to a maximum of three years of retirement service credit, subject to the provisions of subdivision b of this section. If such employee has not accrued, excluding additional credit granted pursuant to this act, the minimum number of years of service required to retire with an allowance equal to fifty percent of final average salary under such plan, but has, with the inclusion of the additional credit provided under this act, accrued such number of years of credit, the benefit payable shall be the percentage of final average salary that would ordinarily be applicable to such individual upon retirement with such amount of credit (including incentive credit), reduced by five per centum per year for each year by which the number of years of service otherwise required to retire with an allowance equal to fifty percent of final average salary under such plan exceeds the amount of service credited to such employee under such plan at retirement (excluding the additional retirement incentive service credit provided pursuant to this act). Such reduction shall be prorated for partial years.
b. A participant in an optional retirement program who is entitled to a retirement incentive pursuant to section five of this act shall receive an additional employer contribution equal to an amount, which shall be calculated as follows: (one-twelfth for each year of service) multiplied by (fifteen percent) multiplied by (the employee's earnable annual salary rate in effect on March 1, 2010 or the effective date of this act if the employee retires prior to March 1, 2010), such amount not to exceed forty-five percent of such salary rate. Such contribution shall be made to the employee's retirement annuity under the optional retirement program up to the maximum contribution allowable under section 415 of the internal revenue code. Any contribution in excess of that limit shall be contributed by the employer to an internal revenue code section 403(b) contract on behalf of the employee to the extent it can be contributed on a before-tax basis under the maximum limits allowed under the internal revenue code. Contributions in excess of that amount shall be paid in cash to the participant in three equal installments during a twenty-four month period commencing on such eligible employee's effective date of retirement. Provided, however, if the employee is employed by the city university of New York and in the active service of such employer on October 1, 2010 or the effective date of this act if the employee retires prior to October 1, 2010, the employee's earnable annual salary rate shall be the annual salary rate in effect on such applicable date.

§ 7. a. An employee of a state employer, other than the city university of New York, who retires pursuant to this act may defer calculation of the value of accumulated sick leave credits, if any, and participation in the state health insurance plan.
b. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any termination pay or leave arising from accrued sick leave or accrued annual leave for an eligible employee who has elected the retirement incentive provided by this act and who is a member of the New York city teachers' retirement system employed by the board of education of the city of New York shall be paid in three equal installments during a twenty-four month period commencing on such eligible employee's effective date of retirement.
c. An employee of the city of New York or the city university of New York, as defined in subdivision 2 of section 6202 of the education law, who retires under the retirement incentive provided by this act, who is eligible for terminal leave pursuant to an applicable collective bargaining agreement or a personnel policy or rule or retirement leave pursuant to section 3107 of the education law or who has an accrued annual leave balance on the effective date of retirement shall be paid in three equal installments two months, fourteen months and twenty-four months following such eligible employee's effective date of retirement.

§ 8. a. With respect to employees of the executive branch of a state employer, any position, other than a position supported by special revenue funds, vacated as a result of an eligible employee in an eligible title receiving the retirement incentive provided by section six of this act shall be eliminated unless such position is identified by the director of state operations as one into which another state employee can be appointed, transferred or reassigned pursuant to the civil service law, rules or regulations, in which case the former position of the state employee so appointed, transferred or reassigned shall be eliminated.
b. The director of state operations shall direct the department of civil service to prepare a report designating the title, grade level, salary, and classification, according to appointing authority, (i) of each position which is eliminated pursuant to subdivision a of this section, (ii) of each position into which another state employee was appointed, transferred, or reassigned and the former position of such state employee, and (iii) of each position which is eliminated as a result of an appointment, transfer or reassignment referred to in paragraph (ii) of this subdivision. Such report shall be available no later than ninety days after the last date of the open period related to such positions.

§ 9. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of section eight of this act or any other provision of law:
a. A participating employer or a state employer described in paragraphs (b) through (e) of subdivision d of section one of this act shall not be required to eliminate the positions of eligible employees in eligible titles receiving the retirement incentive provided by section six of this act if such employer can demonstrate that it will achieve a compensation savings such that the total amount of base salary paid for the two-year period subsequent to the effective date of retirement for such eligible employees in eligible titles to those new hires, if any, who otherwise would not have been hired by such employer after the effective date of this act but for the retirement incentive provided herein shall be no more than one-half of the total amount of base salary that would have been paid to such eligible employees from their date of retirement for such two-year period. Each such employer shall make available its plans for achieving these savings.

b. The city of New York or the city university of New York, as defined in subdivision 2 of section 6202 of the education law, shall not be required to eliminate the positions of eligible employees in eligible titles receiving the retirement incentive provided by section six of this act if such participating employer can demonstrate that it will achieve a compensation or equivalent headcount savings such that the total amount of compensation including benefits paid for the two-year period subsequent to the effective date of retirement for such eligible employees in eligible titles to those new hires, if any, who otherwise would not have been hired by such employer after the effective date of this act but for the retirement incentive provided herein shall be no more than one-half of the total amount of base salary that would have been paid to such eligible employees from their date of retirement for such two-year period. For purposes of this subdivision, the "city of New York" shall mean the city of New York or a participating employer a majority of the members of whose governing body are: (a) appointed by the mayor of the city of New York or other citywide elected official, a borough president of the city of New York, or any combination thereof;
(b) designated by virtue of their city of New York office or position or their office or position with a participating employer whose governing board is described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision; or (c) appointed or designated by any combination of the foregoing. Each such employer shall make available its plans for achieving these savings.
c. To the extent any transfer of personnel between the state employer described in paragraph (a) of subdivision d of section one of this act and the state employer described in paragraph (b) of subdivision d of section one of this act occurs pursuant to a voluntary transfer of state personnel, or otherwise, the provisions of subdivision a of this section with respect to achieving savings shall be applicable. Nothing herein shall be construed to impair the authority of the director of state operations pursuant to subdivision g of section one or section two of this act.

§ 10. Nothing in this act shall be used to provide benefits that shall exceed the limits contained in section 415 of the internal revenue code.
Provided, however, any service retirement benefit which has been reduced because of section 415 of the internal revenue code shall be increased when (and consistent with) the dollar limits in section 415 of the internal revenue code are adjusted by the internal revenue service for cost of living increases. Such increases shall not increase the benefit in excess of the service retirement benefit otherwise payable.

§ 11. Any eligible employee who retires pursuant to the provisions of this act and enters or reenters public service as defined in subdivision e of section 210 of the retirement and social security law and joins or rejoins any public retirement system of the state as defined in subdivi-section six of this act, forfeit the additional benefit authorized by this act at the time of his or her subsequent retirement; or (b) subdivision b of section six of this act, repay to the state or participating employer such additional contribution together with the appropriate interest as determined by the state comptroller.

§ 12. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the service retirement benefit of a member of a retirement system is subject to a maximum retirement benefit, the additional benefit authorized by this act will be computed by multiplying the final average salary times the number of years of service credit granted by section six of this act times the benefit fraction of the plan under which such member retires.

§ 13. The provisions of section 430 of the retirement and social security law shall not apply to any benefit or benefit improvement provided by this act.

§ 14. The pension benefit costs of subdivision a of section six of this act shall be paid by employers as provided by applicable law for each retirement system covered by this act over a period not to exceed five years commencing in the state fiscal year ending March 31, 2012.

§ 15. Where an employee is eligible to receive the benefit authorized under section six and the retirement benefit provided for under section five of part B of the chapter of the laws of 2010 which added this part, such employee may elect a section under which he or she will participate. Any other provision of this act or any other law to the contrary notwithstanding, an employee eligible for the retirement benefit under chapter 45 of the laws of 2010 and otherwise eligible to receive the benefit provided under section six of this act shall not be eligible to receive the benefit authorized under section six of this act unless such employee elects to receive such benefit in lieu of the benefit under chapter 45 of the laws of 2010. In no event shall the benefits provided for in section six of this act be received by any employee in conjunction with the benefits of section five of part B of this act or the benefits of chapter 45 of the laws of 2010.

applicable, on forms provided by such system. The resolution or executive order in the case of the city of New York shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the chief executive officer or other comparable offi-

of the retirement and social security law if he or she has attained the age of fifty-five and has completed at least twenty-five or more years of creditable service. An eligible employee who is covered by the provisions of articles 11 and 15 of the retirement and social security law shall retire under the provisions of articles 11 and 15 of the retirement and social security law.
b. The director of state operations, the chief executive officer of the city of New York, or chief executive officer or governing board, as appropriate, of the participating employer may deny participation in the retirement benefit provided by subdivision a of this section if the director of state operations, the chief executive officer of New York city or the chief executive officer or governing board of the participating employer makes a determination that the employee holds a position that is deemed critical to the maintenance of public health and safety.
c. Where an employee is eligible for the retirement benefit under this section and the retirement incentive authorized pursuant to section six of part A of the chapter of the laws of 2010 which added this part, such employee shall elect a section under which he or she will participate.
The benefits provided by subdivision a of this section shall not be conditioned upon a state or participating employer making the benefits of section six of part A of this act available to employees in their employ. Further, the benefits provided by subdivision a of this section shall not be available in conjunction with the benefits of section six of part A of the chapter of the laws of 2010 which added this part.
d. The action of the director of state operations, the chief executive officer of the city of New York, or chief executive officer or governing board, as appropriate, of the participating employer in denying the retirement benefit provided for in subdivision a of this section to any individual shall be subject to review in the manner provided for in article 78 of the civil practice law and rules. Such action for review pursuant to article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules shall only be commenced by the individual that was denied the retirement benefit provided by subdivision a of this section.

e. After making any such determination under subdivision b of this section, the director of state operations, the chief executive officer of the city of New York and the chief executive officer or governing board, as appropriate, of the participating employer shall notify the appropriate retirement system or teachers' retirement system of its determination.

§ 6. The pension benefit costs of section five of this act shall be paid by employers as provided by applicable law for each retirement system covered by this act over a period not to exceed five years commencing in the state fiscal year ending March 31, 2012.

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

§ 3. Severability clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part of this act shall be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, section or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the legislature that this act would have been enacted even if such invalid provisions had not been included herein.

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that the applicable effective date of Parts A and B of this act shall be as specifically set forth in the last section of such Parts.

FISCAL NOTE. -- Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This bill would provide additional service credit (one-twelfth of a year for each year of non-sick leave, non-Article 19 service credited as of the date of retirement, up to a maximum of three years) for certain members of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System, New York State Teachers' Retirement System, New York City Teachers' Retirement System, New York City Board of Education and the New York City Employees' Retirement System. Further, for certain members who are not otherwise eligible for a service retirement benefit, this bill would provide the ability to retire with reductions. This benefit would be available to only targeted positions.

In addition, this bill would eliminate the early retirement reductions at 25 years of service instead of at 30 years of service for retirement during a specified 90 day period for Tier 2, 3 and 4 members of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System, New York State Teachers' Retirement System, New York City Teachers' Retirement System, New York City Board of Education and the New York City Employees' Retirement System. Employers electing this provision can declare health and safety positions to be ineligible.

Retiring members may not receive both the additional service credit and the elimination of the early retirement reductions at 25 years of service instead of at 30 years of service.

If this bill is enacted, insofar as it affects the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (ERS), the additional cost for each member who receives these benefits will vary depending on the member's age, years of service, plans and final average salary.

We anticipate that the per-member cost (at retirement) of the additional service credit benefit will average approximately 60% of a member's final average salary. This cost will be borne by each employer electing the incentive over a five-year period commencing with a payment in the State fiscal year 2011-2012.

We anticipate that the per-member cost (at retirement) of the elimination of the early retirement reductions at 25 years of service instead of at 30 years of service will average approximately 110% of a member's final average salary. This cost will be borne by each employer electing the incentive over a five-year period commencing with a payment in the State fiscal year 2011-2012.

This estimate, dated April 30, 2010, and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-157 prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System.

FISCAL NOTE. -- Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This bill would provide a temporary retirement incentive for fiscal year 2010-2011. In Part A of the retirement incentive, employers who elect to participate would provide certain eligible employees a retirement incentive of one-twelfth of a year of additional service credit per year of accrued service credit up to a maximum of three additional years. To be eligible, a member must have attained age 50 or greater, with at least ten years of service. Members not subject to an early retirement reduction and less than age 55 at retirement will have their benefit reduced by five percent for each year their age precedes 55.

Part B of the retirement incentive would permit eligible Tier 2, 3 and 4 members of employers who elect to participate to retire without early retirement reductions upon attainment of at least age 55 with 25 years of service. Currently 30 years of service are required. In order to receive either the Part A or Part B benefit, an eligible member of an employer who has elected to participate must retire during the employer's designated open period. For Part A, such period shall be at least 30, but not more than 90 days in length, and for educational employers, shall not extend beyond August 31, 2010. For Part B, the open period for educational employers shall begin upon the later of June 1, 2010 or the date elected by the employer, and shall not extend beyond August 31, 2010. Members may not receive a benefit under both Part A and Part B, or Part A and the retirement incentive provided under Chapter 45 of the Laws of 2010. Employers participating in Part A or Part B (or both) would pay the cost of the retirement incentive over a period not to exceed five years, beginning in the state fiscal year ending March 31, 2012.

It is not possible to accurately forecast the total cost to the New York State Teachers' Retirement System employers electing to participate in this retirement incentive because the number of eligible members electing to retire under the incentive, their ages and the amount of service credited cannot be readily estimated. The Part A cost, measured as the increase in the present value of benefit per participating member, however, will range from 5% to more than 100% of final average salary, averaging between 50% and 75% of final average salary, depending on the member's age, years of service, and tier at retirement. The Part B cost per participating member will range from 3% to more than 100% of final average salary, depending on the member's age, years of service, and tier at retirement. The potential number of members eligible to benefit under Part A is much greater than under Part B.

The source of this estimate is Fiscal Note 2010-54 dated May 18, 2010 prepared by the Actuary of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System and is intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session.

FISCAL NOTE: PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION: With respect to certain New York City Retirement Systems ("NYCRS"), this proposed legislation would provide for a temporary Early Retirement Incentive Program ("ERI Program") to allow certain NYCRS members to elect immediate retirement with enhanced benefits. This proposed legislation consists of two components, each wholly contained within a part, identified as Part A and Part B.

* Part A: Additional Service Credit of 1/12 per year of service, to a maximum of three years, if at least age 50 with 10 or more years of service, or
  * Part B: Unreduced Benefit on Account of Age, if at least age 55 with 25 or more years of service.

A NYCRS member eligible for Part B would be permitted to elect Part A (if eligible for Part A) but would not be permitted to combine the benefits of Part A and Part B.

In addition, to be eligible, a member of a NYCRS must be the employee of an employer participating in a NYCRS ("Obligor") who elects to participate in the ERI Program.

Additional requirements and details are set forth under the Terms of Early Retirement Incentive section that follows.

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be the date of enactment.

TERMS OF EARLY RETIREMENT INCENTIVE PROGRAM: Under the proposed legislation, with respect to the NYCRS, and ERI Program would be made available if elected by a participating employer, including New York City (the "City"), by enactment of a local law or resolution. Such local law or resolution would specify for employees the applicable "Open Period," anywhere from 30 to 90 days, during which time eligible NYCRS members would be permitted to elect and retire, but not beyond August 31, 2010 for educational employees and not beyond December 31, 2010 for all others.

The Mayor of the City may declare employees of the Community Colleges of the City University of New York ("CUNY") to be ineligible for Part A of the ERI Program. It is also the understanding of the Actuary that the Mayor may determine such employees to be ineligible for Part B.

This proposed legislation also provides that employers who elect Part A of the ERI Program should demonstrate certain compensation savings over the two-year period following the effective dates of retirement of those employees who participate in Part A of the ERI Program.

NYCRS RETIREMENT SYSTEMS IMPACTED: The proposed legislation would impact the following NYCRS:

* New York City Employees' Retirement System ("NYCERS"),
* New York City Teachers' Retirement System ("NYCTRS"), and
* New York City Board of Education Retirement System ("BERS").

Part A

If an employer elects to participate in Part A of the ERI Program, then an employee must meet the following criteria in order to retire under the ERI:

Eligibility - Part A: A NYCRS member must be a member of NYCERS, NYCTRS or BERS and is required to:

1. Be in Active Service – paid on payroll, or On leave of absence with pay, or
- Approved leave of absence without pay but not more than 12 weeks prior to the "Open Period," or
- A teacher on payroll as of February 1, 2010 which would include the period between the end of the June 2010 term and on or before August 31, 2010, and
2. Be in an Eligible Title.
- Those positions otherwise identified for layoff,
- Those positions that could be transferred or reassigned under Civil Service Law, and
3. Be eligible for Service Retirement if the ERI service credit is applied or have at least attained age 50 with 10 or more years of service, and
4. Be in Active Service between February 1, 2010 and the commencement date specified in the Open Period, and
5. File an application for Service Retirement that is effective during the Open Period, and
6. File written notification with the employer of the member on or before the 21st day prior to the end of the Open Period.

Benefits - Part A: For those NYCRS members who participate in Part A, the members would receive an ERI of:
- 1/12 of additional retirement service credit per year of pension service, up to a maximum of three years.
Such retirement service credit would be usable for both inclusion in the applicable benefit formula and for meeting eligibility requirements to retire.

Generally, there would be reductions to the retirement benefit if the eligible employee retired before a plan's normal retirement age.

In addition, for an eligible employee who participates in a retirement plan which provides for a retirement allowance equal to 50% of FAS upon the completion of 25 years without regard to age, the proposed legislation sets forth the reductions to the retirement allowance otherwise payable if the eligible employee has not accrued, excluding the additional credit granted under the proposed legislation, the minimum number of years needed to retire with such allowance.

However, the proposed legislation does not address the situation where an eligible employee is in a plan where 25 years of service is needed to retire with 55% of FAS.

It is the understanding of the Actuary that the same reductions described in the proposed legislation for plans providing 50% of FAS after 25 years of service would apply to plans providing 55% of FAS after 25 years of service.

Optional Retirement Program - Part A: For those NYCRS members who participate in an Optional Retirement Program (i.e., Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") Section 403(b) Plan or "403(b) Plan") as specified in Education Law Section 6251, there is a special Part A benefit.

A member of a 403(b) Plan would, if the member elected to retire under the Part A provisions, be entitled to an additional employer contribution equal to: 1/12 x years of service x 15% x member's annual salary rate as of March 1, 2010, such amount could not exceed 45% of such salary rate (i.e., no more than 36 years of service would be included).

Part B
If an employer elects to participate in Part B of the ERI Program, then the employees must meet the following criteria in order to retire under the ERI:
Eligibility - Part B: To be eligible for Part B, members must have attained age 55 and have completed 25 or more years of creditable service as of the effective date of retirement.

Benefits - Part B: For those NYCRS members who are eligible for Part B, such members would be entitled to receive the retirement allowance accrued under the plan in which the member participates based on the amount of credited service such member would have at retirement, but such retirement allowance would be payable without reduction for early commencement.

Note: If eligible under Part A, a NYCRS member eligible for Part B would be permitted to elect to receive the benefits under Part A in lieu of the benefits under Part B.

Part A and Part B

Any additional benefits payable under Part A or Part B would be limited to the extent that the total benefit payable were to exceed the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") Section 415 limits.

Note: Under Chapter 623 of the Laws of 2004, the NYCRS now have Excess Benefit Plans that permit benefits in excess of the IRC Section 415 limits but the ERI Program does not recognize the availability of these Excess Benefit Plans.

With respect to the Optional Retirement Program, for any additional employer contribution made under a 403(b) Plan, such additional employer contribution would not be permitted to exceed the IRC Section 415 limits. If it were to exceed those limits, then the portion in excess of the limit would either be contributed to the employee in a separate IRC Section 403(b) contract to the extent it can be contributed on a before-tax basis under the limit or paid to the employee over a 24-month period in three equal installments.

Note: It is also the understanding of the Actuary that Part A, Section 10 (i.e., IRC Section 415 limits) and Part A, Section 13 (i.e., provisions of RSSL Section 430) would be applicable to both Part A and Part B of the proposed legislation.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - OVERVIEW: If enacted into the law, the ultimate employer cost of this proposed legislation would be determined by the number of members of the NYCRS who participate in the ERI Program and the amount of additional benefits paid.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ACTUARIAL PRESENT VALUES: Based on the census data and the actuarial assumptions and methods described herein, the enactment of this proposed legislation would increase the Actuarial Present Value of Benefits ("APVB") and increase employer contributions to NYCERS, NYCTRS and BERS based on the number of members who participate in the ERI Program and the amounts of benefits that are paid.

The following Table 1 presents, based on assumptions set forth herein by the Actuary, a Hypothetical Scenario of the financial impact to provide the ERI Program for the NYCRS:

* Based on Hypothetical Scenario developed by the Actuary assuming employers were to elect to participate in the ERI Program and members were to elect to participate as set forth in Actuarial Assumptions and Methods section of this Fiscal Note.
 Estimated amounts as of June 30, 2010 based on the actuarial assumptions and methods described herein.
The amounts shown would be payable annually over five Fiscal Years beginning Fiscal Year 2012.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: Based on the census data and the actuarial assumptions and methods described herein as a Hypothetical Scenario, the enactment of this proposed legislation would increase annual employer contributions by approximately $20.0 million for NYCERS, $8.9 million for NYCTRS and $1.3 million for BERS, or a total of $30.2 million per year for the five fiscal years beginning Fiscal Year 2012.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - TIMING OF EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: The increased employer contributions to NYCERS, NYCTRS and BERS attributable to this proposed legislation would be paid over a period of not more than five years commencing with the fiscal year beginning during the New York State fiscal year ending March 31, 2012 (e.g. as applicable to most participating employers of the NYCRS, beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 2012).

FINANCIAL IMPACT - OTHER: The Actuary is expecting to propose revised actuarial assumptions and methods to be effective on or after Fiscal Year 2010.

The estimated financial impact of proposed legislation incorporating those revised actuarial assumptions and methods is expected to differ, possibly significantly, from the financial impact computed using the actuarial assumptions and methods continued from Fiscal Year 2010.

Further, the near certainty of payment of benefits from the NYCRS (due to the substantive level of funding and New York State Constitutional Protection of benefits), suggests that it may be appropriate to also consider a more economic-based, market-related estimate of the value of those benefits (i.e., a Financial Value estimate). Such value of benefits would likely be based on an expected pattern of benefits payments determined using discount rates consistent with those derived from default-free securities of similar duration.

Under current economic conditions, the APVB, employer cost and employer contributions determined under Financial Value concepts would be greater than those shown herein.

OTHER COSTS: Most significantly, not measured herein is any potential reduction in employer payrolls attributable to members who retire under the ERI Program.

Also not measured in this Fiscal Note is the impact of this proposed legislation on administrative costs of NYCERS, NYCTRS and BERS and their participating employers.

In addition, and potentially significant, no account has been taken of the impact of the expected increase in costs attributable to Other Post Employment Benefits ("OPEB").

CENSUS DATA: The census data used for the estimates of additional APVB and employer contributions presented herein was the active data used in the June 30, 2009 (Lag) actuarial valuations of NYCERS, NYCTRS and BERS used to determine Preliminary Fiscal Year 2011 employer contributions.

Active members as of June 30, 2009 were grouped by individual ages and services for the members who could potentially meet the age and service requirements for the ERI Program and are shown in Table 2.
Note: This slightly overstates the number of potentially eligible members as some members may have left employment after June 30, 2009.

* Assumes NYCRS members as of June 30, 2009 remain in active service through June 30, 2010 and then meet the age and service requirements for the ERI Program as of June 30, 2010.

The following Table 3 presents the estimated number and salaries for those potential members assumed to participate in the ERI Program under the Hypothetical Scenario.

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODS: The additional APVB and employer contributions presented herein have been calculated, with certain additional Hypothetical Scenario assumptions, based on the actuarial assumptions and methods used for NYCERS, NYCTRS and BERS in the June 30, 2009 (Lag) actuarial valuations used to determine Preliminary Fiscal Year 2011 employer contributions to the NYCRS.

These actuarial assumptions were adopted by the Boards of Trustees of the NYCRS during Fiscal Year 2006 and are part of an overall package of actuarial assumptions and methods used to determine employer contributions to the NYCRS that includes an Actuarial Interest Rate ("AIR") assumption of 8.0% per annum.

* Based on assumptions that 20% of all potentially eligible ERI - Part B members, and that of the 25% of ERI - Part A members who are assumed to be targeted employees, 20% would elect to participate in the ERI Program.

For purposes of determining those active members who would be potentially eligible (and likely to consider Part B), it was assumed that those active members who meet the Part B eligibility conditions would prefer this Part B versus Part A if they were under attained age 61 and were not otherwise eligible to retire immediately with an unreduced benefit (excluding teacher members with 30 or more years of credited service). The balance of the potentially eligible NYCRS members were assumed to potentially participate in Part A.

For the purposes of the Hypothetical Scenario, the following additional assumptions were used to determine the additional APVB and annual employer contributions:
* Part A
 Obligors to NYCRS choose to participate in Part A, and  Obligors target 25% of all Eligible Employees in Eligible Titles ("Targeted Employees"), and  Only Targeted Employees with the following characteristics elect to take ERI ("Part A Eligible Employees"):
   Age 55 and greater
   20 or more years of service, and
 20% of Part A Eligible Employees elect to take the ERI

* Part B
 All Obligors to NYCRS choose to participate in Part B, and  20% of Part B Eligible Employees elect to take the ERI

Employer contributions have been developed under the terms of the proposed legislation that require that the APVB of such ERI be spread over five years in the fiscal year beginning in the New York State fiscal year ending March 31, 2012.

1. The provisions of this section shall apply to full-time annual salaried officers and employees in the collective negotiating unit designated as security services collective negotiating unit established pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law (hereinafter "security services unit") who are not eligible for binding interest arbitration pursuant to subdivision 4 of section 209 of the civil service law (hereinafter "employees who are ineligible for interest arbitration").

2. Effective April 1, 2007, the basic annual salary of members of the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration and who are in full-time annual salaried employment status on March 31, 2007, shall be increased by three percent.

3. Effective April 1, 2008, the basic annual salary of members of the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration and who are in full-time annual salaried employment status on March 31, 2008, shall be increased by three percent.

4. Advancement within a salary grade. Payments pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 6 of section 131 of the civil service law for members of the security services unit who are entitled to such payments and who are ineligible for interest arbitration shall be payable pursuant to the terms of an agreement between the state of New York and an employee organization representing employees subject to the provisions of this section entered into pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law (hereinafter "the agreement").

5. Effective April 1, 2007, pursuant to the terms of the agreement covering members of the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, for such unit members who are on the institutional or administrative payroll, the ten-year, the fifteen-year, the twenty-year and the twenty-five year longevity step payment for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply shall be that amount prescribed by paragraph f of subdivision 1 of section 130 of the civil service law as added by section one of this act.

6. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, if the basic annual salary of such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply is identical with the hiring rate, performance advance step one, two, three, four or five, the job rate, the ten-year longevity step, the fifteen-year longevity step, the twenty-year longevity step or the twenty-five year longevity step of the salary grade of his or her position on March 31, 2007, or March 31, 2008, respectively, for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply on the institutional or administrative payroll, such basic annual salary shall be increased to the hiring rate, performance advance step one, two, three, four or five, the job rate, the ten-year longevity step, the fifteen-year longevity step, the twenty-year longevity step or the twenty-five year longevity step of such salary grade as contained in subparagraphs 1 and 2 of paragraph f of subdivision 1 of section 130 of the civil service law, as added by section one of this act, to take effect on April 1, 2007, or April 1, 2008, respectively, for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply on the institutional or administrative payroll. The increases in basic annual salary provided by this subdivision shall be in lieu of any increase in basic annual salary provided for in subdivisions two and three of this section.

If an unencumbered position is one, which if encumbered, would be subject to the provisions of this section, the salary of such position shall be increased by the salary increase amounts specified in this section. If a position is created, and is filled by the appointment of such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply on the institutional or administrative payroll, the salary otherwise provided for such position shall be increased in the same manner as though such position had been in existence but unencumbered. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the director of the division of the budget may reduce the salary of any such position, which is or becomes vacant.

8. The increases in salary payable pursuant to this section shall apply on a prorated basis to officers and employees, otherwise eligible to receive an increase in salary pursuant to this section, who are paid on an hourly or per diem basis, who are employees serving on a part-time or seasonal basis and who are employees paid on any basis other than at an annual salaried rate; except that the provisions of subdivision four of this section shall not apply to employees serving on a seasonal basis, except as determined by the director of the budget.

§ 10. Inconvenience pay program. Pursuant to chapter 333 of the laws of 1969, as amended, and an agreement covering certain members of the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, are full-time annual salaried employees and, notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, where and to the extent that an agreement so provides, effective April 1, 2007, the inconvenience pay provided to eligible employees shall be increased by three percent to five hundred sixty-seven dollars per year for working four or more hours between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., except on an overtime basis; effective April 1, 2008, the inconvenience pay provided to eligible employees shall be increased by three percent to five hundred eighty-four dollars per year for working four or more hours between the hours of 6:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., except on an overtime basis. Retroactive payments shall be payable as soon as practicable for the retroactive provisions of this section. Any amounts due to eligible members of this unit shall be offset by payments already received as inconvenience pay in each year and the remainder shall be calculated as part of a retroactive payment.

§ 11. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, where and to the extent that an agreement so provides on behalf of employees in the security services unit pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law, the state shall contribute an amount designated in such agreement and for the period covered by such agreement to the accounts of such employees enrolled for dependent care deductions pursuant to subdivision 7 of section 201-a of the state finance law. Such amounts shall be from funds appropriated in this act and shall not be part of basic annual salary for overtime and retirement purposes.

§ 12. During the period April 1, 2007 through March 31, 2009, there shall be a statewide joint labor-management committee continued and administered pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering employees in the security services unit which shall, after March 31, 2007, within the amounts available therefor, study and make recommendations concerning major issues of employee assistance, performance evaluation, training, review of quality of work life efforts, and provide for the implementation of the terms of agreements of such committee.

§ 13. Notwithstanding any provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the appropriations contained in this act shall be available to the state of New York for the payment and publication of grievance and arbitration settlements and awards pursuant to articles 7 and 8 of the agreement covering employees in the security services unit.

§ 14. The salary increases and benefit modifications provided for by this act for state employees in the security services unit shall not be implemented until the director of employee relations shall have delivered to the director of the budget and the comptroller a letter indicating that there is in effect with respect to such negotiating unit a collective negotiation agreement which provides for such increases and modifications and which is fully executed in writing with the state pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law, and ratified pursuant to the ratification procedure of the employee organization certified pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law to represent such collective negotiating unit.

§ 15. Date of entitlement to salary increase. Notwithstanding the provisions of this act or of any other provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, the increase in salary or compensation of any members of the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration provided by this act shall be added to the salary of such member at the beginning of that payroll period the first day of which is nearest to the effective date of such increase as provided in this act, or at the beginning of the earlier of two payroll periods the first days of which are nearest but equally near to the effective date of such increase as provided in this act; provided, however, that for the purposes of determining the salary of such unit members upon reclassification, reallocation, appointment, promotion, transfer, demotion, reinstatement, or other change of status, such salary increase shall be deemed to be effective on the date thereof as prescribed by this act, with payment thereof pursuant to this section on a date prior thereto, instead of on such effective date, and shall not operate to confer any additional salary rights or benefits on such unit members. Payment of such salary increase may be deferred pursuant to section sixteen of this act.
§ 16. Deferred payment of salary increase. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other section of this act, or of any other law, rule or regulation, pending payment pursuant to this act of the basic annual salaries of incumbents of positions subject to this act such incumbents shall receive, as partial compensation for services rendered, the rate of compensation otherwise payable in their respective positions. An incumbent holding a position subject to this act at any time during the period from April 1, 2007, until the time when basic annual salaries are first paid pursuant to this act for such services in excess of the compensation actually received therefore, shall be entitled to a lump sum payment for the difference between the salary to which such incumbent is entitled for such services and the compensation actually received therefor. Such lump sum payment shall be made as soon as practicable. Notwithstanding any provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, no member of the security services unit to whom the provisions of this act apply shall be entitled to, or owed, any interest or other penalty for any reason on any monies due to such member pursuant to the terms of this act and the terms of the agreement covering employees in the security services unit.

§ 17. Use of appropriations. The comptroller is authorized to pay any amounts required during the fiscal year commencing April 1, 2010 by the foregoing provisions of this act for any state department or agency for personal service or for other related employee benefits during such fiscal year. To the extent that such appropriations are insufficient to accomplish the purposes herein set forth, the director of the division of the budget is authorized to allocate to the various departments and agencies, from any appropriations available, the amounts necessary to pay such amounts. The aforementioned appropriations shall be available for payment of any liabilities or obligations incurred prior to or during the state fiscal year commencing April 1, 2010.

§ 18. The several amounts as hereinafter set forth, or so much thereof as may be necessary, are hereby appropriated from the fund so designated for use by any state department or agency for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2010 to supplement appropriations from each respective fund available for personal service, other than personal service and fringe benefits, and to carry out the provisions of this act. Moreover, the amounts appropriated as non-personal service may be suballocated to any state department or agency as needed. The monies hereby appropriated are available for payment of any liabilities or obligations incurred prior to or during the state fiscal year commencing April 1, 2010. No money shall be available for expenditure from this appropriation until a certificate of approval has been issued by the director of the division of the budget and a copy of such certificate or any amendment thereto has been filed with the state comptroller, the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee.

§ 3. Subdivision 2-a of section 207-a of the state finance law, as amended by chapter 213 of the laws of 2009, is amended to read as follows:

2-a. Where and to the extent that an agreement between the state and an employee organization entered into pursuant to article fourteen of the civil service law or an interest arbitration award issued pursuant to subdivision four of section two hundred nine of the civil service law so provides on behalf of employees in the collective negotiating unit designated as the security supervisors unit established pursuant to article fourteen of the civil service law, and upon audit and warrant of the comptroller, the director shall provide for the payment of moneys to such employee organization for the establishment and maintenance of an employee benefit fund established by the employee organization for the employees in the negotiating unit covered by the controlling provision of such agreement providing for such employee benefit fund, such amount to be determined consistent with said agreement on the basis of the number of full-time annual salaried employees, as determined by the comptroller, on the payroll on the last day of the payroll period in which March first, two thousand [three] seven falls for payments to be made on April first, two thousand [three] seven and, on the last day of the payroll period in which March first, two thousand [four] eight falls for payments to be made on April first, two thousand [four], on the last day of the payroll period in which March first, two thousand [five] eight falls for payments to be made on April first, two thousand [six] falls for payments to be made on April first, two thousand [seven] eight.
The amount, which will be determined pursuant to this section, for employees who are paid from special or administrative funds, other than the general fund or the capital projects fund of the state, will be paid from the appropriations as provided by law, in which case the comptroller will establish procedures to ensure repayment from said special or administrative funds. The director may enter into an agreement with an employee organization which sets forth the specific terms and conditions of the establishment and administration of an employee benefit fund as a condition for the transmittal of moneys pursuant to this section. Such agreement shall provide that any contributions paid to the employee organization for the establishment and maintenance of the employee benefit fund pursuant to this section on behalf of eligible members of this unit shall be offset by contributions already made on behalf of those members in each of the covered years, where applicable.
§ 4. Compensation for members of the collective negotiating unit designated as security supervisors pursuant to an agreement between the state of New York and the employee organization representing such individuals.
   1. The provisions of this section shall apply to all full-time officers and employees in the collective negotiating unit designated as the security supervisors unit established pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law.
   2. Effective April 1, 2007, the basic annual salary of all officers and employees in the security supervisors unit and who are in full-time annual salaried employment status on March 31, 2007, shall be increased by three percent.
   3. Effective April 1, 2008, the basic annual salary of all officers and employees in the security supervisors unit and who are in full-time annual salaried employment status on March 31, 2008, shall be increased by three percent.
   4. Advancement within a salary grade. Payments pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 6 of section 131 of the civil service law for all full-time officers and employees in the security supervisors unit who are entitled to such payments shall be payable pursuant to the terms of an agreement between the state of New York and an employee organization representing employees subject to the provisions of this section entered into pursuant to article 14 of the civil service law (hereinafter
"the agreement" or "an agreement").
5. Effective April 1, 2007, pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering all full-time officer and employee members of the security supervisors unit, for such unit members who are on the institutional or administrative payroll, the ten-year, the fifteen-year, the twenty-year and the twenty-five year longevity step payment for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply shall be that amount prescribed by subparagraphs 1 or 2 of paragraph j of subdivision 1 of section 130 of the civil service law, as added by section one of this act, or subparagraphs 1 or 2 of paragraph b of subdivision 1 of section 130 of the civil service law, as added by section two of this act.

6. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, if the basic annual salary of such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply is identical with the hiring rate, performance advance step one, two, three, four or five, the job rate, the ten-year longevity step, the fifteen-year longevity step, the twenty-year longevity step or the twenty-five year longevity step of the salary grade of his or her position on March 31, 2007 or 2008, respectively, for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply on the institutional or administrative payroll, such basic annual salary shall be increased to the hiring rate, performance advance step one, two, three, four or five, the job rate, the ten-year longevity step, the fifteen-year longevity step, the twenty-year longevity step or the twenty-five year longevity step of such salary grade as contained in either subparagraph one of paragraph j of subdivision one of the civil service law as added by section one of this act, or subparagraph one of paragraph b of subdivision one of section 130 of the civil service law as added by section two of this act, to take effect on April 1, 2007 or 2008, respectively, for such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply on the institutional or administrative payroll. The increases in basic annual salary provided by this subdivision shall be in lieu of any increase in basic annual salary provided for in subdivisions two and three of this section.

7. If an unencumbered position is one which if encumbered, would be subject to the provisions of this section, the salary of such position shall be increased by the salary increase amounts specified in this section. If a position is created, and is filled by the appointment of such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply, the salary otherwise provided for such position shall be increased in the same manner as though such position had been in existence but unencumbered. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, the director of the budget may reduce the salary of any such position, which is or becomes vacant.

8. The increases in salary payable pursuant to this section shall apply on a prorated basis to officers and employees, otherwise eligible to receive an increase in salary pursuant to this section, who are paid on an hourly or per diem basis, employees serving on a part-time or seasonal basis and employees paid on any basis other than at an annual salaried rate; except that the provisions of subdivision seven of this section shall not apply to employees serving on a seasonal basis, except as determined by the director of the budget.

9. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the provisions of this section shall not apply to officers or employees paid on a fee schedule basis.

10. In order to provide for the officers and employees to whom this section applies who are not allocated to salary grades, performance advancements and payments in proportion to those provided to persons to whom this section applies who are allocated to salary grades, the director of the budget is authorized to add appropriate adjustments to the compensation which such officers and employees are otherwise entitled to receive. The director of the budget shall issue certificates which shall contain schedules of positions and the salaries thereof for which adjustments are made pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, and a copy of each such certificate shall be filed with the state comptroller, the department of civil service, the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee.

11. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this section, any increase in compensation may be withheld in whole or in part from any such unit members to whom the provisions of this section apply when, in the opinion of the director of the division of the budget and the director of employee relations, such increase is not warranted or is not appropriate.

§ 5. Additional compensation for all members of the security supervisors unit who are in full-time annual salaried employment status.

1. In recognition of the general requirement for full-time employees of the state in the security supervisors unit to assemble for briefing prior to the commencement of duties, where and to the extent an agreement so provides, each such employee except such an employee receiving additional compensation pursuant to subdivision 5 of section 134 of the civil service law, shall receive additional compensation in recognition of pre-shift briefing.

2. Each such employee holding a position in the security supervisors unit shall be compensated for pre-shift briefing in accordance with the terms of the agreement covering certain members of the security supervisors unit. No payments authorized pursuant to this section and such negotiated agreement shall be made to an employee who is in non pay status for that day.

3. Any such additional compensation pursuant to this section shall be paid in addition to and shall not be a part of the employee's basic annual salary and shall not be included as compensation for the purposes of computation of overtime pay, provided, however, that such additional compensation shall be included for retirement purposes. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section or of any other law, such additional compensation shall be in lieu of the continuation of any other additional compensation for such employees in recognition of pre-shift briefing.

§ 6. Corrections command pay. Pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering members of the collective bargaining unit designated as secu-ritv supervisors who are eligible for interest arbitration and are full-time annual salaried and are employed by the state department of correctional services and are designated as peace officers pursuant to subdivision twenty-five of section 2.10 of the criminal procedure law, and notwithstanding any law, rule, or regulation to the contrary, the corrections command pay received by these employees shall be increased by three percent to one thousand five hundred forty-five dollars effective April 1, 2007, in recognition of the command duties and responsibilities performed by these designated peace officers with regard to infectious disease, mental health, crime scene control, prisoner transport and other inter-agency issues which arise in correctional facilities. Effective April 1, 2008, the corrections command pay received by these employees shall be increased by three percent to one thousand five hundred ninety-one dollars. This payment will be equally divided over the 26 payroll periods in each fiscal year and shall count as compensation for overtime and retirement purposes. Any amounts already received by eligible members of this unit shall be offset by payments already received in corrections command pay in each year and the remainder shall be calculated as part of a retroactive payment.

§ 7. Notwithstanding any law, rule or regulation to the contrary, any employees of the state in the security supervisors unit who are eligible for additional compensation pursuant to subdivision 5 of section 134 of the civil service law shall be deemed ineligible for such additional compensation to the extent, in the manner and under the circumstances provided for in the agreement negotiated on behalf of such employees.

§ 8. Uniform allowance. Pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering certain members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, and in recognition of the general requirement for employees in the security services unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration to wear a uniform, each such employee on the payroll on the first day of November preceding the annual effective date shall receive an increase of three percent in the allowance for cleaning and maintenance at the rate of six hundred forty-two dollars per year effective December 1, 2007 in accordance with the agreement, and an increase of three percent to six hundred sixty-one dollars per year effective December 1, 2008 in accordance with the agreement. Such allowance shall be payable by separate check or about December 1 of each year. Retroactive payments shall be payable as soon as practicable for the retroactive provisions of this section. Any amounts already received by eligible members of this unit shall be offset by payments already received as uniform allowance in each year and the remainder shall be calculated as part of a retroactive payment.

§ 9. Location compensation for certain state officers and employees in the collective negotiating unit designated as security supervisors for arbitration ineligible members.

1. Pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering certain members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, and notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, effective April 1, 2007, all members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration and are full-time annual salaried employees and whose principal place of employment or, in the case of a field employee, whose official station as determined in accordance with the regulations of the comptroller is located in the county of Monroe and who were eligible to receive locational pay on May 23, 1985 shall receive locational pay at the rate of two hundred three dollars per year provided they continue to be otherwise eligible.

2. Pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering certain members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, and notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, all members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration and are full-time annual salaried employees and whose principal place of employment or, in the case of a field employee, whose official station as determined in accordance with the regulations of the comptroller, is in the city of New York or in the county of Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester or Rockland shall receive locational compensation in the amount of one thousand five hundred dollars per year effective April 1, 2007, for employees in full-time annual salaried employment status on March 31, 2007, and an increase of three percent to one thousand five hundred forty-five
3. Pursuant to the terms of an agreement covering certain members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, and notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, rule or regulation to the contrary, all members of the security supervisors unit who are ineligible for interest arbitration, and are full-time annual

§ 27. Appropriations. Notwithstanding any provision of the state finance law or any other provision of law to the contrary, the several amounts as hereinafter set forth in this section, or so much thereof as may be necessary, are hereby appropriated from the fund so designated for use by any state department or agency for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2010 to supplement appropriations from each respective fund available for personal service, other than personal service and fringe benefits, and to carry out the provisions of this act. AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, the education law, the workers' compensation law and the state finance law, in relation to increasing participation by minority and women-owned businesses

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [ ] is old law to be omitted.
Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "New York state MWBE asset management and financial institution strategy".

§ 2. Legislative findings. 1. The New York state MWBE asset management and financial institution strategy is hereby established to codify and replicate, across certain fiduciary-controlled entities established by New York state law, best practices with respect to the inclusion of minority and women-owned business enterprises that are asset managers, investment banks, and financial and professional service firms in the opportunity to provide services to such fiduciary-controlled entities -- the New York state common retirement fund, New York state teachers' retirement system, the New York insurance fund, and the New York state deferred compensation plan. Certain fiduciary-controlled entities have recently adopted emerging manager programs to increase opportunities for firms that include small, disadvantaged or minority and women-owned business enterprises. These programs and similar programs in other states have shown that there is a growing pool of minority and women-owned asset managers, investment banks and financial and professional services firms that are qualified to provide investment management, investment banking, underwriting and other financial and professional services to such fiduciary-controlled entities. The intent of this act is to institutionalize access to opportunities for MWBE firms in such fiduciary-controlled entities that use such services, to create reasonable objectives for conducting business with such firms, and to facilitate transparency by creating a regime of public reporting about the use of such firms for such services. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to preempt or affect in any way existing laws or fiduciary obligations of the trustees, plan sponsors, fiduciaries, board members or executive officers of any of such fiduciary-controlled entities, to create quotas or other unlawful preferences, or to diminish the ability of any entity covered by this act to make independent decisions consistent with best practices for procuring the services covered hereby.

2. In 2006, the New York state department of economic development (NYSDED) commissioned a study to assist the state in evaluating whether the state's minority and women-owned business enterprise (MWBE) initiatives were still necessary to remedy discrimination in state contracting programs. On May 5, 2010, the study was presented to NYSDED, members of the legislature and other stakeholders. The study's findings indicted that: (a) there is both statistical and anecdotal evidence of business discrimination against MWBEs in the private sector of the New York state market area; (b) there is evidence of discrimination against MWBEs in the New York state market area in the small business credit market; (c) MWBEs in the state's market area report suffering business related discrimination in large numbers and with statistically significant greater frequency than non-MWBEs; and (d) in general, minorities and women reported that race and gender-conscious contracting programs are needed to ensure full and fair access to government.

3. As a result of such findings, the governor and the state legislature are considering amendments to article 15-A of the executive law and certain provisions of the public authorities law that cover MWBE procurement programs, to improve outreach to MWBEs by state agencies and state authorities, to increase transparency and public reporting on direct and indirect expenditures with MWBEs, to generally eliminate artificial barriers to entry for MWBE firms and to strengthen the efficacy of the state's MWBE programs.
4. Many studies have shown that, as it relates to asset management, diversification of asset management contracts through hiring smaller asset managers, including managers that are minority and women-owned business enterprises, creates greater investment portfolio diversity and improves investment returns thereby fulfilling the fiduciary obligations of fiduciary-controlled entities. Increasingly, legislators in other jurisdictions such as Illinois and Maryland and public pension plan fiduciaries in states such as California, Connecticut, Illinois, New York and Texas among others have adopted strategies to increase the diversification of their financial service providers, including by designing emerging manager programs to identify underrepresented, qualified asset managers, broker-dealers and investment banks to increase business activity with such firms. On the federal level on July 30, 2007, the House of Representatives passed a resolution on the topic, the "financial services diversity initiative" (H.R. 110-278), which among other things "encourages financial institutions and public and private pension funds to seek qualified women- and minority-owned firms as asset managers, underwriters, and other business relationships and to appoint more women and minorities as Board members."

5. On December 11, 2009, chapter 506 of the laws of 2009 was signed into law by the governor, which among other things, expanded the contracting areas covered under article 15-A of the executive law to include financial and professional services, which previously had been specifically excluded from such article. This act is an effort to apply the principles inherent to MWBE programs to fiduciary-controlled entities established by the laws of New York state.

6. Certain fiduciary-controlled entities have each voluntarily adopted separate successful programs that include making investments with firms that include minority and women-owned business enterprises engaged in asset management. The legislature finds such efforts to be important and consistent with the goals set forth in this act. The legislature deems it necessary to take such successes a step further by codifying the best practices in this area to attain institutional change in ensuring inclusion of MWBE firms by such fiduciary-controlled entities that procure asset management, investment banking and other financial and professional services.

§ 3. Section 176 of the retirement and social security law is amended by adding six new subdivisions 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 to read as follows:

(d) an enterprise authorized to do business in this state; and

(e) an enterprise certified by the state comptroller pursuant to section four hundred twenty-three-c of this chapter.

7. The term "MWBE financial institution" shall mean (a) as it relates to brokerage services, a registered broker dealer that is an MWBE certified pursuant to the provisions of subdivision three of section four hundred twenty-three-c of this chapter and (b) as it relates to any other financial services, an MWBE certified pursuant to the provisions of subdivision three of section four hundred twenty-three-c of this chapter that provides banking, financial advisory, insurance, financial research, valuation or other financial services.

8. The term "fiduciary-controlled entities" shall mean the common retirement fund, state teachers retirement fund, state insurance fund and state deferred compensation plan.

9. The term "best execution" shall refer to the obligation of an entity that purchases or sells publicly-traded securities to ensure the optimal mix of price improvement (getting a better price than is currently quoted), speed and likelihood of execution.

§ 4. The retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new section 423-c to read as follows:

§ 423-c. MWBE asset management and financial institution strategy. 1. Within the discretion of the state comptroller and in accordance with and subject to his or her fiduciary duties and obligations as trustee of the common retirement fund and to the members, retirees and beneficiaries of such fund and such other investment limitations as may be prescribed by this chapter, the comptroller is authorized to establish an MWBE asset management and financial institution strategy including reasonable goals for utilization of MWBE asset managers, MWBE financial institutions and MWBE financial and professional service firms, which strategy shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following objectives:
(a) investing assets of the common retirement fund with MWBE asset managers;
(b) subject to best execution: (i) conducting trades of public equity securities with MWBE financial institutions; and (ii) conducting trades of fixed-income securities through MWBE financial institutions;
(c) allocating investments of assets of the common retirement fund either through: (i) direct investments in the equities and debt securities of MWBEs; or (ii) indirectly through special programs involving MWBE asset managers; and
(d) awarding contracts for accounting, banking, financial advisory, insurance, legal, research, valuation and other financial and professional services to MWBE financial institutions and other MWBE professional service firms.

2. costs associated with this act may be amortized over a period of five or ten years.

FISCAL NOTE.—Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill will allow the Village of Lyons to reopen the provisions of Section 384-d of the Retirement and Social Security Law for police officers John J. Flock and Scott W. VanDuyne.

If this legislation is enacted during the 2010 legislative session, we anticipate that there will be an increase of approximately $2,800 in the annual contributions of the Village of Lyons for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011.

In addition to the annual contributions discussed above, there will be an immediate past service cost of approximately $43,000, which would be borne by the Village of Lyons as a one-time payment, assuming a payment date of February 1, 2011. If the Village so elects, the past service can be amortized over a period of five (5) or ten (10) years. The cost for the first year will be approximately $9,980 or $5,940, respectively.

This estimate, dated April 16, 2010 and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-138, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

§ 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2010.

FISCAL NOTE.--This bill would amend both the General Municipal Law and the Retirement and Social Security Law to increase the salary used in the computation of the special accidental death benefit by 3% in cases where the date of death was before 2010.

Insofar as this bill would amend the Retirement and Social Security Law, it is estimated that there would be an additional annual cost of approximately $345,000 above the approximately $7.7 million current annual cost of this benefit. This cost would be shared by the State of New York and all participating employers of the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

This estimate, dated February 5, 2010 and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-112, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

FISCAL NOTE.--PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION - OVERVIEW: With respect to the City of New York (the "City"), this proposed legislation would amend General Municipal Law ("GML") Section 208-f.c to increase certain Special Accidental Death Benefits ("SADB") for line-of-duty widows/widowers and/or children of former uniformed employees of the City and the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation and certain former employees of the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority who were members of certain New York City Retirement Systems ("NYCRS").

In addition, the proposed legislation would amend Retirement and Social Security Law Section 361-a.c to cover such SADB for certain survivors of deceased members of the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be July 1, 2010.

IMPACT ON BENEFITS - SADB RECIPIENTS: The proposed legislation would impact the SADB payable to certain survivors of members of one of the following NYCERS:

* New York City Employees' Retirement System ("NYCERS"),
* New York City Police Pension Fund ("POLICE"), or
* New York City Fire Pension Fund ("FIRE"), and who were employed at one of the following employers in certain positions:

* New York City Police Department - Uniformed Position,
* New York City Fire Department - Uniformed Position,
* New York City Housing Authority - Uniformed Position,
* New York City Transit Authority - Uniformed Position,
* New York City Department of Correction - Uniformed Position,
* New York City - Unformed Position as Emergency Medical Technician ("EMT),
* New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation - Uniformed Position as EMT, or
* Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority - Bridge and Tunnel Position.

DESCRIPTION OF BENEFITS PAYABLE: Under the GML, the basic SADB is defined to equal:

The salary of the deceased member at date of death (or, in certain instances, a greater salary based on rank or other status) less:

* Any death benefit as adjusted by any Supplementation or Cost-of-Living Adjustment ("COLA") paid by the NYCRS to the member's survivors,
* Any death benefit paid by Social Security to the member's survivors,

* Any Worker's Compensation benefit paid to the member's survivors.

The SADB is paid to the deceased member's surviving widow or widower, if alive. If the widow/widower is no longer alive, then the SADB is paid to the deceased member's children until age eighteen or while attending school until age twenty-three.

The GML also provides that the SADB is subject to escalation based on years since the date of death. Each year since Calendar Year 1979 the SADB has been increased by an additional percentage of Final Salary.

Under the proposed legislation, the additional percentage of Final Salary to be effective July 1, 2010 would be 3.0%.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ACTUARIAL PRESENT VALUES OF BENEFITS ("APVB"): Under the actuarial assumptions and methods as noted herein, the enactment of this proposed legislation would result in an increase in additional APVB for the additional Final Salary to be effective July 1, 2010 with respect to NYCRS members. This increase in APVB would be approximately $23.6 million as of June 30, 2010.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - EMPLOYER PAYMENTS: As these SADB are provided on a pay-as-you-go basis, the additional annual employer payments expected to be paid during the first year, if the proposed legislation is enacted, would equal approximately $2.3 million.

Note: These additional payments represent an increase of approximately 5.0% in the annual rate of SADB being paid.

The SADB payments are made by the NYCRS who are reimbursed by the City who is then reimbursed by the State of New York.

OTHER COSTS: The enactment of this proposed legislation would also be expected to result in modest increases in administrative expenses of NYCERS, POLICE, FIRE, the employers and certain New York City agencies.

CENSUS DATA: The financial impact of the proposed legislation is based upon the census data for such widows, widowers and children provided by the NYCRS and adjusted, as necessary, to prepare the computations and for consistency with other data.

The following table shows, by Retirement System as of June 30, 2009, the number of deceased members with eligible survivors and the estimated annual SADB rate prior to the increase proposed to be effective as of July 1, 2010.

POLICE  288  12.6

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODS: Additional APVB have been computed based in the actuarial assumptions and methods in effect for the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuations of NYCERS, POLICE and FIRE used to determine Fiscal Year 2010 Employer Contributions.

In addition, it has also been assumed that the average age and the estimated percentage increase in benefits for survivors in receipt of benefits as of June 30, 2010 would be comparable with that for the survivors in receipt of benefits as of June 30, 2009.

The increase in estimated additional APVB was computed based on the additional Final Salary as of July 1, 2010 that was assumed to remain level in the future.

I am a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries. I meet the Qualification Standards of the American Academy of Actuaries to render the actuarial opinion contained herein.

FISCAL NOTE IDENTIFICATION: This estimate is intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the village of Port Dickinson, in the county of Broome, a participating employer in the New York state and local police and fire retirement system, which previously elected to offer the optional twenty year retirement plan, established pursuant to section 384-d of the retirement and social security law, to police officers employed by such village, is hereby authorized to make participation in such plan available to Sean D. Crouse, the chief of police, and Paul Buttacovoli, Jr., a police officer employed by the village of Port Dickinson, who, for reasons not ascribable to their own negligence failed to make timely applications to participate in such optional twenty year retirement plan.

§ 2. All employer costs associated with implementing the provisions of this act shall be borne by the village of Port Dickinson over a period of ten years.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, section 50:

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [−] is old law to be omitted.

This bill will allow the Village of Port Dickinson to elect to reopen the provisions of Section 384-d of the Retirement and Social Security Law for Police Officers Paul Butta cavoli, Jr. and Sean D. Crouse.

If this bill is enacted and the above officers become covered under Section 384-d, we anticipate that there will be an increase of approximately $2,400 in the annual contributions of the Village of Port Dickinson for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011.

In addition to the annual contributions discussed above, there will be an immediate past service cost of approximately $54,100 which would be borne by the Village of Port Dickinson. This estimate is based on the assumption that payment will be made on February 1, 2011. If this cost were amortized over a period of ten (10) years, the costs for the first year including interest would be approximately $7,460.

This estimate, dated February 5, 2010 and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-90, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill would change the Retirement and Social Security Law as it affects the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (NYSLERS) and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System (NYSLPFRS) to comply with the requirements of the Federal Older Workers' Benefit Protection Act ("OWBPA"). Provisions relating to disa-benefits would be modified to be consistent with the benefits currently being paid by the Retirement Systems, as required by OWBPA.

If this bill is enacted, there will be no increase in benefits being paid by the NYSLERS and NYSLPFRS to members or beneficiaries. Therefore, there will be no cost if this bill is enacted.

anticipate that there will be a cost to the State of New York of approx-

APPROVAL MEMORANDUM - No. 30 Chapter 538

MEMORANDUM filed with Senate Bill Number 5634, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the public authorities law, in relation to designation of certain officers and employees of subsidiary corporations as public officers or public employees"
Public Authorities Law (PAL) Section 1265(9)(a) provides that the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) and its subsidiaries may continue to provide its affected officers and employees with any retirement, disability, death or other benefits provided or required for railroad personnel pursuant to federal or State law. It then states: "Notwithstanding any provisions of the civil service law, no officer or employee of a subsidiary corporation of the authority, other than a public benefit subsidiary corporation, shall be a public officer or employee" (emphasis added).

This bill would delete the sentence above quoted. According to the sponsors, this sentence "prohibits the MTA Capital Construction Company...from hiring civil service employees, thereby requiring it to "borrow employees in professional titles such as architects, engineers, draft persons and others from parts of the MTA." The sponsors contend that the inability to hire civil service employees "lends itself to poor hiring and retention practices" and "disregard for the merit and fitness system in the agency." They also contend that allowing the MTA Capital Construction Company to hire qualified civil servants will save the MTA money because it will no longer have to contract out for these professional services.

Contrary to the sponsors' contention, the sentence at issue does not address hiring of civil service employees by subsidiaries of the MTA Capital Construction Company, and its deletion, therefore, does not bear on civil service hiring.

I understand that the provision sought to be deleted was enacted in 1965, as part of the law creating the MTA, in anticipation of the MTA acquiring the stock of the Long Island Rail Road (LIRR), to ensure that retirement, disability, death or other benefits provided or required for LIRR railroad personnel pursuant to federal or State law would not be affected by the acquisition. However, the LIRR subsequently was reorganized as a public benefit corporation, which rendered this language obsolete. Since this is a vestigial provision that no longer has any meaning, and appears to have caused some confusion, I think it wise to remove it, which result this bill accomplishes.

Finally, the sponsors assert in their memoranda that the bill would "require the MTA's subsidiary corporations to utilize public employees for their day to day operations." The bill clearly does nothing of the kind. The provision removed by this legislation did not apply to the MTA's subsidiaries, as they are all public benefit subsidiary corporations. The removal of a phrase that on its face does not apply to the MTA's subsidiaries cannot have any impact on those entities, much less compel them to make what would be, in some instances, significant changes in their operating practices. Since the text of the legislation itself does not in any way bring about the result the sponsors describe, I need not consider the merits of such a proposal in signing this bill into law.

The bill is approved.                     (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON

AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to the deferral of vacation days for certain members of the retirement system

Section 1. Section 89 of the retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new subdivision 1 to read as follows:

1. Notwithstanding the provisions of any general, special or local law, code, resolution or charter to the contrary, uniformed persons, uniformed personnel, or security hospital treatment assistants as defined in subdivision i of this section shall be afforded the option do so in such manner and form as the respective director shall so require.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

LBD14019-02-0
This bill would allow State Correction Officers and Security Hospital Treatment Assistants to postpone up to 5 days of vacation per year and take monetary payment in lieu thereof on the date of retirement.

If this bill is enacted, affected members would become eligible for increased lump sum payments at retirement. However, this legislation does not change any benefit calculations of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (ERS). Therefore, there would not be a cost to ERS.

This estimate, dated January 19, 2010, and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-81, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System.

VETO MESSAGE - No. 6723

TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Senate Bill Number 3718-A, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law and chapter 511 of the laws of 1988 amending the retirement and social security law relating to a reduction in retirement age for certain members, in relation to extending the application of such provisions"

NOT APPROVED

This bill would extend until December 31, 2011, the period of employment used to calculate a reduced retirement age for members of the New York City Employees' Retirement System ("NYCERS") who hold the position of bridge and tunnel officer, bridge and tunnel sergeant, bridge and tunnel lieutenant, assistant bridge and tunnel maintainer, senior bridge and tunnel maintainer or laborer with the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority ("TBTA members"). Currently, Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL") Article 16 provides for a reduction of the normal retirement age of 55 for TBTA members of Tier 1 and 62 for TBTA members of Tiers 2, 3 and 4. For each full year of employment occurring between December 31, 1970 and January 1, 2009, each TBTA member's normal retirement age is reduced by 4 months. Based on this calculation, these TBTA employees may retire prior to the attainment of the normal retirement age, without a reduction of their service retirement benefits.

The purpose of the bill is to extend the early retirement benefit of RSSL Article 16 to include credited service for employment through December 31, 2011. Thus, this bill would take effect immediately, be deemed to have been in full force and effect on or after December 31, 2008, and apply to employment performed by TBTA members on or before December 31, 2011 (instead of the existing cutoff of December 31, 2008). For example, if a member has 18 years of credited service as of December 31, 2008, under this extender bill he or she could reach 21 years of service as of December 31, 2011, and retire at age 55 (a reduction of seven years, or four months credit for each of the 21 years worked, from the regular retirement age of 62) without a reduction in his retirement benefits.

Supporters of the bill point to a 1987 study of the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health ("NIOSH"), which noted the early death risk to TBTA members who work in poorly ventilated tunnels and on bridges contaminated by unhealthy substances. They recount that Chapter 511 of the Laws of 1988, which enacted the TBTA early retirement benefit, was a response to the NIOSH report. The bill's proponents contend that inasmuch as the conditions noted in the study have not been abated, the legislature periodically has renewed this benefit. Supporters state that Chapter 665 of the Laws of 2007 and Chapter 91 of the Laws of 2008 created a task force to study toll plaza air quality in the City of New York, the final report of which is due in April 2011, and that this pension enhancement should be extended until the review of the findings of this study can be reviewed.

I acknowledge that the work of the TBTA members is physically demanding and performed under difficult conditions, and that over the last 22 years, the retirement age reduction benefit has served in part to recognize the hard work of TBTA members. I also believe it is important to determine any health impacts that may result from the present working conditions, so that they may be appropriately addressed. Yet those factors do not weigh in favor of extending the reduced retirement age under present conditions. The precarious fiscal condition of the State and its public authorities simply precludes the perfunctory extension of this law. Rather, I must apply the same scrutiny to this bill that ultimately led me last year to veto S.1409/A.3426, which would have extended Tier 2 pension benefits to new police officers and firefighters. As I stated at that time, state government is not operating in routine times. This sentiment is equally applicable now, when economic circumstances have demanded painful cuts to numerous important public functions, and require that the State's leadership scrutinize with great care practices whose continuation was previously taken for granted. Applying this heightened scrutiny, I cannot in good conscience extend a law that permits TBTA members to retire before their normal retirement age without a reduction in their service retirement benefits.

Many new public employees, including police officers and firefighters, now receive less generous pension benefits than their predecessors, as members of the new Tier 5 of the New York State Employees' Retirement System, or because of the veto described above. Members of NYCERS, however, were not included in the new Tier 5. The same austere fiscal reality that has constrained the benefits of other public employees, operates with respect to TBTA workers. Due to the recent economic downturn, pension costs will dramatically increase in the coming years. It would not be prudent to perpetuate this pension enhancement under such circumstances.

AN ACT to amend the civil service law, in relation to continuation of health insurance benefits for public employees injured or taken ill in performance of duty

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 159-d to read as follows:

§ 159-d. Health insurance benefits; public employees. Health insurance benefits for a public employee injured or taken ill in the performance of duty shall continue to be provided to such employee, and if applicable, his or her spouse and/or dependents, at the same rate and to the same extent as active employees within the same collective bargaining unit occupying the same civil service position, until such time as the member has returned to active service, has separated from service or retires. Nothing in this section shall diminish or impair any rights created by a collective bargaining agreement.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Senate Bill Number 5633-A, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to the deferral of vacation days for certain members of the retirement system"

NOT APPROVED

This bill would amend the Retirement and Social Security Law ("RRSL") by adding a new RRSL Section 89(1) to permit certain employees of the Department of Correctional Services ("DOCS") and the Office of Mental Health ("OMH"), including but not limited to Corrections Officers ("COs") and Security Hospital Treatment Assistants ("SHTAs"), to defer up to 5 vacation days per year and receive the value of those days in a lump-sum payment at the time of retirement. The value of such days would be calculated at the pay rate applicable to each such eligible employee at the time of his or her retirement.

Supporters of the bill assert that it would establish a new savings mechanism for COs and SHTAs, who generally get 4 to 5 weeks of vacation per year, and would reduce the need for overtime usage while some employees are on vacation. The bill's sponsors and supporters also contend that the bill is necessary to retain veteran COs within DOCS, which stands to lose in the near future a significant number of its most experienced officers to retirement. The sponsors state that by giving veteran COs an option to defer vacation days and take a cash payment for the value of such days when they retire from State service, the bill would provide an incentive to such officers to remain on the job and provide additional months of public protection at no additional cost.

I appreciate the sponsors' effort to address a workforce issue without, in their view, imposing additional costs on the State. Nonetheless, since I believe that effort is based on a faulty calculus, I am constrained to veto this bill.

The bill would increase costs for the State when eligible employees cash out their deferred vacation days. The bill is not limited to employees approaching or past retirement age, whose retention is at issue, but would in fact be applicable to over 20,000 State employees. For a new CO who works 25 years, the bill would in theory enable him or her to defer and cash out a retirement 125 deferred vacation days, the equivalent of almost one-half year's pay. Moreover, the bill would require that such deferred vacation days be paid out at the rate an employee is earning at the time of retirement. Assuming modest raises for most of the 20,000 employees who would be eligible for the deferred vacation benefit under this bill, the pay rate applicable to deferred vacation days would far exceed the rate applicable when the employees initially postponed their vacation days earlier in their careers.

Further, while proponents contend that it would cut down on overtime usage, that too is a dubious assertion. This would only be the case if DOCS regularly replaced COs on leave by use of overtime, rather than structuring its personnel usage to take such vacations into account. There is no evidence that the former is the case, and that the additional time worked as a result of this bill would result in a corresponding reduction of overtime.

In addition, a vacation deferral benefit like the one proposed in this bill should appropriately be the subject of bargaining under the Taylor Law. Vacation leave, the use of leave and payment for such leave are all negotiable terms of employment. Indeed, current agreements between the Executive Branch and the unions that represent its employees already provide for the ability of employees to cash out up to 30 days of vacation accruals at retirement. The vacation deferral benefit, which is not a retirement benefit, should only be considered in the context of collective negotiations between each bargaining unit and the State, in the context of a complete package of employee benefits and compensation. It should not be granted, in isolation, via statute.

Finally, the bill also has a substantial technical flaw that would complicate its implementation. The bill does not prescribe what would happen to an employee's deferred vacation days if an employee transfers to a title not covered by the legislation or if an employee is terminated, resigns or dies prior to his or her retirement. The lack of clarity on this issue would likely produce uncertainty and litigation.

AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to transfer of retirement membership for employees of SUNY within the professional, scientific and technical bargaining unit,

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The retirement and social security law is amended by adding a new section 618 to read as follows:

§ 618. Transfer of membership into New York state and local employees' retirement system. a. Definitions. Whenever used in this section:

1. The term "eligible employee" shall mean a person who as of the effective date of this section is an employee of the state university of New York in a position within the professional, scientific and technical bargaining unit and who is as of said effective date a member of the optional retirement program and who first became an employee of the state university of New York on a date between January first, nineteen hundred ninety-four and December thirty-first, two thousand and who is still employed by the state university of New York as of the date said employee files an application pursuant to subdivision b of this section;

2. The term "optional retirement program" shall mean the optional retirement program established pursuant to article eight-B of the education law.

b. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an eligible employee shall be allowed to become a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system by filing an application with said retirement system no later than December thirty-first, two thousand eleven.

c. An eligible employee who files an application to become a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system shall be deemed to be a member of that retirement system with a date of membership as of the date said eligible employee was first employed by the state university of New York. The eligible employee's membership in the optional retirement program shall terminate as of the date said application is filed.

d. An eligible employee who becomes a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system pursuant to subdivision b of this section shall begin accruing service credit in said retirement system as of the date such application is filed, but said eligible employee shall not be entitled to any previous service credit for any period of employment during which said eligible employee was a member of the optional retirement program, except as provided in this section. An eligible employee who becomes a member of the New York state and local employees' retirement system pursuant to subdivision b of this section may elect to purchase credit for previous service for any period during which said employee was a member of the optional retirement program by filing an application with the New York state and local employees retirement system no later than December thirty-first, two thousand eleven, and by paying to said retirement system an amount as determined by the comptroller equal to the full cost of such previous service credit purchased. Said payment may be made by a transfer of funds from the employee's optional retirement program account to the New York state and local employees' retirement system. Said payment may also be made in one payment by the employee or by payroll deduction over a period not to exceed five years.

FISCAL NOTE: Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

This bill will allow employees of the State University of New York (SUNY) in a position within the Professional, Scientific and Technical bargaining unit, who first became employed with SUNY between January 1, 1994 and December 31, 2000, and who enrolled in the Optional Retirement Program to terminate their membership in the Optional Retirement Program and to apply to become members of the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System (NYSLERS) as of such date of application. Affected members will have to pay the entire past service cost as determined by the Comptroller in order to get retirement service credit for the service rendered before their dates of membership.

If this bill is enacted, the number of employees who may be affected by this legislation cannot be readily determined. For every employee who does so elect, there will be an annual cost to the State of New York of approximately 9.2% of salary for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011. In addition to the annual cost above, for every member who elects this benefit, there will be a past service cost that will depend on the age, service and salary of the member. The members will be able to offset this cost by the transfer of funds from their Optional Retirement Program balances. For an individual member, if the amount transferred from the Optional Retirement Program is less than the past service cost, the member will have to make up the difference either as a one-time payment or by making a series of payments over a period of five (5) years.

TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:
Senate Bill Number 6967-A, entitled:

"AN ACT to authorize the town of North Greenbush to offer an optional twenty year retirement plan to certain police officers employed by such town"

NOT APPROVED

North Greenbush police officers are eligible to join an optional 20-year retirement plan authorized by Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL") Section 384-d. According to the sponsors' memoranda, seven police officers were not offered the 20-year retirement plan when they were hired. Thus, for reasons not ascribable to the negligence of the officers, they failed to make a timely application to participate in the optional 20-year retirement plan.

The bill would authorize North Greenbush to re-open the optional 20-year retirement plan authorized by RSSL Section 384-d, to allow the enrollment of these police officers: Kate Anslow, Joseph Farrell, Lisa Giddings-Fumarola, Michael Merola, Randy Pastore, Douglas Pinzer and Clifford Ruschmeyer. All past service costs associated with implementing the provisions of the bill would be borne by North Greenbush.

According to the fiscal note, the legislation would lead to an increase of approximately $21,700 in the annual pension contributions of North Greenbush for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011, and there would be an immediate past service cost of approximately $221,000, which would be borne by North Greenbush as a one-time payment.

North Greenbush originally sought this legislation. Since the Legislature passed the bill, however, it has become clear that North Greenbush would not be able to amortize the prior service cost associated with the seven officers. At the same time, current budget constraints would prevent North Greenbush from being able to pay such costs from operating funds. In light of this situation, the town supervisor and the town board of North Greenbush have indicated that they no longer support the bill.

In matters that impact only one jurisdiction, it is important to give some deference to the wishes of that local government. Inasmuch as this bill applies only to North Greenbush, and to the extent the town has indicated it does not want this bill enacted, I am constrained to veto it.

The bill is disapproved. (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON

FISCAL NOTE.--This bill will create new Sections 89-x, 603(u) and 604(u) of the Retirement and Social Security Law which will provide a new retirement benefit for employees of the New York Power Authority who are employed at the Charles Poletti Power Project. This new benefit will be available to such members who are at least age fifty, who have at least twenty-five years of service credit, and who retire between August 1, 2010 and November 1, 2010. This new benefit will be 2% of Final Average Salary for each year of service credit.

If this bill is enacted, it is estimated that there will be an immediate past service cost of approximately $2.57 million which will be borne by the New York Power Authority as a one time payment on February 1, 2011.

This cost is based on a list of sixteen eligible members supplied to us by the New York Power Authority. If other members became affected, this cost will change.

This estimate, dated December 10, 2009 and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-51, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System.
TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Senate Bill Number 7078, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to transfer of retirement membership for employees of SUNY within the professional, scientific and technical bargaining unit"

This bill would amend the Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL") by adding a new RSSL section 618 to allow certain employees of the State University of New York ("SUNY") who were hired between January 1, 1994 and December 31, 2000 to transfer their membership from the Optional Retirement Program ("ORP") to the New York State and Local Employees Retirement System ("ERS"). The former is a defined contribution plan unique to employees of the state and city university system; the latter is a "defined benefit" plan. The employees who would be eligible for such transfer are those currently employed by SUNY in positions within the professional, scientific, and technical bargaining unit (the "PST Unit"), the members of which are represented by the Public Employees Federation ("PEF"). The bill would provide that an eligible employee who transfers from ORP to ERS would be deemed to have membership in ERS from the date he or she was first employed by SUNY. An employee who transfers to ERS would have the option to purchase credit for his or her previous service for any period during which he or she was a member of ORP by paying to ERS by December 31, 2011 an amount as determined by the State Comptroller equal to the full cost of such previous service credit. Such payment could be made by a transfer of funds from the employee's ORP account to ERS, by one payment by the employee or by payroll deduction over a period not to exceed five years.

According to the sponsors' memoranda, from 1994 through 2000, some employees in temporary nursing titles were misinformed as to their retirement options and were directed to join ORP. The bill's supporters maintain that these employees should have been given the option of joining another retirement system such as ERS. They contend that when these employees became permanent, they were assigned to the PST Unit. SUNY employees in non-faculty positions who are in the PST Unit are generally eligible for membership only in ERS and do not have the option to join ORP. Education Law section 393, however, prohibits an employee from transferring from ORP to another retirement system so long as he or she is continuously employed by SUNY. As a result, these employees continue to be members of ORP despite the fact that they are employed in job titles that would typically make them eligible for membership in ERS. Thus, the bill is intended by its proponents to correct what they view as an error in the enrollment of certain members in ORP.

Unfortunately, although I am sympathetic to the purpose of this bill, I am constrained to veto it, for several reasons. First, it is not clear to me that these employees would be disadvantaged by continued membership in ORP, to which SUNY provides a generous employer contribution ranging from 8% to 13% depending on an employee’s years of service.
Second, there is no way to determine whether in fact each of the employees at issue was misled into joining the ORP, as they contend, or simply regrets his or her decision to have done so now that the financial markets are no longer performing as they had been in the late 1990's, when membership in a defined contribution plan seemed particularly advantageous. It is difficult to know, in short, how to separate the current bill from an effort in which employees seek to reverse pension choices they made after the fact.

Third, the bill's definition of an "eligible employee" who could transfer from ORP to ERS is "a person who as of the effective date of this section is an employee of the state university of New York in a position within the professional, scientific and technical bargaining unit who is as of said effective date a member of the optional retirement program and who first became an employee of the state university of New York on a date between January first, nineteen hundred ninety-four and December thirty-first, two thousand..." While supporters of the bill claim that it would apply to a limited group of temporary nursing titles, the language is broader. For example, it would encompass members of the United University Professions bargaining unit and management/confidential employees who later become part of the PS&T unit. As the Actuary for ERS points out in his fiscal note, it is not possible to determine the number of employees who may be affected by the legislation.

Fourth, while proponents contend there is no cost to this bill, that is not clear. For one thing, the annual cost of ERS next year, as a result of recent increases in contribution rates, will be higher than for ORP. Further, the bill's delineation of the process for transferring funds from ORP to ERS also creates uncertainty about the fiscal impact on the State. The bill provides that an eligible employee who becomes a member of ERS:

may elect to purchase credit for previous service for any period during which said employee was a member of the optional retirement program by filing an application with the New York state and local employees retirement system...and by paying to said retirement system an amount as determined by the comptroller equal to the full cost of such previous service credit purchased. Said payment may be made by a transfer of funds from the employee's optional retirement program account to the New York state and local employees' retirement system. Said payment may also be made in one payment by the employee or by payroll deduction over a period not to exceed five years.

The problem with this language is that it requires the eligible employee to transfer "an amount as determined by the comptroller." It is possible that the Comptroller would determine an amount less than the full cost of previous service credit, leaving it to the State to make up the difference in ERS. Indeed, the bill does not explicitly require the eligible employee to repay to ERS both the employee's and the employer's share of previous service credit he or she earned in ORP. This lack of specificity contrast with previous laws authorizing employees to buy back service credit. For example, Chapter 157 of the Laws of 2010, which authorized certain employees of the New York City Construction Authority to purchase service credit for a period during which they were suspended from work, expressly required the employee to pay both the employee's and employer's share. In any case, even if this issue could be clarified via representations of the bill's supporters and the Comptroller, the bill would still be problematic for the reasons above stated.

The bill is disapproved.       (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON

AN ACT to amend the local finance law, in relation to authorizing and empowering the city of Kingston to amortize the cost of payments to employees upon separation of service from the city

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Paragraph a of section 11.00 of the local finance law is amended by adding a new subdivision 105 to read as follows:

105. Payments by the city of Kingston to employees upon separation from employment, as may be approved by the city and including, but not limited to, cash payment for separation incentives and/or payment of the monetary value of accrued and accumulated but unused and unpaid sick leave, personal leave, holiday leave, vacation time, time allowances granted in lieu of overtime compensation and any other forms of payment required to be paid to such employees upon separation from employment, ten years.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

TO THE ASSEMBLY:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Assembly Bill Number 9950, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the local finance law, in relation to authorizing and empowering the city of Kingston to amortize the cost of payments to employees upon separation of service from the city"
In August 2009 and December 2009, the City of Kingston ("Kingston") offered its retirement-eligible employees a $10,000 incentive to separate from service (the "2009 retirement incentive") between January 1 and March 31, 2010. Of the 25 employees eligible for the 2009 retirement incentive, 14 applied, representing about 4% of Kingston's workforce. The total cost of the 2009 retirement incentive was $451,803, reflecting $140,000 for the incentive payments, $279,696 for accrued leave time, and $32,107 for the FICA tax on each. Kingston has eliminated 12 of the 14 positions, for an estimated annual savings of $785,423, or 2.4% of the city's 2009 General Fund expenditures of $33.4 million.

This bill would authorize Kingston to finance the cost of the 2009 retirement incentive. Specifically, it would amend Local Finance Law (LFL) section 11.00(a) to establish a 10-year period of probable usefulness ("PPU") for payments by Kingston to employees upon their separation from service, including but not limited to retirement incentives and the monetary value of unused leave time. By establishing a 10-year PPU for such purpose, Kingston could finance such payments through the issuance of bonds with a maximum stated maturity equal to such PPU. Under current law, Kingston has no authority to issue bonds to finance a retirement incentive and the monetary value of unused leave time because the LFL does not establish a PPU for the purpose.

Kingston's 2010 budget assumes the City will issue bonds to finance the cost of the retirement incentive. Without this legislation, I understand that Kingston could face a $451,803 shortfall in its 2010 General Fund budget of $34.6 million, representing approximately 1.3% of budgeted appropriations, and Kingston would have to address this gap by enacting midyear spending cuts or using reserves, or both. Kingston's unreserved General Fund balance as of December 31, 2009, was $1.72 million - just over 5% of its 2009 General Fund revenues of $34.2 million.

Kingston, like all governments operating in these economically difficult times, is subject to significant budgetary constraints. But I do not believe that there is any advantage to be gained by the imprudent use of debt to avoid harsh fiscal realities. Indeed, my administration has continually cautioned and decided against improvident borrowing to fund state government operations. In my view, this thinking should also inform the policy choices that affect local government finances.

Kingston should not have made the dubious assumption in its 2010 budget that it would receive authorization to finance the costs of its retirement incentive with bond proceeds. Separation incentives represent a one-time operating expense that should not be financed by issuing long-term bonds. Rather, employers generally finance such incentives with a portion of the associated current-year benefit and salary savings - which the State did last year (2009-10), for example, when it offered a $20,000 separation incentive that was funded as a 2009-10 operating expense - an option that Kingston has precluded by booking the full savings in its budget.

If a local government nonetheless wishes to fund an early retirement incentive with debt, such financing should conform to guidance issued by the Government Finance Officers Association, which recommends that bonds
used to finance an early retirement incentive should mature in no more than three to five years. Thus, for example, the State prescribed a five-year PPU for the incentive programs of Suffolk County and the Middletown School District. And while the State last year permitted Nassau County and Rockland County to finance using a 10-year PPU, those exceptional cases were justified by unique circumstances not present with respect to Kingston. Both counties were facing severe budgetary problems as a result of the significant decline in sales tax collections that occurred in 2009. Rockland County experienced an $11 million General Fund deficit in 2009 even after borrowing $11.4 million to fund its retirement incentive program. Nassau County reported a modest $1.2 million budgetary surplus in its primary operating funds in 2009, but only after borrowing $80 million to finance its retirement incentive program and $64.5 million to finance tax certiorari payments. In Nassau's case, the longer term was also justified by the high cost of the incentive, which accelerated the retirement of County police officers whose collective bargaining agreement provided for many such officers to receive termination pay of more than double their annual salary upon retirement. Kingston, in contrast, is not reporting a substantial operating deficit in its current year and, if necessary, can pay the $451,803 cost of the 2009 retirement incentive by using a portion of its unreserved fund balance, which totaled around $1.7 million in 2009.

I am also troubled by the bill's open-ended authorization. The bill does not specify a period of time or particular event during which the bonds may be used. Insofar as the bill in theory would permit Kingston, in future years, to issue bonds to finance additional retirement incentives or even routine separation costs, it may encourage unsound fiscal practices in subsequent difficult budget years. This concern, moreover, is not merely theoretical. Indeed, it is my understanding that Nassau County, using the similar, open-ended authorization it received last year, plans to issue bonds again this year to finance another retirement incentive.

I empathize with Kingston concerning the tough governmental choices that will be required in the absence of this legislation. I am confident, however, that in the long run, the fiscal condition of Kingston, and ultimately the State, will be stronger if we do not look to imprudent borrowing as a quick fix to the current predicament. This bill would establish the wrong precedent, and I am therefore compelled to veto it.

The bill is disapproved. (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON
AN ACT to authorize the town of North Greenbush to offer an optional twenty year retirement plan to certain police officers employed by such town.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the town of North Greenbush, a participating employer in the New York state and local police and fire retirement system, which previously elected to offer the optional twenty year retirement plan, established pursuant to section 384-d of the retirement and social security law, to police officers employed by such town, is hereby authorized to make participation in such plan available to Kate Anslow, Joseph Farrell, Lisa Giddings-Fumarola, Michael Merola, Randy Pastore, Douglas Pinzer and Clifford Ruschmeyer, police officers employed by the town of North Greenbush, who, for reasons not ascribable to their own negligence, failed to make a timely application to participate in such optional twenty year retirement plan. The town of North Greenbush may so elect by filing with the state comptroller, on or before December 31, 2010, a resolution of its local legislative body together with certification that such police officers did not bar themselves from participation in such retirement plan as a result of their own negligence. Thereafter, such police officers may elect to be covered by the provisions of section 384-d of the retirement and social security law, and shall be entitled to the full rights and benefits associated with coverage under such section, by filing a request to that effect with the state comptroller on or before June 30, 2011.
§ 2. All past service costs associated with implementing the provisions of this act shall be borne by the town of North Greenbush.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:
This bill will allow the Town of North Greenbush to reopen the provisions of Section 384-d of the Retirement and Social Security Law for police officers Kate Anslow, Joseph Farrell, Lisa Giddings-Fumarola, Michael Merola, Randy Pastore, Douglas Pinzer and Clifford Ruschmeyer.
If this legislation is enacted during the 2010 legislative session, we anticipate that there will be an increase of approximately $21,700 in the annual contributions of the Town of North Greenbush for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011.
In addition to the annual contributions discussed above, there will be an immediate past service cost of approximately $221,000, which would be borne by the Town of North Greenbush as a one-time payment. This estimate is based on the assumption that payment will be made on February 1,
This estimate, dated June 9, 2010 and intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2010-172, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Senate Bill Number 6785, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the civil service law, in relation to continuation of health insurance benefits for public employees injured or taken ill in performance of duty"

NOT APPROVED

This bill would amend the Civil Service Law ("CSL") by adding a new CSL Section 159-d to require that health insurance benefits for a public employee injured or taken ill in the performance of duty continue to be provided to such employee, and if applicable, to his or her spouse and dependents, at the same rate and to the same extent as active employees within the same collective bargaining unit occupying the same civil service position. Such coverage would continue until such time as the member has returned to active service, has separated from service or retires.

Supporters of the bill justify it on the grounds that in certain cases where a public employee is injured or becomes ill in the performance of duty, his or her employer may suspend the employee's health insurance coverage. While the effect of the suspension of such insurance coverage may be ameliorated by alternate sources such as workers' compensation for an employee, the employee's spouse and other dependents may be uncovered for a period of time during the employee's period of injury or illness.

While I recognize the importance and value of health insurance to injured workers and their dependents, the following considerations constrain me to veto the bill.

The bill does not define the phrase "injured or taken ill in the performance of duty." This ambiguity raises questions such as what constitutes an injury, and what kind of illness would trigger the requirement to continue health insurance. In addition, the bill fails to specify whether the injury or illness must be directly related to the employee's work duties. As written, the bill could apply to an employee who experienced a medical emergency at his or her worksite that is unrelated to the performance of that employee's work. Thus, the bill would create a situation where any public employee who suffers any illness or injury at the workplace, regardless of whether it is related to his or her work duties, would be entitled to the continued health insurance benefit provided by the bill. Taken together, these ambiguities would produce significant additional costs for the State and local governments. At the very least, they would create disputes and litigation.

The bill contains other ambiguities. It does not define the term "public employee." As a result, the bill could reasonably be interpreted to mean all employees of the State, its political subdivisions, school districts, public colleges and universities, public authorities, and any other public entity. To the extent the bill would require local governments to provide health insurance coverage to individuals who would not otherwise be eligible for coverage, without providing funding, it would be an unfunded mandate that would increase costs to local governments and their taxpayers. For this reason, the New York State Conference of Mayors and Municipal Officials ("NYCOM") and the Association of Towns of the State of New York ("AOT") oppose the bill.

Drafting issues aside, the use of a statute to provide this health insurance benefit is itself problematic. The additional benefits provided by this bill should appropriately be addressed in collective bargaining. This bill, however, would statutorily require public employers to provide continued health insurance to injured or ill employees, without those employers being able to gain something in return in the normal give-and-take of negotiations. While many of the collective bargaining agreements already contain a similar benefit for many State employees, in those cases, the benefit was agreed to in the context of overall negotiations. This bill, instead, would provide a generous benefit outside the context of the collective bargaining process.

Finally, the bill would impose administrative costs that should not be overlooked. Most public employees pay for their health insurance with payroll deductions from their paychecks. But an individual who is injured in the performance of duties typically would be eligible for benefits under the Workers' Compensation Law. In that case, he or she would not continue to receive a paycheck from the public employer unless there was a contractually negotiated benefit that supplements the workers' compensation benefit. Many public employers, then, would not have a mechanism in place to collect the employee's share of the health insurance premium and would need to implement a new process for collecting such employee's share. This would create additional costs for the employer in terms of administration of this benefit and the collection of those monies.

AN ACT to amend the public authorities law, in relation to the suspension of certain employees of the New York city school construction authority

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 1738 of the public authorities law, as added by chapter 738 of the laws of 1988, is amended to read as follows:

§ 1738. Retirement of employees. 1. Employees of the authority shall be eligible to join the board of education retirement system as established in section twenty-five hundred seventy-five of the education law and pursuant to the usual rules of that system, provided that a new employee who upon appointment by or transfer to the authority is a member of the New York city employees retirement system may remain a member of the New York city employees retirement system if, within ninety days of the effective date of the transfer to or appointment by the authority, the employee exercises an election to do so. Furthermore, the retirement rights of employees of the city board employed on the effective date of this title shall not be impaired by reason of the enactment of this title into law.

2. a. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other general or local law, administrative code or ordinance to the contrary, any employee of the authority who was suspended on or after December first, two thousand

two because of economy measures taken by the authority, and who returned to such service prior to January eighth, two thousand eight, shall be deemed to have been in continuous service in determining length of service for retirement purposes; provided, however, that for retirement purposes, a member receiving such service credit shall pay the additional member contributions prescribed by paragraph b of this subdivision. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a person who otherwise meets the requirements of this paragraph for obtaining retirement service credit for such period of suspension, and who, after returning to such service from such period of suspension, retired for service or disability from a position with the authority prior to the effective date of this subdivision, may obtain retirement service credit for such period of suspension by (i) filing with the retirement system an application to purchase such retirement service credit within one hundred twenty days after the effective date of this subdivision, and (ii) paying to the retirement system the amount required by paragraph b of this subdivision within one year after the effective date of this subdivision.

b. In addition to the regular member contributions that may be payable for his or her current service, such member shall pay by deductions from his or her compensation the following additional member contributions:
(i) all regular member contributions which such member would have been required to pay to the retirement system for such period of suspension if he or she had been in service during such period of suspension; and (ii) if such member is a participant in a special plan, the additional member contributions attributable to participation in such special plan which he or she would have been required to pay to the retirement system for such period of suspension if he or she had been in service during such period of suspension; and
(iii) an amount equivalent to the additional costs to the employer of providing retirement service credit to such member for such period of suspension, as determined by the actuary for the retirement system.

c. The deductions for the additional member contributions referred to in paragraph b of this subdivision shall be made in accordance with such equitable method and over such equitable period of time as shall be prescribed by the executive director of the member's retirement system with the approval of the board of trustees.
d. The additional member contributions referred to in subparagraph (i) of paragraph b of this subdivision shall be paid into the account established by the retirement system for the deposit and accumulation of such member's regular member contributions. The additional member contributions referred to in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph b of this subdivision shall be paid into the contingent reserve fund of such retirement system and shall be subject to the provisions of law which govern additional member contributions in the special plan in which such member is a participant. The additional member contributions referred to in subparagraph (iii) of paragraph b of this subdivision shall be paid into the contingent reserve fund of such retirement system and shall not be subject to any retirement system right or privilege of such member, unless such right or privilege is granted by other provisions of law which specifically refer to additional member contributions made pursuant to subparagraph (iii) of paragraph b of this subdivision.
e. At any time prior to completion of the deductions for the additional member contributions referred to in paragraph b of this subdivision, payment of the remainder of the total of such additional contributions required by such paragraph may be made in a lump sum.
§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50: PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION: This proposed legislation would amend Public Authorities Law Section 1738 to provide certain employees of the New York City School Construction Authority ("SCA") an opportunity to buy back service credit for time while suspended for economy measures on and after December 1, 2002 until their return to such service prior to January 8, 2008.

It is the understanding of the Actuary that the opportunity to buy back service credit would be voluntary and this Fiscal Note reflects that understanding.

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be the date of enactment.

IMPACT ON MEMBERSHIP: The proposed legislation would cover those Tier IV members of the New York City Employees' Retirement System ("NYCERS") and the New York City Board of Education Retirement System ("BERS") employed by SCA who were suspended on or after December 1, 2002 and who returned to such service prior to January 8, 2008, including those who may have retired prior to the Effective Date (collectively, "Returning Furloughed Members").

The Returning Furloughed Members participate in one of the following plans:

- Basic Plan - Unreduced Service Retirement at attainment of age 62 and completion of five years of credited service or Reduced Service Retirement after attainment of age 55 and completion of five years of credited service, or
- 55/25 Early Retirement Program - Unreduced Service Retirement at attainment of age 55 and completion of 25 years of credited service, or
- 57/5 Program - Unreduced Service Retirement at attainment of age 57 and completion of 5 years of credited service.

IMPACT ON MEMBER CONTRIBUTIONS: Returning Furloughed Members of NYCERS and BERS would be permitted to voluntarily buy back service credit for their periods of suspension. It is the understanding of the Actuary that this would be permitted at any time prior to retirement for active employees.

Those Returning Furloughed Members who retired, subsequent to reemployment, for Service Retirement or for Disability Retirement, would be permitted to voluntarily buy back service credit for their periods of suspension prior to retirement by filing within 120 days of the Effective Date.

The following amounts would be required to be paid by each Returning Furloughed Member for each period of suspension, including accrued interest at a rate of 5.0% per annum:

Basic Member Contributions ("BMC"): A rate of 3.0% of salary per year, during the first 10 years of membership or to the date of 10 years of credited service, if earlier.

Additional Member Contributions ("AMC"): For those participating in the 55/25 Early Retirement Program or the 57/5 Program, a rate of 1.85% of salary per year not to exceed 30 years.

Extra Member Contributions ("EMC"): An amount, as determined by the Actuary, equivalent to the additional costs to the employer of providing retirement service credit for the period of suspension.

For active employees, the method of payment, including the amount of periodic deduction from payroll and the time period needed to purchase the suspension time, would be prescribed by the respective Executive Director and approved by the Board of Trustees for each of NYCERS and BERS.

For retirees who voluntarily elect to purchase service credits for their suspension time, the time period needed to purchase such service credits would be within one year of election.

The proposed legislation would also permit Returning Furloughed Members to make a lump sum payment equal to the balance owed on any BMC, AMC, and EMC to fully purchase such service credits.

EMC contributions would be considered employer contributions and would not be available for loan or refund.

IMPACT ON BENEFITS: The proposed legislation, if enacted, would permit Returning Furloughed Members to voluntarily acquire service credits for their periods of suspension.

Once acquired, these additional service credits would result in a Returning Furloughed Member having a greater retirement allowance and possibly an earlier vesting date, an earlier retirement date and other advantages.

In the event a Returning Furloughed Member were to terminate employment prior to completing the purchase of service credits for the entire suspension period, then the amount of service credited for such suspension period would be prorated based on the amount of layoff time considered purchased.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - EMPLOYER COST: The ultimate cost of a pension plan is the benefits it pays. The financing of that ultimate cost depends upon the amounts deposited by the employer and employee, the investment return and the actuarial assumptions and methods employed.

Under the proposed legislation any additional retirement benefit costs to purchase service credits for suspension time are intended to be borne by the members.

Thus, the enactment of the proposed legislation would be expected to be cost neutral to the City of New York and would not be expected to increase employer costs to NYCERS or BERS.

Thus, any increase in benefits after crediting service for suspension time would be paid for in full by the BMC, AMC and EMC of Returning Furloughed Members.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: If the proposed legislation were enacted during the 2010 Legislative Session prior to June 30, 2010 or after June 30, 2010 and prior to June 30, 2011, there would be no expected change in employer contributions to NYCERS or to BERS for Fiscal Year 2010 or after.

OTHER COSTS: Not measured in this Fiscal Note are any other possible non-retirement benefit costs such as increased administrative costs or additional medical costs or increases in the costs of certain Other Post-Employment Benefits ("OPEB") attributable to the potential earlier retirements of Returning Furloughed Members.

STATEMENT OF ACTUARIAL OPINION: I, Robert C. North, Jr., am the Chief Actuary for the New York City Retirement Systems. I am a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries. I meet the Qualification Standards of the American Academy of Actuaries to render the actuarial opinion contained herein.

FISCAL NOTE IDENTIFICATION: This estimate is intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session. It is Fiscal Note 2010-02, dated January 27, 2010, prepared by the Chief Actuary for the New York City Employees' Retirement System and the New York City Board of Education Retirement System.
Due to a fiscal crisis, the New York City School Construction Authority (SCA) laid off certain employees beginning December 1, 2002. These employees, who were able to return to active service by January 8, 2008, were unable to earn pension credit during the time they were not working.

This bill would provide these SCA employees an opportunity to buy back service credit for time during which they were suspended from their employment due to difficult economic circumstances, beginning December 1, 2002 and ending when they returned to such service on or before January 8, 2008.

In general, I do not favor a policy of permitting employees to buy back service credit to cover periods when they were not working. Typically, such buy-back authorizations allow employees to increase their pensions by purchasing years of service, which they can count toward their retirement, without paying the full actuarial costs of those benefits.

In this case, however, the bill has been constructed so that all costs would be covered by the employees themselves. An employee seeking to buy back service credit would pay the regular member contributions which he or she would have been required to pay to the retirement system for the lay-off period, if he or she had been in service during such period. In addition, the employee would pay an amount equivalent to the additional costs to the employer of providing retirement service credit to such member for the period of the layoff, as determined by the actuary for the retirement system. As a result, the fiscal note on the bill indicates it would impose no costs on the employer or on the pension system.

Insofar as the bill does not impose any cost on the SCA and the SCA does not oppose it, such a proposal is appropriate in this limited instance, under these limited factual circumstances.

The bill is approved. (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON

§ 5. This act shall take effect July 1, 2010, except that if it shall have become a law subsequent to such date, this act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after July 1, 2010.

FISCAL NOTE.—Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION — OVERVIEW:

The enactment of this proposed legislation (referred to hereafter as "Interest Rate Extender Legislation") would amend Administrative Code of the City of New York ("ACNY") Section 13-638.2 to continue for Fiscal Year 2011 for the five actuarially-funded New York City Retirement Systems ("NYCRS") the following rates that expire on June 30, 2010:

* The 8.25% per annum rate used to credit interest on Tier I and Tier II member account balances and Increased-Take-Home-Pay ("ITHP") Reserves, and
* The 8.0% per annum Actuarial Interest Rate ("AIR") assumption used to compute employer contributions.

The Effective Date for this proposed Interest Rate Extender Legislation would be July 1, 2010.

FINANCIAL IMPACT — EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: The continuation for Fiscal Year 2011 of the same 8.25% per annum rate that was used for Fiscal Year 2010 to credit interest on Tier I and Tier II member contributions and ITHP Reserves would not change the amount or timing of expected employer contributions.

The continuation for Fiscal Year 2011 of the AIR assumption of 8.0% per annum that was used to determine employer contributions to the NYCRS for Fiscal Year 2010 would not change the expected amount or timing of employer contributions.

Note: The Actuary anticipates developing proposed changes in actuarial assumptions and methods to be effective for Fiscal Year 2011 but not until sometime during Fiscal Year 2011.

The financial impact of implementing those proposed changes in actuarial assumptions and methods can be expected to differ from the financial impact determined using the actuarial assumptions and methods continued from Fiscal Year 2010.
OTHER COSTS: Enactment of this proposed legislation would not be expected to produce any additional costs.

STATEMENT OF ACTUARIAL OPINION: I, Robert C. North, Jr., am the Chief Actuary for the New York City Retirement Systems. I am a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries and a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries. I meet the Qualification Standards of the American Academy of Actuaries to render the actuarial opinion contained herein.

FISCAL NOTE IDENTIFICATION: This estimate is intended for use only during the 2010 Legislative Session. It is Fiscal Note 2010-11, dated March 24, 2010, prepared by the Chief Actuary for the New York City Retirement Systems.
AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to the definition of the term final average salary as applied to members of the New York city teachers' retirement system

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivisions b and d of section 443 of the retirement and social security law, subdivision b as added by chapter 379 of the laws of 1986 and subdivision d as added by chapter 663 of the laws of 1990, are amended to read as follows:

If a member has been employed for more than one year but less than two years, then the member's final average salary shall be the average of the first year and projected second year earnings based upon the calculation above, and if more than two years, but less than three years, then one-third the total of the first two years of employment plus the projected third year's earnings, calculated as indicated above.

§ 2. Subdivisions b and c of section 512 of the retirement and social security law, subdivision b as added by chapter 379 of the laws of 1986 and subdivision c as added by chapter 663 of the laws of 1990, are amended to read as follows:

b. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision a of this section, with respect to members of the New York state employees' retirement system and the New York city teachers' retirement system, a member's final average salary shall be equal to one-third of the highest total wages earned by such member during any continuous period of employment for which the member was credited with three years of service credit; provided, however, if the wages earned during any year of credited service included in the period used to determine final average salary exceeds the average of the wages of the previous two years of credited service by more than ten percent, the amount in excess of ten percent shall be excluded from the computation of final average salary.

c. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions a and b of this section, the final average salary of an employee who has been a member of the New York city employees' retirement system or the New York city teachers' retirement system for less than one year shall be the projected one year salary, with the calculation based upon a twelve month projection of the sums earned in the portion of the year worked. (a) section one of this act shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after July 1, 1973;

(b) section two of this act shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after July 27, 1976; and

In general, the modifications in the calculations of FAS would impact a very limited number of retirees and would generally define those current and future calculations to be consistent with current administrative practice.

If not enacted, significant issues would arise regarding identifying and then recalculating reduced benefits for some existing retirees.

IMPACT ON FAS CALCULATIONS: Computation of FAS for Tier II, Tier III and Tier IV NYCTRS members is generally based on an average of any three consecutive years of salary preceding retirement date which produces the greatest average.

The yearly salaries that are used to compute this average cannot exceed the "Kingston Limit" applicable for that Tier. The Kingston Limit does not permit that portion of an annual salary that exceeds the average of the immediate two preceding salaries by a percentage ("Kingston Limit Percentage") to be used in an FAS calculation.

For Tier II members the Kingston Limit Percentage is 20%.
For Tier III and Tier IV members the Kingston Limit Percentage is 10%. In actuality, FAS for a Tier II, Tier III or Tier IV NYCTRS member is generally calculated on the basis of any consecutive 36-month period that produces the greatest average.

Under current law, if a Tier II, Tier III or Tier IV NYCTRS member were to have a period of service interrupted by a Leave of Absence ("LOA") (with partial pay or without pay) of less than or equal to 12 months in the 36-month period preceding retirement date, then an equal number of months of earned salary preceding the interruption would be substituted for these months to compute the greatest FAS. Thus, as much as a 48-month period preceding retirement could be used for FAS purposes.

Under current law, if the time period on a LOA (with partial pay or without pay) within the 36 months preceding retirement date were to exceed 12 months, then only the earned salary during the 48 months preceding retirement would be used and the NYCTRS member would have a lesser FAS.

Note: If greater, FAS may also be based on any three consecutive years of service, not necessarily the final three years of active employment.

Under current administrative practice, however, FAS is computed to be equal to one-third of the total earnings for the continuous employment period preceding retirement date for which a NYCTRS member receives three years of service credit, subject to the Kingston Limits.

Under the proposed legislation, which would codify current administrative practice, there would be no limit as to how long a Tier II, Tier III or Tier IV NYCTRS member could be on a LOA (with partial pay or without pay) provided the entire span of time used to measure the FAS constituted a continuous period of employment for which the NYCTRS member received three years of service credit, subject to the Kingston Limits.

IMPACT OF BENEFITS: This proposed legislation would define FAS to be generally consistent with current administrative practice. It would directly impact the retirement benefits computed based on FAS for Tier II, Tier III and Tier IV NYCTRS members whose employment was interrupted for a LOA (with partial pay or without pay) of more than 12 months without the 36 months preceding retirement date.

Thus, for certain NYCTRS members the proposed legislation could impact the calculation of certain benefits, including:

- Service Retirement Benefits,
- Disability Retirement Benefits, and
- Vested Deferred Retirement Benefits.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ADDITIONAL ACTUARIAL PRESENT VALUES: The additional Actuarial Present Values ("APV") would depend on the number, salaries, ages and lengths of service of impacted Tier II, Tier III and Tier IV NYCTRS members whose employment near retirement was interrupted by periods of LOA (with partial pay or without pay) that exceeds 12 months.

Based on the actuarial assumptions and methods noted herein, the APV of future benefits ("APVB") would increase by approximately $11.0 million as of June 30, 2009.

FINANCIAL IMPACT – EMPLOYER COST: The ultimate cost of a pension plan is the benefits it pays. The financing of that ultimate cost depends upon the actuarial assumptions and methods employed.

In the case of this proposed legislation, the real cost may more accurately be described as the cost of benefits not otherwise reduced.
If the additional APVB is amortized over the working lifetimes of members, then the additional employer costs would equal approximately $1.1 million per year.

ADDITIONAL EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS - GENERAL: In general, the real cost of the enactment of this proposed legislation would be the additional benefits paid.

However, the timing and amount of additional employer contributions attributable to the enactment of this proposed legislation depends most upon three factors:

First, the point in time when the Actuary revises actuarial assumptions and methods to reflect estimated LOA in excess of 12 months of active members who are expected to retire with service, disability or vested deferred benefits.

This level of refinement to actuarial assumptions and methods used in the actuarial valuations of NYCTRS is unlikely ever to occur.

Second, the point in time when the Actuary creates actuarial assumptions to reflect increased expectations of certain active members retiring with LOA (with partial pay or without pay) in excess of 12 months.

This also is so immaterial as to be unlikely for the Actuary to develop any such actuarial assumptions.

Third, the impact on employer contributions of any actuarial gains or losses attributable to retirement allowances being computed on the modified FAS computation basis.

This is the most likely form of implementation and would result in the amortization of the difference in value of benefits over the working lifetimes of active members of NYCTRS.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ADDITIONAL EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS - FISCAL YEAR 2010: If this proposed legislation is enacted during the current Legislative Session before June 30, 2010, there would be no increase in employer contributions to NYCTRS for Fiscal Year 2010.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ADDITIONAL EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS - FISCAL YEARS 2011 AND LATER: If this proposed legislation is enacted during the current Legislative Session after June 30, 2010 and before June 30, 2011, the Actuary anticipates no change in employer contributions to NYCTRS for Fiscal Year 2011.

For Fiscal Years 2012 and later, employer contributions would increase by approximately 10.1% of the additional APVB attributable to the value of modified increased benefits that result from the methodology to compute FAS of certain NYCTRS members whose benefits are determined during the second preceding Fiscal Year (reflects the One-Year Lag methodology). In effect, the additional APVB would be amortized over the future working lifetimes of active members of NYCTRS.

Additional annual employer contributions for this proposed legislation would eventually tend to approximate the estimated additional annual employer costs.

OTHER COSTS: Not measured in this Fiscal Note is the impact on administrative costs that would be significantly greater if the current administrative procedures must be modified (i.e., administrative costs would increase if this proposed legislation is not enacted).

CENSUS DATA: The census data used for the estimates of APVB and employer costs presented herein include 1,344 active Tier II members with salaries of approximately $139.0 million and 108,292 active Tier IV members with salaries of approximately $7,503.1 million included in the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuation of NYCTRS who could be potentially impacted by this proposed legislation.
In addition, approximately 19,146 Tier II and Tier IV retired members receiving retirement allowances of approximately $443.8 million were included from the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuation of NYCTRS for such purposes.

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODS: Additional APVB and employer costs are based on the results of the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuation of NYCTRS using the actuarial assumptions and methods in effect as of June 30, 2008, including the One-Year Lag methodology.

Additional APVB was estimated as of June 30, 2008 based upon the reduction in benefits determined under the proposed legislation for a sample of current retirees. For current retirees, additional APVB is based on the assumption that approximately 1.0% of these current retirees would be impacted and the difference in their benefits would be approximately 5.0%.

With respect to the active members of the NYCTRS, it has been assumed that approximately 0.5% of future retirees would be impacted and the difference in their benefits would be approximately 5.0%.

Additional employer costs have been estimated assuming the additional APV of employer costs are financed through future normal contributions. Additional APVB and additional employer costs were rolled-forward to June 30, 2009 on an interest-only basis.

AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law, in relation to re-employment of retired persons by the board of higher education of the city of New York

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1  Section 1. Subparagraph 3 of paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 of section 211 of the retirement and social security law, as amended by chapter 753 of the laws of 1976, is amended to read as follows:

   (3) the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York if such person is to be employed in a position in the service of the city of New York or in the classified service in the board of education [or board of higher education] of such city; or

2  § 2. Subparagraph 5 of paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 of section 211 of the retirement and social security law, as amended by chapter 753 of the laws of 1976, is amended to read as follows:

   (5) the board of higher education of the city of New York if such person is to be employed in the classified or unclassified service under the board of higher education of the city of New York; or

3  § 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION: With respect to the New York city Retirement System ("NYCRS"), this proposed legislation would amend Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL") Section 211 to revise the approval procedure for certain retirees reemployed pursuant to such Section.

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be the date of enactment.

IMPACT ON RETIREE REEMPLOYMENT PROCEDURES: Retired members of the NYCRS are permitted to return to employment in the service of New York

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [—] is old law to be omitted.
State ("NYS") or any of its political divisions. In particular, for certain New York City ("NYC") employment positions designated as:

A. Classified positions (i.e., non-pedagogical staff) for the Board of Education of NYC (now the NYC Department of Education ("NYC DOE")), or for the Board of Higher Education of NYC (now the City University of New York ("CUNY")),

B. Unclassified positions (i.e., pedagogical staff) for the Board of Education of NYC and Board of Higher Education of NYC, and

C. Other NYC employment for positions at other than the Board of Education of NYC or Board of Higher Education of NYC.

Note: The remainder of this Fiscal Note will generally utilize the historical terminology that most closely follows the statutory language.

For those retired employees who wish to elect to be rehired in such public service under the provisions of RSSL Section 211, one of the following entities needs to approve such rehire:

* For all classified Board of Education of NYC positions, all classified Board of Higher Education of NYC positions, and, as noted in C above, other NYC employment, the Municipal Civil Service Commission of NYC (now the NYC Department of Citywide Administrative Services ("DCAS")).

* For all unclassified NYC positions in the Board of Education of NYC, the Chancellor of the City School district of NYC.

* For all unclassified NYC positions in the Board of Higher Education of NYC, the Board of Higher Education of NYC.

Under the proposed legislation, the authority of the Municipal Civil Service Commission of NYC with respect to the approval of classified positions with the Board of Higher Education of NYC would be transferred to the Board of Higher Education of NYC.

The proposed legislation, if enacted, does not alter the responsibilities of the prospective employer with regard to the retired members. However, the prospective employer would need to be aware that the classified positions with the Board of Higher Education of NYC would require the approval of the Board of Higher Education of NYC.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES: Currently, the approvals for the rehiring of NYCRS members for classified service in the Board of Higher Education are made by DCAS. Any expenses which arise in connection with this processing are currently funded by an allocation from the NYC budget.

If the proposed legislation were enacted, such approvals required for Board of Higher Education of NYC classified service would be transferred to the Board of Higher Education of NYC.

The Actuary does not anticipate that enactment of the proposed legislation would change the number of retirees who become reemployed in such public service at CUNY.

However, the allocations from the NYC budget for DCAS expenses could be reduced and the allocations from the Board of Higher Education of NYC budget could be increased.

Given the limited number of retirees potentially impacted, the Actuary anticipates that the workload and financial impacts on DCAS and the Board of Higher Education of NYC workloads would be marginal.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS: With respect to the NYCRS, the enactment of this proposed legislation would be expected to result in only minimal, if any, changes in employer contributions to the New York City Teachers' Retirement System ("NYCTRS") or the New York City Board of Education Retirement System ("BERS").
Such changes in administrative expenses of TRS and BERS would occur only if these organizations were to need to expend funds to revise existing procedures to handle the change in approving entity for rehired retirees.

AN ACT to amend the retirement and social security law and chapter 511 of the laws of 1988 amending the retirement and social security law relating to a reduction in retirement age for certain members, in relation to extending the application of such provisions

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Paragraph (ii) of subdivision a of section 651 of the retirement and social security law, as amended by chapter 225 of the laws of 2006, is amended to read as follows:

(ii) For each full year of covered employment occurring prior to January first, two thousand twelve which is subsequent to December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy, his or her normal retirement age shall be reduced by four months.

§ 2. Section 2 of chapter 511 of the laws of 1988, amending the retirement and social security law relating to a reduction in retirement age for certain members, as amended by chapter 225 of the laws of 2006, is amended to read as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately, and shall apply only to covered employment performed on or before December 31, 2011.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after December 31, 2008.

FISCAL NOTE.--Pursuant to Legislative Law, Section 50:

PROVISIONS OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION: This proposed legislation would amend Retirement and Social Security Law ("RSSL") Section 651.a(ii) to extend special unreduced early retirement provisions for certain members of the New York City Employees’ Retirement System ("NYCERS").

The Effective Date of the proposed legislation would be the date of enactment.

MEMBERS IMPACTED BY THE PROPOSED LEGISLATION: The proposed legislation would cover those members of NYCERS ("Covered Members") who are employed at the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority ("TBTA") in the following job titles:

* Bridge and Tunnel Officer,
* Bridge and Tunnel Sergeant,
* Bridge and Tunnel Lieutenant,
* Assistant Bridge and Tunnel Maintainer,
* Bridge and Tunnel Maintainer,
* Senior Bridge and Tunnel Maintainer, and
* Bridge and Tunnel Laborer.

IMPACT ON BENEFITS PAYABLE: Under the provisions of Article 16 of the RSSL, Covered Members are entitled to retire without a reduction in Retirement Allowance prior to attainment of Normal Retirement Age ("NRA") defined as:

* Age 55 - for Tier I members.
* Age 62 - for Tier II, Tier III and Tier IV members.

The Period Without Reduction Before NRA ("PWRBN") is determined in accordance with a schedule which is based upon years of employment in one of the above job titles ("Covered Employment"):

* For Covered Employment before January 1, 1971, six months per year of service.
* For Covered Employment between January 1, 1971 and December 31, 2008, four months per year of service.

Nothing in these provisions shall permit a Tier I member to retire, other than for disability, prior to age 50, or a Tier II, Tier III or Tier IV member to retire, other than for disability, prior to age 55.

In addition, such Covered Member must meet the applicable service requirements for retirement of the NYCERS Plan or Program in which the member participates.

For example, under current provisions in the Tier IV Basic Plan, a Covered Member with 18 years of credited service in Covered Employment as of December 31, 2008 would have a PWRBN period of 6.00 years (i.e., 18 years times 4 months per year equals 72 months divided by 12 equals 6.00 years). Based on the existing Normal Retirement Age of 62 in the Tier IV Basic Plan, the earliest Unreduced Retirement Age ("URA") for this Covered Member would equal age 56 (i.e., the earliest age at which benefits are paid without actuarial reduction).

The proposed legislation would extend the PWRBN provisions to include credited service for Covered Employment to December 31, 2011.

Thus, using the earlier example of a Covered Member with 18 years of credited service as of December 31, 2008, under the proposed legislation if that Covered Member reaches 21 years of service as of December 31, 2011, the earliest URA would equal age 55.

FINANCIAL IMPACT - ACTUARIAL PRESENT VALUES ("APV"): Based on the census data and the actuarial assumptions and methods noted herein, the enactment of the proposed legislation would increase the APV of Benefits ("APVB") to NYCERS by approximately $260,000.

Since the proposed legislation would allow earlier unreduced service retirement, there would be a reduction in the APV of future member contributions ("APVMCB") of approximately $1,000 and a reduction in the APV of future salary ("APVSAL") of approximately $2.9 million.
FINANCIAL IMPACT - ANNUAL EMPLOYERS COSTS AND EMPLOYER CONTRIBUTIONS:
The ultimate cost of a Retirement Program is the benefits it pays. The financing of that ultimate cost is provided by contributions and investment income.

Based on the Actuary's actuarial assumptions and methods in effect as of June 30, 2008, the enactment of this proposed legislation would increase annual employer costs to NYCERS by approximately $90,000 per year.

If enacted on or before June 30, 2010, this proposed legislation would be expected to increase employer contributions to NYCERS beginning Fiscal Year 2010.

If enacted during the 2010 Legislative Session after June 30, 2010 but on or before June 30, 2011, this proposed Legislation would increase employer contributions to NYCERS beginning Fiscal Year 2011.

OTHER COSTS: The enactment of this proposed legislation would also be expected to result in modest increases in administrative expenses of NYCERS, the employer and certain New York City agencies.

CENSUS DATA: The calculation of estimated changes in APVB, APVCMCB, APVSL, employer costs and employer contributions presented herein is based upon the census data for active members included in the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuation of NYCERS.

For TBTA overall, census data consisted of 1,682 active members of NYCERS with annual salaries of approximately $119.8 million. There were 1,201 Covered Members with annual salaries of $80.2 million.

The subset of Covered Members who are potentially affected by the proposed legislation consisted of 273 Tier IV members with salaries of approximately $18.7 million whose average age and average service as of June 30, 2008 were 48.0 years and 15.1 years, respectively.

ACTUARIAL ASSUMPTIONS AND METHODS: Additional APVB, APVCMCB, APVSL, employer costs and employer contributions have been computed based on the actuarial assumptions and methods in effect for the June 30, 2008 (Lag) actuarial valuation of NYCERS for use in determining the Updated Preliminary Fiscal Year 2010 Employer Contributions.

Additional annual employer costs and employer contributions have been estimated assuming the additional APVB would be financed through future normal contributions.

TO THE SENATE:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Senate Bill Number 5631-A, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in
This bill would amend the Administrative Code of the City of New York (the "City") to preclude the revocation of the pensions of City police officers and firefighters who are members of tiers 1 or 2 of the New York City Police ("NYPD") Pension Fund or the New York City Fire Department ("FDNY") Pension Fund ("member of tier 1 or tier 2," or "tier 1/tier 2 member"), in the event they are discharged or dismissed from employment after 20 years of service.

Proponents of the bill contend that the current law is unfair because the pensions of tier 1/tier 2 members are uniquely subject to revocation in the event of termination late in their careers for criminal or other serious misconduct. No other public employees' pensions are subject to revocation under such circumstances. The bill's supporters describe instances in which a member of tier 1 or tier 2 has committed a crime or other serious misconduct, and upon submission of his or her retirement application the Commissioner of the NYPD or FDNY has used the 30-day notice period to bring or complete a disciplinary case against a member of tier 1 or tier 2, resulting in the termination of such member's employment. In these instances, the termination has the effect of precluding a member of tier 1 or tier 2 from retiring, and thus from receiving a pension.

The bill's supporters argue that the pension of a police officer or firefighter is in essence earned, deferred income. In this view, a pension after a 20-year career is an entitlement, and its termination at that stage, regardless of the officer's misconduct, is an unreasonably harsh outcome.

The City opposes this bill, and states that the practical effect of this legislation would be to insulate from the consequences of serious misconduct and to guarantee a pension to a member of tier 1 or tier 2 even if he or she commits a felony arising from his or her official duties. Police officers and firefighters working in the unique setting of the City continually are exposed to situations that test their integrity, and the risk of losing a pension upon termination serves as an important deterrent to unlawful behavior and serious misconduct. The City also contends that in practice, tier 1/tier 2 members rarely lose their pensions. From 2006 through 2010, for example, the NYPD terminated only six police officers who had at least 20 years of creditable service. All but one officer either failed a drug test or was criminally convicted of a felony. The one exception occurred in 2006, when the City terminated an officer who was criminally convicted of a misdemeanor arising out of a fraud investigation. Most officers with over 20 years of creditable service who were charged with serious misconduct, however, as well as those who committed minor infractions, did not lose their pensions, but were permitted to negotiate their disciplinary charges and to retire, rather than being terminated by the NYPD.

I am not unsympathetic to the arguments of the firefighters and police officers. I believe the current law can lead to inequitable results and that those should be ameliorated. During discussions my administration had with unions representing the New York City police officers and firefighters in respect of the then proposed and now enacted Tier V pension law, my support for correcting the inequity of a lack of pension protection was expressed. Contemporaneous with those discussions I met with the Municipal Labor Council and promised to it that I would not seek to impose the Tier V legislation on the City workforce in the absence of negotiation with the City administration. But that promise works both ways. I also cannot impose on the City a pension requirement that the unions have not negotiated with it.

Clearly, the appropriate forum to address the inequity that I recognize is in discussions between the unions and the City. If such negotiations were to occur, and if the City were not to discuss the issue at hand in good faith, that may be the catalyst for the next Governor to sign this legislation should it be presented to him.

Accordingly, I do not approve the legislation and cite the following additional reasons:

First, I note that this bill contains no exceptions even for the most severe misconduct. If I were to enact this bill into law, an officer could engage in a violent felony, or in gross corruption that endangers the lives of the City's residents, or even an act of treason -- and will remain entitled to his or her pension. That result is contrary to my own proposal in the 2010 Executive Budget (Part D of S.6615-A/A.9715-A), which would have made subject to forfeiture the pensions of members of the State and Local Employees Retirement System and the State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System who are convicted of certain felonies relating to the performance or failure to perform such member's official duties and responsibilities.

Second, while current law may result in harsh consequences in those instances where a Commissioner exercises his or her discretion to terminate a member of tier 1 or tier 2, I note that existing case law also protects members from abuses of such discretion. In Matter of McDougall v. Scoppetta, (2009-02176) (Index No. 28994/08), for example, the appellate Division, Second Department, reviewed a determination of the Commissioner of the FDNY adopting the recommendation and findings of an administrative law judge made after a hearing, finding a firefighter guilty of two charges of misconduct and terminating his employment. The McDougall case presented the issue of whether the penalty of termination of McDougall's employment was disproportionate to the offense so as to constitute an abuse of discretion. The court, noting that as a result of the termination, the firefighter and his family would lose his pension and retirement benefits, valued at approximately $2,000,000, which he earned during his 25 years of service to the FDNY, annulled the imposition of a penalty of termination of the firefighter's employment and allowed him to retire and receive his pension after paying an $80,000 fine. Thus, the termination of a member of tier 1 or tier 2, and the concomitant loss of his or her pension, is reviewable in court. Indeed, the relatively infrequent use of termination and the clear precedent established by the McDougall case reassures me that the revocation of the pensions of long-serving tier 1/tier 2 members will not be undertaken lightly.

The City's police and fire unions also point to another inequity in current law: as a result of the Governor's Veto No. 5 of 2009, new police officers and firefighters are placed in tier 3, whose members cannot lose pension benefits once they have vested. The pension benefit provided by tier 3 is, however, less generous in almost every respect except for the particular issue addressed by the bill, including with respect to employee contributions, final average salary calculation, variable supplement funds, and length of service required before retirement. Public pension tiers often differ in the particulars of the benefits they confer.

During my consideration of this bill, I asked that it be held by the Legislature so that I could ascertain the willingness of the City's police and fire unions to work on an amendment to the bill that would benefit tier1/tier2 members but also reflect the legitimate interests of the City, by such potential steps as excluding the worst kinds of misconduct from its reach, or including countervailing provisions to address other pension issues of importance to the City. I learned that there was no willingness on the unions' part to enter into such negotiations, and the bill was therefore delivered for my consideration. As a result, I am given an all-or-nothing proposition: either I approve the bill as is, or I veto it. Faced with such a choice, Governor Mario Cuomo vetoed similar legislation in 1990 (Veto No. 16), noting the absence of any carve-out for serious felonies. I am now presented with the same dilemma as my predecessor, and am compelled to take the same action.

The bill is disapproved. (signed) DAVID A. PATERSON
AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the effect of discharge or dismissal of a police officer or firefighter with twenty years of creditable retirement service

TO THE ASSEMBLY:

I am returning herewith, without my approval, the following bill:

Assembly Bill Number 9950, entitled:

"AN ACT to amend the local finance law, in relation to authorizing and empowering the city of Kingston to amortize the cost of payments to employees upon separation of service from the city"

In August 2009 and December 2009, the City of Kingston ("Kingston") offered its retirement-eligible employees a $10,000 incentive to separate from service (the "2009 retirement incentive") between January 1 and March 31, 2010. Of the 25 employees eligible for the 2009 retirement incentive, 14 applied, representing about 4% of Kingston's workforce. The total cost of the 2009 retirement incentive was $451,803, reflecting $140,000 for the incentive payments, $279,696 for accrued leave time, and $32,107 for the FICA tax on each. Kingston has eliminated 12 of the 14 positions, for an estimated annual savings of $785,423, or 2.4% of the city's 2009 General Fund expenditures of $33.4 million.

This bill would authorize Kingston to finance the cost of the 2009 retirement incentive. Specifically, it would amend Local Finance Law (LFL) section 11.00(a) to establish a 10-year period of probable usefulness ("PPU") for payments by Kingston to employees upon their separation from service, including but not limited to retirement incentives and the monetary value of unused leave time. By establishing a 10-year PPU for such purpose, Kingston could finance such payments through the issuance of bonds with a maximum stated maturity equal to such PPU. Under current law, Kingston has no authority to issue bonds to finance a retirement incentive and the monetary value of unused leave time because the LFL does not establish a PPU for the purpose.

Kingston's 2010 budget assumes the City will issue bonds to finance the cost of the retirement incentive. Without this legislation, I understand that Kingston could face a $451,803 shortfall in its 2010 General Fund budget of $34.6 million, representing approximately 1.3% of budgeted appropriations, and Kingston would have to address this gap by enacting midyear spending cuts or using reserves, or both. Kingston's unreserved General Fund balance as of December 31, 2009, was $1.72 million - just over 5% of its 2009 General Fund revenues of $34.2 million.

Kingston, like all governments operating in these economically difficult times, is subject to significant budgetary constraints. But I do not believe that there is any advantage to be gained by the imprudent use of debt to avoid harsh fiscal realities. Indeed, my administration has continually cautioned and decided against improvident borrowing to fund state government operations. In my view, this thinking should also inform the policy choices that affect local government finances.

Kingston should not have made the dubious assumption in its 2010 budget that it would receive authorization to finance the costs of its retirement incentive with bond proceeds. Separation incentives represent a one-time operating expense that should not be financed by issuing long-term bonds. Rather, employers generally finance such incentives with a portion of the associated current-year benefit and salary savings— which the State did last year (2009-10), for example, when it offered a $20,000 separation incentive that was funded as a 2009-10 operating expense—an option that Kingston has precluded by booking the full savings in its budget.

If a local government nonetheless wishes to fund an early retirement incentive with debt, such financing should conform to guidance issued by the Government Finance Officers Association, which recommends that bonds used to finance an early retirement incentive should mature in no more than three to five years. Thus, for example, the State prescribed a five-year PPU for the incentive programs of Suffolk County and the Middletown School District. And while the State last year permitted Nassau County and Rockland County to finance using a 10-year PPU, those exceptional cases were justified by unique circumstances not present with respect to Kingston. Both counties were facing severe budgetary problems as a result of the significant decline in sales tax collections that occurred in 2009. Rockland County experienced an $11 million General Fund deficit in 2009 even after borrowing $11.4 million to fund its retirement incentive program. Nassau County reported a modest $1.2 million budgetary surplus in its primary operating funds in 2009, but only after borrowing $80 million to finance its retirement incentive program and $64.5 million to finance tax certiorari payments. In Nassau's case, the longer term was also justified by the high cost of the incentive, which accelerated the retirement of County police officers whose collective bargaining agreement provided for many such officers to receive termination pay of more than double their annual salary upon retirement. Kingston, in contrast, is not reporting a substantial operating deficit in its current year and, if necessary, can pay the $451,803 cost of the 2009 retirement incentive by using a portion of its unreserved fund balance, which totaled around $1.7 million in 2009.

I am also troubled by the bill's open-ended authorization. The bill does not specify a period of time or particular event during which the bonds may be used. Insofar as the bill in theory would permit Kingston, in future years, to issue bonds to finance additional retirement incentives or even routine separation costs, it may encourage unsound fiscal practices in subsequent difficult budget years. This concern, moreover, is not merely theoretical. Indeed, it is my understanding that Nassau County, using the similar, open-ended authorization it received last year, plans to issue bonds again this year to finance another retirement incentive.

I empathize with Kingston concerning the tough governmental choices that will be required in the absence of this legislation. I am confident, however, that in the long run, the fiscal condition of Kingston, and ultimately the State, will be stronger if we do not look to imprudent borrowing as a quick fix to the current predicament. This bill would establish the wrong precedent, and I am therefore compelled to veto it.
